CHINA WANTS TO AID JAPAN

Strongest Leaders in the Empire Ask for Alliance.

STOPPED BY DOWAGER

Russians Reported to Be in Force South of the Yalu River.

SPRING IN SIGHT IN NORTH

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Shanghai, March 25.—The unrest in China is growing more acute every day, and it is known here that the empress dowager has received a proposal from Yuan-Shi-Kai and Gen. Ma to conclude an open alliance with Japan in view of Russia's repeated violations of neutrality in Chinese territory west of the Liao river.

While it is reported that the empress dowager has negatived the proposition, it is evident, even here, that the Japanese activity has influenced the Chinese in their behalf.

SEOUL, March 25.—(Special Cable.)—The Russians are reported to be south of the Yalu in larger force than was expected. Two detachments, one of 500 and one of 200, are said to be pillaging the country around Anju. The natives are fleeing south.

In order to provide for the requirements of the army of occupation, the Japanese authorities have decided to extend the fishery concessions in the Korean provinces of Hwang Hai, Chyung Chyong and Ping Yang.

Spring in Evidence.

VLADIVOSTOK, March 25.—The troops arriving here are in good health and spirits, weather-beaten and in some cases with frostbitten faces, but the only other indications of their 7,000-mile journey are their fur coats and felt boots, which they brought with them, though no longer necessary, as spring is setting in with sunny days.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 25.—(Special Cable, Herald Copyright.)—The Grand Duke Boris and Gen. Kuropatkin have passed Tachita. There the commander-in-chief received the news that all is quiet at the front. The Grand Duke Cyril has been gazetted as chief of the marine section on the staff of Admiral Makaroff.

Owing to the threatening state in the Balkans, Russian troops will make maneuvers in the Balkans instead of the Caucasus, as previously intended, in view of their possible requirement there.

BERLIN, March 25.—(Special Cable, Herald Copyright.)—With regard to the purchase by Russia of the Hamburg-American liner Fuerst Bismarck and others, it is learned that the deal has dropped through, as Russia considers the price asked by the German line to be excessive.

Cassini Denies Reports.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—(Special.)—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, today officially denied the authenticity of dispatches cabled to the United States from the London Times purporting to be statements from Gen. Kuropatkin, the new Russian commander in the far east. The ambassador strongly condemned such dispatches as false and designed to brew trouble. Especially was his denial directed at the alleged statement of Gen. Kuropatkin that Russia would not cease fighting until a peace treaty was signed in Tokyo.

The ambassador says:

"This alleged statement, in which Gen. Kuropatkin is quoted as giving the Russian plan of campaign, is absolutely false. Undoubtedly it was put forward for the purpose of giving the world a bad impression of Russia's intention. This unfounded news comes from some source which has ever tried with great tenacity to spread reports of a character tending to excite American public feeling against Russia."

NIUCHWANG, March 25.—The Liao river became navigable today and shipping agents have received notices of the departure of vessels from ports along the entire coast of China for this port.

REYES SAYS NO WAR OVER CANAL

Newly Elected President of Colombia Sees Advantage for His Country.

MORE COMMERCE IS ASSURED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, March 25.—Gen. Reyes left Paris tonight for Bordeaux, whence he will sail tomorrow for Colombia. Before his departure the general outlined the plans he will follow concerning the Panama controversy. He said:

"I have been opposed to war throughout, and I feel I accomplished a great deal in avoiding actual hostilities. I return with the same pacific spirit, feeling that it is for the benefit of civilization. There will be no recourse to war and I am also desirous of avoiding placing any obstacle in the way of building the canal and otherwise carrying out the canal project, which will result to the benefit of Colombia by increasing business activity in that section and inducing the investment of American capital.

"Concerning the differences between the United States and Colombia and Colombia and Panama, I hope and believe they can be arranged in a manner honorable to all concerned. The manner of adjustment is a question for the future, but it will be my policy, if I accept the presidency, to seek an honorable adjustment. Secretary Hay's idea of a plebiscite in Panama seems to be a good plan. I do not doubt that some way of arriving at a settlement will be found."

Asked whether he would accept the presidency of Colombia, Gen. Reyes said:

"I declined to be a candidate, but they have voted for me during my absence, and I may feel it to be my duty to accept responsibility. In any event, I shall seek the maintenance of peace and the strengthening of friendly relations with Venezuela, Ecuador and other countries and the avoidance of placing obstacles in the way of an adjustment of the canal differences, as such a policy seems best calculated to serve the interests of civilization in general."

CAREY FOR CLEVELAND.

Connecticut Governor Says His State Delegation Will Support the Ex-President.

NEW YORK, March 25.—(Special.)—Former Governor Carey of Connecticut called on President O'Donnel of the tax department today to talk about Grover Cleveland for president. He told O'Donnel that Cleveland was the only Democrat in the country who could carry Connecticut against Roosevelt. Gov. Carey said the Connecticut delegation to the Democratic national convention would be for Cleveland.

STORM AND FLOOD DO GREAT DAMAGE

Lower Michigan Suffers—Tornado-Swept Section Now Has High Water.

LIVES ARE REPORTED LOST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Detroit, March 25.—Conservative estimates tonight of the damage caused by the flooded rivers and creeks of lower Michigan during the past 24 hours place the property loss at more than $1,000,000. At Lansing alone the figures are placed at $200,000. Two lives have been lost, that of an unknown Armenian, standing on a bridge at Lansing when it was washed away, and a boy who drowned in a flooded street at Owosso. Reports from many places tonight tell of a steady downpour of rain with no sign of a let-up.

All trains were abandoned today on the Michigan Central railroad between Jackson and Saginaw.

The Pere-Marquette is blocked at Flint, and was blocked for a time today near Lansing. No trains have moved west from Battle Creek today on either the Grand Trunk or Detroit, Toledo & Muskegon railroads.

From Kalamazoo comes the report that every bridge for 50 miles along the Kalamazoo river has been swept away. In Kalamazoo 3,000 people have been thrown out of work. Houses in that city have been swept from their foundations and portions of the tracks of the Lake Shore Michigan Traction Company and Chicago, Kalamazoo & Saginaw road has been washed away. At Lansing many manufacturing plants were compelled to shut down. About 250 residences have been flooded and bridges have gone out. Four fires resulted from the flood today, and it is estimated that the total damage will aggregate $200,000. At Owosso the water is three feet deep around houses where it was never known to reach before. Much damage has been done at Jackson.

At Saginaw the river is open but filled with floating ice.

Late tonight at Flint 20 stores on the main street were flooded. The loss at Flint will be very heavy. At Grand Rapids over 50 plants have been shut down.

An extra westbound Michigan Central freight train was wrecked at midnight four miles west of Niles by a washout. Engineer Edward French and Brakeman Frank E. Young of Jackson were scalded to death in the engine by escaping steam. Fireman Ross Moses of Jackson was terribly scalded and may die. Ten freight cars were demolished. A passenger train was saved from the same fate by flagging.

ST. LOUIS, March 25.—(Special.)—Three buildings of the Pittsburgh Reduction Company on the Southern railroad tracks, at East St. Louis, were wrecked by the hurricane, entailing a loss of $15,000 or $20,000 and injuring one man so badly that he may die. The one-story brick acid house, in which 25 men were working, and the one-story workshop were destroyed. Andrew Boeger was badly crushed and may die.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Reports today from the storm-swept area in and about Chicago indicate greater havoc than at first believed. The property loss from the wind in several districts was augmented later by heightened floods. In Dauphin park and vicinity the water rose until the first floors of many homes were submerged and families fled in panic by boats. Business is suspended and schools are closed, the saving of life and relief of suffering being given the first attention. The business part of East Chicago was flooded and much damage from wind and water is reported in the residence portion of the town.

The Desplaines river rose about one foot. Persons living near the stream are leaving their homes. The Illinois river reached the highest point ever known today at Peoria. Many people were compelled to leave their homes in East Peoria.

VINCENNES, IND., March 25.—Five inches of water have fallen here. All B. & O., Southwestern and Evansville and Terre Haute railroad trains are at a standstill on account of washouts. At Oaktown the Wabash levee is in danger. Fifty school children were taken from a school house in buggies.

FIVE NEGROES KILLED BY ARKANSAS MOB

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., March 25.—A special from DeWitt says five negroes have been taken from the guards at St. Charles, this county, and shot to death by a mob. This makes nine negroes that have been killed within the last week in the vicinity of St. Charles on account of racial troubles.

DESTROYERS KEEP STRICT GUARD OVER PORT ARTHUR

Attempt of Newspapermen to Enter Port Frustrated. Chinese Pigtails Pulled to Prove They Were Not Counterfeit.

By ERNEST BRINDLE.
[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHEFOO, March 25.—This morning our dispatch boat started for Port Arthur with the intention, if possible, of entering the harbor and interviewing Admiral Makaroff.

The voyage was attended by an exciting incident. When ten miles off Golden Mountain, within view of the first forts, two destroyers steamed out toward us, one hugging the eastern shore and the other the western. Our captain set his course west, six miles from the coast toward the Liao Tishan promontory. When we were eight miles off the light house, both destroyers closed in on us. The one in shore dashed across our course. Her companion approached within a hundred yards and fired a blank shot across our bows.

We stopped and the commander of the destroyer which fired ordered us to follow him into the harbor. The nature of the mission was explained and the boat was boarded by an officer who examined our papers, searched the vessel and pulled the pigtails of the Chinese crew to ascertain whether they were disguised Japanese.

When satisfied there was no contraband aboard he entered into conversation with me. He asked eagerly for news. I presented him with photographs of the Varlag and Korietz. The officer said they would be of intense interest to his fellows in the fleet. I questioned him as to conditions of life at Port Arthur. He described them as much the same as before.

Meanwhile, the other destroyers came alongside. The collision nets were down. The majority of the Russian crew were apparently under 25. They were black with dust and worn with the toil and strain of active service, nevertheless they were alert and cheerful and looked full of fight. The destroyers' decks were stacked with briquettes.

The commander courteously refused to permit us to enter the roadstead. From the brief conversation I gathered that since Makaroff arrived there has been an improvement in every department of the fleet. The admiral's personality and tactics have impressed officers and men and have won unbounded confidence.

After a detention of 30 minutes we returned to Chefoo.

LITTLE VALUE IN THE RIVERS

James J. Hill Makes Some Very Remarkable Statements.

TALKS OF RAILROADS

He Says the Clock Struck 12 on the Mississippi Years Ago.

QUESTIONED BY CONGRESSMEN

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.

Some very interesting statements from the railroad standpoint were made today at a hearing before the rivers and harbors committee by James J. Hill, the Great Northern railway magnate and the principal figure in the Northern Securities merger case. Mr. Hill came on to argue in behalf of the proposition to build a ship canal around Squaw island rapids in the Niagara river at Buffalo in order to utilize the river below the rapids to relieve the present congestion in the harbor proper. The estimated cost of the work is about $4,500,000, and the delegation that came here to ask for the appropriation declared that the harbor is so inadequate for the present traffic that as high as 60 boats have lain there at a time unable to dock.

Waterways unless 15 to 20 feet in depth are no longer of value as factors in transportation, according to Mr. Hill. While this was naturally taken as the railway view of it, yet as one of the greatest American authorities on transporation Mr. Hill attracted more than passing attention from the congressmen and shipping men present. Moreover, he prefaced what he had to say with his experience on waterways. Before he was 20 Mr. Hill said he was steamboat agent for a Mississippi river line between St. Paul and St. Louis. He engaged in steamboating until he went in for railroads; since then he has added ships to his enterprises, but always deep-water lines.

Mississippi River a Back Number.

"The clock struck 12 for the Mississippi river years ago," Mr. Hill told the committee. He said he could run a railroad parallel to the thousand-ton barge canal which New York state is planning to make out of the Erie and tie up every canal boat to its dock, with profits to that railroad. He said he could do that with any waterway under 15 feet in depth. Then he said he could probably succeed with any waterway under 20 feet.

"But the railway must be scientifically built and intelligently managed," Mr. Hill repeated several times with emphasis. And further it should not be hampered with too much passenger traffic, if any. Under such conditions Mr. Hill was not sure but he could put a 20-foot channel waterway out of business.

Mr. Hill said that the great trouble that the railroads were contending with at present was the lack of terminal facilities. In this respect he said all of the roads were in the same predicament.

"The railroads are like a man with his hands and feet off," he said. "They can haul the freight; they have the tracks and the equipment, but they have not the terminal facilities. President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania has appreciated this condition as is shown by the work that his road is doing in Pittsburgh. It is and has been for some time improving and enlarging its terminals so that the road can handle its traffic and avoid congestion."

Heavy Traffic at Pittsburgh.

Mr. Hill said that while the average freight train moves at a rate of 10 miles an hour, yet it is moving but two hours out of the 24. In other words, the average freight train makes but 20 miles a day. Mr. Hill also referred to the heavy traffic in ore and coal between Pittsburgh and the lakes and gave an idea of the railroad facilities that are necessary to meet that business.

Reverting to the Mississippi on a question from Mr. Burton, Mr. Hill said: "The government might as well lath and plaster the bottom of that river as to do what it is doing and has been doing in the way of improvement for it."

Questioned again concerning the lock and dam system under construction in the upper Mississippi, Mr. Hill suggested that something like a million and a half was being expended on a lock and dam near his home. "It will provide a good rowing pond for the boys in the state university up there," said Mr. Hill. "I would not be surprised if they would get some good swimming out of this pool as well," he added judiciously.

Deep waterways were another thing, said Mr. Hill. He cited lake transportation; he cited his hauling as a common carrier by combined rail and water of flour and other freight from Duluth to Hongkong at one-tenth of a cent a mile per ton. "We carry one ton 10 miles for a copper cent," was the way the railway magnate put it. Mr. Hill talked fast and in a strong voice. He walked back and forth at the end of the committee table swinging his arms and beating on the table with his fist to emphasize his points.

Introduced as "James J. Hill of the United States," he came to the hearing to plead for the Buffalo improvement. The delegation learned that nothing could be done for them this year, but they will urge this improvement vehemently for the next river and harbor bill, which will be written this winter. Buffalo interests represented cheerfully accepted Mr. Burton's suggestion that in any event they would probably be expected to bear part of the expense.

WOMEN MAY DRILL FOR OIL AND GAS

United Presbyterian Association Considering Offer to Lease Carnegie Land.

BEQUEST MAY BE VALUABLE

Whether to sink wells themselves or lease their property is a question which has been agitating the minds of the members of the United Presbyterian Women's association since the discovery of oil producing territory beyond Carnegie.

Several bids have been made for the property, one of them being now under serious consideration by the association, which held its monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the Third United Presbyterian church in Diamond street. A proposition submitted by Dr. F. R. McCurdy of Carnegie was presented to the association yesterday and final decision was transferred to the board of directors, which will meet next Friday. In the meantime various forms of leases will be studied by the president, Mrs. H. C. Campbell. The members of the association favor the proposition made by Dr. McCurdy.

The Walker farm consists of 106 acres below Carnegie, Raffley station, on the Panhandle railroad, being on the property. Dr. McCurdy proposes to pay $250 for every oil or gas well drilled and found to produce petroleum or gas, the delivery of one-eighth of the petroleum obtained to the association; if gas be found to furnish it free for all domestic purposes on the place, and the first well to be sunk within 60 days after the signing of the lease. In case of failure to begin work so soon a rental of $12 a month will be paid the association until the first well is sunk.

Several months ago the association received a verbal offer of $150 per acre for the oil and gas rights on the farm, the price paid in that locality. This was followed later by a written offer from the same person of $200 an acre. It was after this that some members of the association began to consider the advisability of drilling wells themselves.

The Walker farm was a bequest to the United Presbyterian Women's association a couple of years ago by one of the members of the Walker family owning the Walkers mills, near Carnegie. It consists of 106 acres of farm land, and a fine old mansion with an additional six acres surrounding it. The farm was a bequest to be divided equally between the Memorial hospital and the Orphans home, the home, however, also receiving the mansion with the six acres. As soon as the new Memorial hospital is well under way and the new wing is added to the home for the aged, the association contemplates the erection of a summer home on the farm where the children from the Orphans home in Allegheny may be taken each year as soon as the weather permits. The property is valued at between $35,000 and $40,000. There are now 70 children in the home. During the winter there has been quite an epidemic of mumps and measles among them. The hospital was full and the third floor of the home was quarantined, but nearly all have now recovered.

Plans for the new Memorial hospital in Wilkinsburg were discussed yesterday. No contract has yet been given, the women being delayed because of the various strikes which have hindered the builders during the past few months. It was hoped that ground might be broken before the first of April. Work on the proposed wing to the Home for the Aged is delayed for the same reason.

BARRICADED EXILES ARE CAPTURED BY STORM

ST. PETERSBURG, March 25.—(Special Cable.)—The house at Irkutsk where 70 exiles were barricaded and have been defying the police and military authorities for three days has been taken by storm. Two of the defenders were killed. Among the remainder were 53 Jewish exiles who have been imprisoned. The outbreak was caused by the harshness and persecutions of local officials who had goaded the exiles beyond endurance. During the fighting several of the beleaguering party were killed or wounded.

GERMANY'S GUNS OVER VENEZUELA

Warships Ready to Demand Immediate Payment of Indemnity to Allies.

PORTS MAY BE BLOCKADED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.

Information has been received here that three German warships will appear at La Guayra on April 1 to back up with a blockade, if necessary, a demand on Venezuela for immediate payment of an installment of the indemnity fixed after the blockade by the allies in 1903. A German cruiser squadron, consisting of the Vineta, Falke and Panther, are now lingering at Curacao, distant only a few hours' run from the Venezuelan coast.

A more tense situation exists at Caracas than at any time since the troublous period just before the allies, Great Britain, Germany and Italy, despairing of gaining their rights, entered upon a campaign of blockades and bombardments.

To head off a condition which may tempt a European policy of force, the state department has decided to offer Venezuela its choice of two courses in place of its present uncertain attitude. Either Venezuela must promise to set aside not less than $1,080,000 annually for the payment of claims, or officials of the Belgium government will take charge of the customs revenues pledged for the payment of claims.

In the peace protocols signed in Washington in January, 1903, Venezuela agreed to set aside for the payment of the foreign obligations 30 per cent. of each year's customs receipts of the customs houses at Puerto Cabello and La Guayra. It was estimated that this would make a sinking fund of $1,080,000 annually, and would discharge all claims against Venezuela in from three to six years.

THREE PERSONS KILLED BY DUQUESNE LIMITED

Braddock Man and Two Girls Struck by B. & O. Train at Suter Station.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., March 25.—Three persons were run down and killed tonight at Suter station, four miles west of West Newton, by passenger train No. 12, the Duquesne limited, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

THE DEAD.

JOHN M'CORMICK, aged 24 years, of Braddock avenue and Fifth street, Braddock.
MISS DONAHOE, aged 20, of Gratztown.
MISS COOPER, aged 18, of Gratztown.

The three victims were walking the tracks.

McCormick was the son of Thomas J. McCormick of Braddock. He was employed by the Pittsburgh Brick and Coal Company, having charge of the brick-works and the company stores at Gratztown and Amyville. He was formerly employed in the Homestead steel works and in the Westinghouse works. Practically nothing is known tonight concerning the two girls who were killed with McCormick. The bodies were taken to West Newton. The three were walking on the westbound track and evidently mistook the approaching train for one on another track, for they stepped onto the westbound track just as the limited reached them.

B. & O. AND TELEGRAPHERS SETTLE THEIR DIFFERENCES

BALTIMORE, March 25.—President H. B. Perham, of the Brotherhood of Railroad Telegraphers, and E. V. Van Atta, representing the telegraphers employed by the company, met Third Vice President Potter in the latter's office at Camden station today and amicably adjusted all differences. Each side made concessions.

The matter of reducing the hours of labor was withdrawn by the men's representatives, while the company agreed to rearrange and make a uniform wage schedule to take effect on April 1 of this year. The company employs 1,535 telegraphers.

JUDGE LOSES BAR'S RESPECT

Swayne's Impeachment Is Recommended for High Misdemeanor.

LANGUAGE IS SEVERE

House Committee Scores Federal Jurist in No Uncertain Terms.

TYRANNICAL AND OPPRESSIVE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.

Details of the charges against Judge Charles Swayne of the Northern district of Florida were laid before the house today for the first time by the report of the judiciary committee, compiled by Representative Palmer of Pennsylvania. The report gives the alleged misdoings of Judge Swayne in detail, quotes the statutes violated, in the opinion of the committee, and recommends his impeachment for "high misdemeanor."

The report deals with Judge Swayne in most severe language. It declares that he has forfeited the respect of the bar of his court and of the people of his district. He has shown himself to be harsh, the report continues, tyrannical and oppressive, unmindful of the common rules of a just and upright judge, and he has continuedly and persistently violated the plain words of a statute of the United States and subjected himself to punishment for the commission of a high misdemeanor.

The impeachment of Judge Swayne is now properly before the house. It is a question for highest privilege and will undoubtedly not be allowed long to remain unacted upon.

High Misdemeanor Charged.

"Resolved, That Charles Swayne, judge of the district court of the United States in and for the northern district of Florida, be impeached of high misdemeanor." This is the recommendation of the house committee in the report. After discussing specifically the charges in detail against Judge Swayne and giving the findings in each case, the report concludes as follows:

Upon the whole case it is plain that Judge Swayne has forfeited the respect and confidence of the bar of his court and of the people of his district who do business here. He has so conducted himself as to earn the reputation of being susceptible to the malign influence of a man of notoriously bad character. He has shown himself to be harsh, tyrannical and oppressive, unmindful of the common rule of a just and upright judge. He has continuously and persistently violated the plain words of a statute of the United States and subjected himself to punishment for the commission of a high misdemeanor.

He has fined and imprisoned members of his bar for a constructive contempt without the authority of law and without a decent show of reason, either through inexcusable ignorance, a malicious intent to injure or a wanton disposition to exercise arbitrary power. He has condemned to a term of imprisonment in the county jail a reputable citizen of the state of Florida over whom he had no jurisdiction, who was guilty of no thought of a contempt of this court, for no offense against him or in the presence of the court, or in obstruction of any order, rule, command or decree, and after the accused had purged himself on oath.

Demand His Impeachment.

For all those reasons, Charles Swayne has been guilty of misbehavior in his office of judge, and grossly violated the condition upon which he holds this honorable appointment. The honor of the judiciary, the orderly and decent administration of public justice and the welfare of the people of the United States demand his impeachment and removal from the high place which his conduct has degraded.

It is vitally necessary to maintain the confidence of the people in the judiciary. A weak executive or an inefficient or even dishonest legislative branch may exist for a time at least without serious injury to the perpetuity of our free institutions, but if the people lost faith in the judicial branch, if they become convinced that justice cannot be had at the hands of the judges, the next step will be to take the administration of the law into their own hands and do justice according to the rule of the mob, which is anarchy, with which freedom cannot exist.

As to the charge that Judge Swayne is a non-resident of his district, the report concludes:

From the testimony in the case, your committee find that Judge Swayne has never acquired a legal residence in the Northern district of Florida, nor has he actually resided there, as required by the act of congress.

The next charge considered in the report is that of the disbarment, imprisonment and fine imposed by Judge Swayne against E. T. Davis and Simeon Belden. This case involved litigation regarding a certain tract of land, a section of which, the report says, was purchased by Judge Swayne in the name of his wife while the proceedings were pending before his court. The two attorneys mentioned brought suit against Judge Swayne in a county court for the purpose of clearing title to the land, "whereupon Judge Swayne," the report says, "proceeded to adjudge Belden and Davis guilty of the 'charges which were in violation of the dignity and good order of the said court and a contempt thereof,' and after some abusive remarks, sentenced them to be disbarred for the term of two years, to pay a fine of $100 each and to undergo an imprisonment for the period of 10 days in the county jail."

Abuse of Judicial Power.

The committee passes judgment on this transaction in the following language:

Your committee are of opinion that Judge Swayne was guilty of gross abuse of judicial power and misbehavior in office in this case. They believe that he had no authority or right to adjudge Simeon Belden and E. T. Davis guilty of a contempt of court under the circumstances of the case; * * * that the sentence imposed by Judge Swayne was unauthorized and unlawful. It can be accounted for only on theory that the judge imposing it was ignorant or vindictive. * * * For such a high misdemeanor in office, no judge should be allowed to escape just punishment on the plea that he made a mistake of law. If allowed, there is no arbitrary abuse of discretion, no disobedience of law, no oppression or outrage upon the rights of liberty or property that could not so unwhipt of justice.

The case of W. H. Hoskins, the report terms one of "peculiar hardship." Hoskins was advanced in years and unable to read and write. He had accumulated property to the value of $40,000, and wed debts to the extent of $10,000. "The evidence is full and convincing." The report says, "that a lawyer named Boone conspired with one Calhoun to put Hoskins in bankruptcy in order to plunder his estate." The details of this case are given at length in the report. Calhoun sent a man to seize Hoskins' books at one of his branch stores, Hoskins being a dealer in turpentine. He found a certain book belonging to the firm of Hoskins & Bro., which had been left for a bookkeeper to make up. This book was taken away by a young son of Hoskins after he had stated that it contained nothing about his father's business. Contempt proceedings were begun before Judge Swayne and the young man adjudged guilty, although, the report says, evidence was offered to show that the book contained nothing whatever bearing on the bankruptcy case. Young Hoskins went into hiding to escape arrest and stated that he would rather die than go to jail. When the charge was not dismissed, he killed himself. The report concludes as to this case:

Perversion of Law.

The whole disgraceful perversion of law and justice was made possible by the complaisancy, stupidity, or worse, of Judge Swayne, who lent himself to a conspiracy to ruin an honest man by aiding the conspirators in every way in his power. He had no right to refuse a hearing to Hoskins on the ground that a book taken out of the custody of the receiver's clerk by any other person must first be produced. It was a denial of justice. It was an arbitrary and oppressive abuse of power. There was no sufficient testimony before the judge that the book had any relevancy to the case; nothing but the affidavit of the receiver, who had never seen the book, that he believed it contained something necessary to the determining of the question of Hoskins' solvency. In the face of an offer to prove the fact by disinterested and competent testimony, among others that of a person who had examined it, the judge refused to believe anything, saying that he would not believe his own brother if he would swear to it. * * * This action of the judge presents at least an entirely new feature in the administration of justice. A suitor is denied the right to offer evidence in support of his case because the judge has made up his mind in advance that the witnesses offered are not worthy of belief. * * * To refuse to hear these witnesses was an unwarranted and unheard of proceeding. To continue the case of Hoskins another day under the circumstances was an unparalleled abuse of discretion on the part of the judge which amounted to a denial of justice.

The report deals with "The Tunnison case" last. It says:

The evidence established the fact that Judge Swayne reappointed B. C. Tunnison commissioner of the United States after a trial in his court, in which Tunnison, as prosecutor, had been successfully impeached as a witness. The evidence also establishes that the members of the bar at Pensacola, Fla., and elsewhere in the district and suitors in the United States court are of opinion that Tunnison has the power to exercise undue influence over Judge Swayne, and that he does exercise such influence. To such an extent does this belief prevail that lawyers advise their clients to employ Tunnison in their business as the best and only way to succeed in Judge Swayne's court. * * * The testimony satisfies the committee that Tunnison is a dishonest man; also that he is indorser on a note of Judge Swayne that has been renewed for seven successive years in the Pensacola bank.

RIOT OF GREEK TANNERS CAUSED BY LABOR DISPUTE

Policeman Adam Hein and the men in No. 9 engine company quelled a riot in Lappe's tannery in Spring Garden avenue, Allegheny, about 6 o'clock last night after several of the rioters had been badly used up. The trouble started because of the refusal of some Greeks to join the Tanners' union. They were set upon by other employes and the fight was getting lively when the firemen appeared. Policeman Hein arrested John Dumlius, Frank Allestse, Chris Pellos, John Bellor and Cedar Lamboks.

TIGER'S ROAR IS PLAINLY HEARD

Princeton Men of This Section Hold Their Great Annual Dinner.

JUDGE EWING FOR TRUSTEE

Rah, Rah, Rah,
Tiger, Tiger, Tiger,
Sis, Sis, Sis,
Boom, Boom, Boom,
Ah, Ah, Ah,
Princeton, Princeton, Princeton.

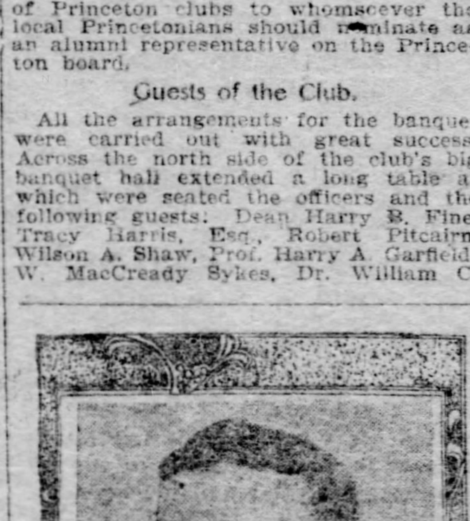
Time and again this cry echoed last evening through the broad corridors of the Duquesne club as 300 alumni of New Jersey's great university enthusiastically indorsed the sentiments expressed at the annual banquet of the Princeton club of Western Pennsylvania.

A particular feature of the meeting was the nomination of a member of the club to succeed another member as an alumni trustee of the university. James Laughlin, Jr., upon his retirement from this position, was made the recipient of a strong and eloquent testimonial of the regret of the club at his resignation from the trusteeship, to which Princeton alumni had raised him, and in his stead Judge Nathaniel Ewing of the class of 1869, the distinguished Uniontown jurist, was placed in nomination as the choice of the Princeton men of this section. On motion of J. Wood Clarke of Indiana, the president of the association was instructed to appoint a committee of five to further the candidacy of Judge Ewing. Letters were read pledging the indorsement of the Western Association of Princeton clubs to whomsoever the local Princetonians should nominate as an alumni representative on the Princeton board.

DR. J. P. SHAW.
President of the Princeton Club of Western Pennsylvania.

Guests of the Club.

All the arrangements for the banquet were carried out with great success. Across the north side of the club's big banquet hall extended a long table at which were seated the officers and the following guests: Dean Harry B. Fine, Tracy Harris, Esq., Robert Pitcairn, Wilson A. Shaw, Prof. Harry A. Garfield, W. MacCready Sykes, Dr. William C. Crabbe and Toastmaster John B. Keenan.



TRACY H. HARRIS.
President of the Princeton Club of New York.

Extending laterally from this long table was a series of tables for members, practically every seat being occupied. In the body of the hall was a quartet from the Princeton Glee club, composed of Joseph Truesdale of Youngstown, O.; Seavor Jones, Albert Jagger and Donald C. Hamilton.

The membership present included representatives from the class of '54 to that of '05. The Rev. R. Hamill Nassau, D. D., represented '54. The Hon. Harry White of Indiana of the class of '56 was unexpectedly prevented from attending. Dr. T. H. White of '67 was the second oldest alumni present.

From Princeton came members of both the senior and the junior classes, as follows: '04, Frank A. Hamilton, C. S. Steinmeyer, James Black, John DeWitt, Joseph Truesdale, Seavor Jones and Albert Jagger; '05, Albert G. Hamilton, A. H. Carroll and Donald C. Hamilton.

With such numbers present the enthusiasm was unbounded. The Princeton songs were sung, the careful training for weeks past producing a most excellent chorus.

Business Session Held.

After the serving of an admirable menu, President J. P. Shaw of the club called the organization to order for a short business session and brought up the matter of the nomination of Judge Ewing. William M. Hall, Esq., of Pittsburgh, offered the resolution of indorsement of the services of Mr. Laughlin. William Scott, Esq., then presented the resolution nominating Judge Ewing. It was enthusiastically adopted, with a second from John A. Wilson, Esq., in which the speaker said that Princeton honored itself more than the local club in obtaining the membership of such a trustee as Judge Ewing on its board.

From President Woodrow Wilson a telegram of greeting and congratulation was received. Similar telegrams and letters came from the Princeton club of Indiana, of the New Northwest, of Western New York, Newark, and other sections, remembering the thirtieth anniversary of the local organization.

President Shaw introduced Hon. John B. Keenan of Greensburg as toastmaster. Mr. Keenan urged the most active work for the election of Judge Ewing to the vacant trusteeship. He introduced Dean Henry B. Fine, who spoke for nearly an hour, telling conditions as they exist today among the Princeton undergraduates. He expressed his pleased surprise at the enthusiasm shown here and said that Princeton men of today are more loyal than in his undergraduate days for the reason that they have more reason to be loyal. He told of the great year the university is now enjoying and paid an eloquent tribute to the all-around worth of the men who constitute the Princeton football team. He prophesied a stricter enforcement of the rules hereafter.

Son of a President Speaks.

Prof. Harry A. Garfield, late of Cleveland, son of President James A. Garfield and one of the year's additions to the Princeton faculty, paid a tribute to the American spirit that prevails at Princeton, saying that in his opinion it is the most typical of the national impulses that any university can show.

Tracy H. Harris ('86) of New York told of conditions as they exist and as they should exist in athletic matters. He said the Princeton "honor system" would well be extended to all the colleges with which Princeton competes to end the various abuses. He severely scored the noisy devices used at intercollegiate games to disconcert opposition teams, calling them unsportsmanlike and unfair. He said that Princeton would send a strong team to compete in the world's contest in track and field events in St. Louis on June 24, and referred to the recent gift of a lake to Princeton by Andrew Carnegie as follows: "No one knew that steel contained so much water until Mr. Carnegie squeezed enough out of it to make a lake for us."

The final address on the program was by W. MacCready Sykes, Esq., of New York, who in biblical paraphrase told the story of the great Princeton victory over Yale in the football game on November 15 last. Like the other speakers, he was liberally rewarded with applause.

The committee which made the banquet a success consisted of Lawrence A. Woods, chairman; John U. Hussey, secretary; Charles L. Hamilton, treasurer; Wilson S. Arbothnot, H. Lee Mason, Jr., Dr. Shaw, Warren I. Seymour and Curtis M. Willock.

HAMERSCHLAG TALKS TO SHEET METAL UNION

Addresses Gathering of Workmen on Relation of Technical Schools to Trades.

Before a large gathering of trades unionists, Arthur A. Hamerschlag, director of the Carnegie Technical schools, last night in Moorehead hall, Second avenue and Grant street, explained the relation of the institution to unionism and trades in general.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Amalgamated Association of Metal Sheet Workers, and the speaker therefore addressed his remarks closely to this class of workmen. He outlined the future of the sheet metal worker in a way which took the audience by surprise. In his address the director created the impression that he was about as familiar with the sheet metal trade and its requirements as the most experienced member of the union.

Yesterday he was visited by a committee from the Pittsburgh Typothetae and extended an invitation to address that organization. The address will be made in the Fifth avenue High school. On Tuesday night next he will speak before the Leondi club, a negro organization.

TWO MEN DISAPPEAR.

Baggagemaster at Millvale Cannot Be Found—Missing Boy Located in St. Louis.

The police of both cities were asked to locate James Shannon, aged 32 and married, baggagemaster of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Millvale, who disappeared from his home at that place on March 18. He told his wife that he was going to Pittsburgh to call on a relative. He has not been seen since.

Anthony Orris, aged 30, of Hays borough, disappeared mysteriously March 19. Yesterday his hat and coat, together with a package of meat which he had bought, were found at Street's run near the borough line. When he left home Orris had a large sum of money and his friends think he has met with foul play. He was employed by the Mesta Machine Company.

Mrs. Mary Dove of Ammon street, Homestead, yesterday received a telegram from the police of St. Louis stating that her son Samuel, aged 18, who has been missing since November, is in that city.

FORESTALLED LEADERS.

Officeholder Slated for a Turn Down Resigns His Position.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—(Special.)—C. Wesley Thomas, ex-state senator and present collector of the port of Philadelphia, today anticipated his removal as organization leader of the Twenty-fourth ward by tendering his resignation as a member of the Republican city committee.

Collector Thomas is, justly or to the contrary, charged with having affiliated with several of the local independent movements. He is credited with having assisted ex-Sheriff Alexander Crow, who is now in open revolt. In resigning, Thomas simply accepted the inevitable, as the Republican committee of his ward had orders to turn him down. The first step was taken tonight, when a Thomas man was superseded as chairman of the ward committee.

ASH MAN ARRESTED FOR REGRADING A STREET

John Moore, driver for a South Side ash-hauler, who is better known as "Happy Jack," was arrested last night because he undertook to regrade Wright's alley at Twenty-third street by scattering ashes along the narrow thoroughfare. He insisted that the street was not even, but Policeman Casper Myers held to the contrary.

"INGOMAR" SEEN IN FINE SETTING

Julia Marlowe's Elaborate Revival of the Play Which Won Her First Triumph.

LARGE AUDIENCE IS PLEASED

Julia Marlowe revived "Ingomar" last night at the Alvin theater—one of the standard plays that has held the stage for half a century or more and still has potent attractions for theater-goers sick of problems and sated with cheap claptrap. The play was one of those in which Miss Marlowe scored her first triumphs; it is the one, next to "Romeo and Juliet," in which her admirers love to remember her. Those who had seen her play Parthenia a dozen years ago were somewhat disappointed; something of the illusion of girlishness was gone; but those who had no illusions of the past to cherish carried away a pleasant one for the future. Miss Marlowe is perhaps the best Parthenia we have had since Mary Anderson, whose conception had more of queenly dignity, while Miss Marlowe brings out the roguish and lovable traits of the Massilian maiden.

It cannot be said that she has fully recovered the spirit of the role. Perhaps the years given to Clyde Fitch and Charles Major are having their revenge. Perhaps it was due to the anxieties and agonies of a first night, for it was practically a first night, so far as this production of "Ingomar" was concerned. The scenery, the costumes, the cast, all were different—even the play has been altered somewhat, not altogether to its advantage.

Miss Marlowe has the first act to herself. In the scene with her mother she hardly showed girlish abandon enough; in the first scene with Polydor her revulsion and scorn were hardly strong enough. The second scene with Polydor, where she offers herself as his wife after her father has been enslaved by the Alemanni, was carried through with perfect art, and thenceforward, through all the scenes of taming the barbarian Ingomar, there was little fault to be found. Whether tyrannizing over the rough son of the wilderness with roguish arts, or resenting his rude address with womanly dignity, her personal charm and her art won the audience completely. There were several curtain calls after each act.

Tyrone Power, as Ingomar, shared the honors of the evening with her. He is new to the role, but could not be better adapted to it. His deep, sonorous voice and his heroic figure, made him appear the born leader. While his hair and beard were rather too well kept for a son of the wilderness, making him at first look more like an Assyrian king, and while, as may be excused on a first performance, he was a little uncertain in his lines, there is no doubt that these defects will soon be overcome. His conception of the part is intelligent, and in many little touches, such as the clumsy gathering of the flowers, showed careful study. Those who had seen many Ingomars adjudged his to be the best since Milnes Levick.

The rest of the cast was strong, with some really admirable characterizations. One of these was E. W. Morrison's Polydor, a fine character study; another was Frank Reicher's Timarch, which blended self-conscious punctilio with the assumption of dignity. George S. Christie as Lykon and Fred Tyler as Myron also acquitted themselves well.

Scenically, the production is one of the finest that "Ingomar" has ever had. There is fault to be found, of course—the splendid marble buildings of the back drop in act 1 might have done credit to Athens, but were out of place in a far colony only a century after its founding. The setting of the fourth act was altogether inappropriate. There should be a view of Massilia and the sea in the background; the setting shown last night might have been another part of the forest.

But the most lamentable thing of all is the curtailment of the last act. After the Timarch has parted in anger, Parthenia comes forth and goes with Ingomar to his mountains. Polydor, who has gone off to plot his revenge, probably returns after the curtain is down. The audience does not even know whether Ingomar and Parthenia escaped, the gates having been closed, nor what the Alemanni wanted before the walls. It would be well to restore the indispensable and dramatically effective closing scene, even if the opening scene which has been grafted upon the play were cut out. The dance and song are pretty, but the dialogue of that scene is mere twaddle.

The audience was appreciative and one of the largest of the week, showing that interest in good old plays is just as keen as that in new plays, which may not be so good.

CHOICE USED PIANOS

Some of the Best Makes, Used, But Practically as Good as New.

We offer a few very choice upright pianos of the best makes that have seen some use, but as far as the tone and action go are exactly as good as new.

One is a fine Kimball, never sold, but used a few times in concert. This piano is thoroughly good in every respect. Original price $400. We offer it now for $260.

Another is a Steinway. This piano is in a plain but elegant dark case with hardly a scratch on it, and the tone is fine. We offer it for $250.

The next is a Hallet & Davis in a full size San Domingo mahogany case. It is exactly as good as new. The party owning it being obliged to realize the cash out of it, $250 will buy it.

A good Kranich & Bach, with the case scuffed some, but good tone and action, we offer for $190, and a Lighte & Co. upright that is still very good indeed for $140.

These are certainly better than new pianos that can be bought at these prices.

PATIENTS NEAR DEATH ESCAPE FROM FIRE

Typhoid Sufferers Stand Outside Hospital in Deep Snow. May Not Recover.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ESCANABA, MICH., March 25.—In a fire today at the Delta county hospital over 60 patients were thrown into a panic and many were forced to leave the building in their night clothes. The attendants were unable to control the patients and many who were thought to be at the point of death, arose from their beds and escaped from the building by ladders and fire escapes.

Many stood outside the building nearly 30 minutes dressed only in thinest apparel and in snow up to their knees, before they could be taken to nearby homes. The fire was under control within an hour, but it is feared that many of the patients who were suffering from typhoid fever will never recover, owing to the exposure.

PURE FOOD CONVICTION.

Fourteen Cases Hinge on Verdict Secured at Kittanning.

KITTANNING, PA., March 25.—(Special.)—Thomas Tomascey, a wholesale liquor dealer of Ford City, has been found guilty in the Armstrong county court of selling adulterated liquor, upon information made by James McGregor, pure food agent, who bought a bottle of blackberry wine from the defendant, said to be composed of alcohol and coloring ingredients.

Fourteen wholsale and retail dealers in Kittanning and Ford City were charged with a similar offense and arranged with the commonwealth that all the cases were to stand or fall with the Tomascey verdict. An application for a new trial has been filed and the liquor men of Armstrong county have formed an association and will carry the case to the highest court.

WARM CONTEST AMONG STUDENTS OF ACADEMY

Emanon Defeated Knickerbocker Society in Literary Contest—Prize Won by Harry McCurry by High-Class Oratory.

In the presence of an audience that tested the full capacity of Carnegie Music hall last night the rival literary societies of the Pittsburgh Academy, the Emanon and Knickerbocker, met in their fifteenth annual literary conquest, and the Emanon society carried the day by a total of 8½ against 1½.

An interesting program, consisting of chorus singing, orations, recitations, a debate and an exhibition drill by the academy cadets met with liberal applause. Five contests were waged, consisting of the following: Original oration, essay, debate, recitation and select oration. There were two contestants in each. John Carlisle (E), was awarded the decision for original oration on "The Gospel of Work," over Frank Krumb (K), who spoke on "Our New Diplomacy." The essay on "Attempted Things," as rendered by Miss Estella Carspecker (E), was awarded first prize, over Miss Schriner's (K) "The Perception of Beauty." In the recitation contest Miss Ethel Hamilton's (E) rendition of "A Legend of Bregenz" was considered by the judges equal to that of Miss Ethel Philip's selection, "The Famine," and the honor was divided. Both of these recitations were delivered in a finished manner.

HARRY ELLSWORTH M'CURRY.
The Winner of the Select Oration Prize.

The debate on "Resolved, That convict labor should be employed in the construction of public works," was supported in the affirmative by Robert Gilson (E), while Carl Roach (K) took the negative. Both adduced logical conclusions in support of their theories, and the judges found for the affirmative.

Probably the feature of the five contests was the select oration in which Edward Botwell (E) rendered Rienzi's address to the Romans and Harry McCurry (K) "Grattan's Invective Against Corry." Both contestants showed a marked degree of talent. The delivery of McCurry was free from the artificial style usually exhibited by speakers of his years, and deafening applause following his address showed the approval of the audience with the decision of the judges. The judges were the Rev. Daniel Dorchester, Jr., D. D., J. J. Miller and William M. Galbraith.

The contests were interspersed with the singing of selections by the boys' and girls' glee clubs and the Academy chorus. All numbers were well received. The girls' glee club presented a beautiful stage picture with its members, 20 in number, clad in white and bedecked with flowers. Their singing was excellent and reflected credit upon the directress, Miss Christina Miller.

LEGALITY OF BOND BILL IN DOUBT

Cloud Put Upon It by John Upperman in Select Council.

SHUT OUT LIGHT ORDINANCES

A provision of the charter ordinance, which has been a dead letter for two years in councils, was revived by John Upperman in select council yesterday afternoon to shut out the electric light ordinances. When the bills from the joint committee were presented by J. W. Ruhlandt a point of order was made by Upperman that a measure from a committee should be made reported by the chairman of the committe to the branch of which the chairman is a member. He quoted the following section from the charter ordinance to sustain his point:

"All bills, ordinances, resolutions and orders shall be reported by the chairman of the committee to which the same have been referred to the council of which said chairman is a member."

President J. Smiley Wightman sustained Upperman's point of order and the following measures were returned to the joint corporations committee: Granting franchise to the Pennsylvania Light, Heat and Power Company, to the Duquesne Light Company, granting switch license to the Fisher Foundry & Machine Company on the South Side, and giving the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad the right to lay a switch along South Twenty-eighth, South Thirtieth, Sarah and Jane streets. Upperman said the chairman of the corporations committee was a member of common council and all the measures from that committee should be reported to the lower branch.

Bond Bill Passed Illegally.

The $1,122,278 bond ordinance, for the payment of judgments against the city, was also reported to select council from the joint finance committee of which W. H. Stevenson, a member of common council, is chairman. Upperman raised no objection to this ordinance and it was passed. Afterwards, when he learned that the ordinance had not been reported to common council, Upperman claimed that the passage of the bond ordinance was illegal. He said it would probably be necessary to pass the ordinance again in select council after it had been passed in common council.

Upperman's contention greatly disturbed the framers and promoters of the bond ordinance. Steps will be taken at the meeting of councils Monday to pass the bond ordinance in common council and then send it to select council again. If this is not done the ordinance will be permitted to die with the present councils and a new ordinance introduced in the new councils.

Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow, who framed the ordinance, said that this might have to be done to remove all doubts of legality of the ordinance, otherwise trouble might be experienced in selling the bonds.

Bigelow's Bill Goes Through.

President Wightman was asked why he had not ruled the bond ordinance out after he had ruled out the bills from the corporations committee. He replied: "I would have done so if the point had been raised against the bond ordinance."

Director E. M. Bigelow's ordinance establishing the bureau of filtration passed yesterday without opposition and goes to common council Monday for concurrence. Director Bigelow made a personal canvass of the members of select council yesterday afternoon to insure the passage of his measure.

Chairman S. J. Wainwright, Jr., reported the following measures from the select council finance committee, which were passed finally: Substitute ordinance authorizing the letting of contract for the collection and disposal of garbage; increasing the salaries of the chief clerk in bureau of police, of special clerk in department of law, of messenger in the assessor's office, stationery engineers and stokers; providing for the lease of lot for dog pound on Ruchs hill from Booth & Flinn, and for the sale of city lots in the Nineteenth and Twenty-first wards.

Many Street Bills Passed.

Charles Stewart of select public works committee reported a large number of bills for street improvements, including ordinances authorizing the letting of street repaving contracts, repair of the Point bridge, etc.

He also reported the ordinance to repeal the old opening of Webster avenue, between Fulton and Mercer streets, which at his request was sent to the joint committee.

T. O. Atkinson from the committee on surveys reported the ordinance for the widening of Webster avenue from Seventh avenue to Grant street, which was also passed. It was accompanied by a remonstrance signed by half a dozen property owners on the street.

John A. Murphy presented a resolution directing the director of the department of public works to report the number of switches in use in the city to the treasurer.

Special Meeting of Common.

Common council will meet in special session Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The special meeting was called primarily to pass Bigelow's ordinance for the filtration bureau and to receive from the joint surveys committee the two ordinances vacating South Side streets for the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad. Two switch ordinances in the joint corporations committee will also be taken from that committee, passed by common and then messaged to select. They are for the Fisher Foundry and Machine Company and the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad.

The finance committee of select council yesterday amended the ordinance increasing the salary of the chief clerk of the controller's office from $2,000 to $2,500 by changing the title from chief clerk to bookkeeper.

Property owners appeared before the select council surveys committee yesterday afternoon and protested against the widening of Webster avenue from Grant street to Seventh avenue by taking off 15 feet from the north side of the street to make the thoroughfare 50 feet wide. The Rev. Father Sextus of St. Peter's Roman Catholic church said if 15 feet were taken from the north side of Webster avenue it would destroy his church. H. C. Murto claimed the proposed widening would bankrupt the north side property owners. P. J. Barry of the Fifth ward moved to recommend the ordinance to select council affirmatively, and this was done.

UNKNOWN MEN WRECK YANT'S NEW BUILDING

Structural Iron Work Was Torn Down and Material Was Destroyed.

N. B. Yant & Co. had to stop work on their new building in Beaver avenue, near Rebecca street, Allegheny, because of the depredations of unknown persons. Sometime early yesterday morning a gang of men wrecked the framework of the building that had been set up. The heavy bolts that tie the steel uprights to the concrete supports were cut off and the steel beams fell to the ground. They crashed down on some of the lighter material and twisted and bent it. Work on the building will be delayed until the destroyed parts can be replaced.

Newton B. Yant, the senior member of the firm, who was assaulted by two men on Thursday, is at his home, 22 Thompson street. Besides two bad scalp wounds he has a broken nose, and the imprint of the heel of a heavy shoe worn by one of the assailants is plainly visible on his face. It will be a week or more before Mr. Yant is able to leave his home.

A clue to the identity of the two men was furnished Percy Hunter, a member of the firm, yesterday and he said there would probably be arrests made at once. A policeman was on duty at the place yesterday and last night.

Weather—Showers. Saturday, March 26, 1904.

And Now a Word for the Sprightly Oxford.

What is your notion, anyhow, as to Oxfords—meaning, of course, your preference as to color? The inference that you will wear oxfords in Summer is natural. Most every woman that comes into our Shoe Store is talking oxford, but the question to decide is whether yours shall be the pretty russet or the equally pretty kid and patent leather.

Whatever your notion we are well ready for you. Never had so large a stock of oxfords so early in the season.

There's no two ways about it, tan is to be the favorite color this season. But every woman is not going to wear tan. Therefore we are just as ready, with blacks as with tans.

A very pretty tan oxford is the Gibson Tie, and plain toe. It is a capital little shoe and just as graceful as can be. The price of this oxford is $3.00.

For $2.50 we have a tan oxford made over an entirely new last, the style being finished with a tip. We rather think you would be hard pushed to find a neater low cut shoe for $1.00 more.

In ideal kid we are showing button oxfords. During this week this patent ideal oxford has met with much favor from early buyers. Price is $3.00.

At this same price of $3.00 you can have a stylish oxford of patent ideal kid, which is fastened with a wide ribbon tie. One of the neatest oxfords we have ever shown.

The foregoing is only a brief hint of our oxford variety. Walk back to the women's shoe store, rear of street floor, East, and examine the entire collection.

Haven't said a word about women's and children's Spring boots. Everything that is at all stylish.

Speaking of Popular Priced Hats for Women, it strikes us rather sensitively that one could go round the town and round the town and then not find so much style for popular prices as we show. At $5.00, at $6.00, at $7.00, at $8.00 and on up to $18.00, there are now on view in our exceptionally handsome millinery floor as beautiful conceptions in Trimmed Hats and Toques as any woman could wish to wear. Will you see them today?

For the very small sum of $2.00 we are in line with ready-to-wear Shirtwaist Toques, Pompadour Hats and Turbans. Probably the best part of this news is that these stylish shapes come in the new rough straws.

Our untrimmed Straw Hats shown in all conceivable twists that can be given a hat, shown in both rough straws and plain chips, shown in all colors, are inexpensive at 50c, $1.00 and up to $2.50.

For 25c today we will sell bunches of Crushed Roses, 6 in bunch.

For 38c today we will sell large bunches of Daisies, Roses, Bluets, and at the same price we have beautiful wreaths of wild flowers. And this same price of 38c buys lots of foliage.

Kodaks and Their Appurtenances.

Besides carrying the full line of Eastman's Kodaks from No. 1 Brownie to the handsome 5x7 folding Kodak, we have all the appurtenances which pertain to kodakry. Albums of all sizes and at all prices, films, velox paper and developers, etc.

SPECIAL—As a special today we will sell a handsome 8x10 album, 16 leaves with artistic cover, for 65c instead of the regular price of 80c. 11x13 size, 16 leaves, for 60c, instead of 75c.

Non-curling Films in all sizes for different kodaks at the same prices as the old style films. These films do not curl after development—they also have the quality non-halation.

Make your own postal cards. We have the Velox sensitized postal cards, print just the same as Velox paper, at 20c per dozen. Also the Sepia cards—printed by sunlight and washed in cold water—very simple but very pretty and artistic, 20c for 2 dozen.

Babies—and Go-Carts.

$4.00 to $43.00.

Now don't get funny and say: "What, the babies?"

Looks as though you would have all the chance in the world to give the baby a first-class outing tomorrow, and to make it first-class you must needs have a first-class vehicle.

In the East Basement, every sort of Go-Cart that has been brought out for the Spring season—plain to elaborate. You had the prices at the beginning.

Men's and Children's Easter Hats.

There's no getting away from the fact that in our Hat Store is the most elegant collection of styles ever gathered together in Pittsburg, or, as a customer remarked, even in New York there cannot be found a better assortment.

We know this to be a fact and want to impress it upon you, but we cannot get that impression to you unless you come and see the scope of our Hat Store.

One of our particular points is to keep fine to superfine hats, some of them of the highest grade made.

New Derbies, at $3.00, at $4.00, at $5.00, at $6.00 even.

New Soft Hats, at $2.00, at $3.00, at $4.00, at $5.00 at $6.00.

Silk Hats at $6.00 and $8.00.

Silk Opera Hats at $6.00 and at $7.00.

This Hat Store carries a large assortment of Coachmen's Hats and Automobile Caps, and our prices are as low,, quality for quality, as you can buy anywhere.

An especial feature of the Hat Store is its collection of hats for children, tams and all sorts of caps in plentiful variety.

New Cotton Waists.

The new cotton waists are pronounced evidences of the fact that frills are the fashion. Were they ever so elaborate before? Tucks, pleats, embroideries, laces, appliques, fancy stitching and contrasts of materials are but a few of the means evolved for the trimming of the cotton waists for 1904. Three numbers which represent the different styles follow—

$2.75 for Waists for ecru batiste, front tucked in clusters to form yoke, finished with rows of briar stitching in red; tucked back and tucked sleeves with three rows of briar stitching; pointed cuffs and pointed stock.

$5.00 for Waists of ecru batiste—white insertion used to form round yoke, front and back; full sleeve and self stock.

$2.75 to $8.00 for a line of the well-known and liked King waists—in linen, madras, dimity, linen crash and other fashionable materials. These waists are tailor-made, have hand-made buttonholes and are perfect fitting.

Gentlemen, look back with us to yesterday afternoon, say around about 5 o'clock. Didn't the weather suggest a Spring suit? Our Clothing Department is at your service, with everything new and fashionable. Suits $10.00 to $35.00; Topcoats $15.00 to $35.00.

Saturday, March 26, 1904.

While the 7 per cent grade of the technical school site will be a handicap to architects accustomed to ordinary treatment, it may easily prove an inspiration to genius. The castle on the hill is a familiar architectural feature and there are marvelously effective examples. This problem has nothing to do with castles and the group of buildings will not cap the eminence, but very effective treatment can be given a group on a stiff grade—more effective than on a flat surface.

With summer temperature prevailing last evening, the cold wave flag was hoisted and the warning sent out that the temperature will fall to freezing or below today. In the northwest there has been a near approach to zero. Helena, Mont., reported 2 degrees above on Wednesday evening and was but 2 degrees warmer Thursday evening, while the mercury had fallen to 10 at Bismarck and 13 at Huron, in the Dakotas. It is a very severe change. It is likely to be accompanied by violent atmospheric disturbance and it behooves every individual to exercise care while it is passing. Spring will come in good time, but it is not wise to anticipate it in dress or habits.

Select council passed many ordinances, including the filtration bureau, yesterday, but promptly sent the light and power bills back to committee on a point of order. We believe the point of order well taken. The fact, however, that it caused a question to be raised affecting the legality of the most important legislation passed during two years, is evidence of the slipshod way in which the business of councils has been transacted. Little attention is paid to the rules, less to charter requirements and practically none to public interests. Of course, the ordinances on which the records have been completed cannot be overturned on the technicality that they were not reported by committee chairmen, but they should have been so reported. It has been the uniform practice of the courts to hold that once the legislative record is complete it is not their province to go behind that record, no matter what the defect may have been, but a decent regard for the public business would seem to demand close adherence to the prescribed procedure.

A hearing was given yesterday by the house committee to the advocates of an American ship canal around Niagara falls, the estimated cost being $4,500,000. The improvement of the lake system of waterways can never be regarded as complete until this link is supplied. Commerce between Lakes Erie and Ontario now depends upon the 14-foot Canadian canal—Welland's—which is inadequate besides not being under American control. Many millions have been spent by the government upon the lake system, including the Soo canals, Belle isle straits, the 21-foot channel and the harbors, and this one item should be looked after. But it is no less important that the government should look to the completion of the Mississippi river system, the most important branch of which is the Ohio. Its commerce does not now compare with the magnificent total of the lakes—much of which originates in the Pittsburgh district, but its tonnage is large in view of the fact that the system has barely been begun at extreme ends. No fair comparison can be made until the system of improvements is as far advanced as that of the lakes, or probably until the two systems have been connected, as they will be ultimately. There is good reason for the Hon. E. F. Acheson's desire to have a more liberal policy indorsed.

The department of commerce and labor is carrying on a valuable work in obtaining from all our consuls reports on the character of emigration to the United States from all their districts. These reports are being published as they arrive and will eventually be collected in a volume which will be a complete compend of information. The latest batch of reports received show what a great difference there is in the character of emigration from Northern and Southern Europe. Emigrants from Denmark, Sweden and Norway nearly always possess a fair common school education, and are mainly mechanics or the better sort of agricultural laborers. A circumstance that must be regarded as a blemish, in view of the polygamist tendencies of the Mormon church, is the fact that many Norwegian emigrants are Mormons, that country being a regular field of Mormon missionary effort. Emigration from Southern Europe is largely illiterate. A marked feature of the present situation is the rapid increase of emigration from Greece, now so great as to alarm the government. Emigration to this country has more than doubled since the Spanish war, but there is also a large movement towards South Africa and South America. Over 50 per cent are illiterate. Emigration from Russia is reported to be almost wholly composed of Hebrews, Poles and Lithuanians, few real Russians being included. The Poles and Lithuanians come mostly from agricultural districts; the Hebrews only from towns. Although these emigrants are described as poor and dirty they are declared to be the more intelligent and ambitious of their class, fairly industrious, sober and thrifty.

What Will Congress Do?

Considerable discussion has been excited by the ruling of Pension Commissioner Ware that age shall be taken as an evidential fact proving disability entitling to increase of pension. The ruling is, apparently, void and of no effect. It has been discovered that section 4698½, revised statutes, declares that no increase of pension shall be allowed except upon the certificate of an examining surgeon after examination of the applicant by a board of surgeons. The bureau order, it is held, cannot supersede the specific provision of a statute.

Very little fault has been found with the substance or effect of Mr. Ware's order. It appears just. There has been, however, sharp criticism of the pension commissioner on the ground that his order usurped the prerogative of congress. Congress is somewhat hypersensitive these days, as witness its inordinate resentment of the mild imputation in the Overstreet report that some of its members have been fixing their fences at home. This may account for the disposition to grumble because Commissioner Ware did not wait for them to do something for their veteran constituents.

Disclosure of the conflict between the statute and the pension bureau order passes the matter up to congress with a degree of urgency. The trend of the order has the general indorsement of the public and the approval of the veterans. It is rendered ineffective. Congress can make it effective and no one else can. Such an opportunity is not often offered, and the people will observe with interest what congress is going to do about it. Are the old soldiers to have their pension increases without trouble?

The Hearst Boom.

Advices from various quarters leave no doubt that the progress of the Hearst boom is causing genuine consternation among the leaders of the Democratic party. Hearst agents appear to be active everywhere, and their efforts are producing effect. Bryan is on friendly terms with the movement and is expected to declare for Hearst. Although the regular party leaders now fully realize the danger and are exerting themselves to avert it, they are finding that they have plenty of work to do. A marked setback for the plans of Bryan and Hearst was, however, the defeat of Bryan's effort to have the Nebraska convention called for an early date. Instead of meeting in April, as Bryan desired, it was postponed to June when its action, even should it be favorable to Bryan, will be too late to have much effect upon the election of delegates in other states.

The argument which the Hearst boomers are using is that if Parker, Cleveland, Gray, Olney, Gorman or any other conservative be nominated, the party will have to solicit campaign contributions from business interests and thus incur obligations to the trusts. If Hearst is nominated $1,500,000 will be furnished by Hearst and his friends. This argument has a good deal of force when accompanied by pecuniary aid towards the establishment of Hearst clubs. The Hearst boom, which was at first regarded by the Democratic leaders as merely an advertising proposition, has become a serious menace to the party management.

The turn which events is taking is emphasizing the trust issue as the leading one of the campaign. The arguments which the Hearst advance agents all use is that he is the only candidate who is fighting the trusts fearlessly and who would use all the powers of the government to disrupt them if elected. Sensible politicians know that the argument is one that will react upon the party during the campaign. What are Hearst's reckless promises to Roosevelt's prudent fulfillment? The country will be too well advised of the real situation to be willing to take the slightest risk of putting business interests at the mercy of a policy of noisy sensationalism. This is so certain that Republican politicians who take merely a narrow party view of expediency would prefer Hearst to all others as the Democratic candidate, but to have the Democratic party again disabled from effective service as an opposition would really be a public misfortune. National politics are in an unwholesome condition so long as any great party can nominate a man who is notoriously unfitted by character or through lack of experience to be the trustee of national interests.

Facts About Water Supply.

City Controller Larkin's plea for a supply of pure water from natural sources is taken up by the Leader. It says The Gazette's estimate of $13,500,000 for such a supply is mere guesswork. On the contrary, that estimate was made by the filtration commission, Allen Hazen, consulting engineer; and Mr. Larkin has said the estimate on filtration by Mr. Hazen "is good enough for him." Two sources of supply were investigated by the commission: Indian creek, Fayette county, and Blacklick, Indiana county. The latter would give the larger supply and presents the more favorable engineering features. The estimate would not in either case provide for the fullest protection of the watershed from pollution. Since that estimate was made there has been some coal development in the Blacklick basin and the cost would be more.

A couple of days ago the Leader suggested that ancient and exploded project of going to Lake Erie. That is an example of its misinformation on the water question. In order to get water at all fit for domestic use out of Lake Erie, Cleveland has been compelled to construct a tunnel under the lake at tremendous cost. Pittsburgh would have to do the same thing or take water nearly as bad as the raw Allegheny river product. Having obtained moderately good water, a huge pumping plant would be necessary to raise it 400 feet or more to the summit of the Allegheny river watershed. Then would come the construction of the viaduct or pipe line and the purchase of right-of-way, running into enough millions to give Mr. Larkin vertigo and the Leader fits.

As a matter of fact, Lake Erie water will ultimately have to be filtered to have it free from pathogenic germs. Blacklick or Indian creek water might be kept pure by the purchase of half a million acres or so of the watershed and the careful policing of the territory to prevent pollution. Continuing the rate of increase in water consumption for 40 years on the basis of the past 10, neither one of those streams would be adequate to supply the city. Both together would be insufficient in a century. On the other hand, the Allegheny river will always afford an ample supply and slow sand filtration will make it pure. The future presents simply the problem of enlarging filter and pumping capacity. Installation of meters will check the necessary increase of both. The Gazette would be glad to see the cost of filtration reduced, but there is no economy in underestimation and delays. Under the United States court decision the whole cost must be provided for before bids can be taken, and typhoid goes right along.

The Business Situation.

An increased tonnage of both raw and finished iron and steel products, and a hardening tendency to prices, is the cheerful report made this week of the condition of this important industry. Confidence in the stability of the improvement is gradually gaining ground, and with the progress already made in the settlement of wage scales, and with the promise of an early spring, permitting a resumption of outdoor work, the outlook is now brighter than at any previous time this year. Optimism is as contagious as the opposite sentiment, and the improvement that has taken place in the iron trade is lapping over into mercantile circles. Merchants feel more inclined to place orders ahead when the indications are favorable to an unimpaired buying power of the masses who depend upon daily wages for the necessaries and luxuries of life.

Some lines of business are suffering much inconvenience through the inability of the railroads to furnish proper facilities for handling freight. This is due not so much to a lack of cars as to inadequate motive power. The movement of coal and coke in the Pittsburgh district is seriously hampered by this cause, and manufacturers who depend upon this market for supplies of coke are inconvenienced. One cause for this condition of affairs was the unusually severe winter, which was very hard on rolling stock. Another was the stringency in the money market during the last quarter of 1903, which prevented the railroads from placing orders with locomotive builders. Both these causes have now disappeared and speedy relief should follow.

Bank exchanges continue to show a large average decrease compared with the corresponding period last year and the year before. It may be safely asserted, however, that clearings today more clearly reflect what may be classed as strictly legitimate business than at any time during the past three years. At the present time there are no large promotions being handled which involve a shifting of credits, that help to swell bank exchanges, but which do not represent any actual addition to the volume of trade. There are no large financial deals which necessitate an interchange of checks but which do not affect by a ton the amount of merchandise produced or shipped, and stock speculation, particularly in Pittsburgh, is at a lower ebb today than at any time for years. A comparison of bank exchanges under present conditions, therefore, does not furnish a fair gauge of the volume of real business.

The announcement of the first proposed step in the direction of carrying out the decree of the supreme court in the Northern Securities case was responsible for a revival of activity in the New York stock market and the largest dealings for a single day in nearly a year. There was also a very general recovery in market values, and it was again demonstrated that the forebodings as to the consequence of an adverse decision were entirely groundless. There has been a subsidence of speculation in grain and cotton following the collapse of the "corner" in the latter commodity, and fluctuations have been within a normal range.

The money market remains easy, the only change that has taken place being a further advance in rates for sterling exchange which foreshadows exports of gold. This movement usually occurs in the spring and sometimes causes uneasiness in the money market, but at the present time the surplus reserves of the banks are so much above the average for this time of year that the prospect of shipments of gold to Europe has only passing interest. On the whole the business situation is much more satisfactory at the threshold of spring than the most sanguine had looked for three months ago.

The Russo-Japanese war is expected to warm up with the passing away of cold weather.

ERASMUS WILSON.

In spite of the many good signs, the maple sugar season was a bad one—the worst ever, nearly.

An old camp-tender from Clearfield says there hasn't been a half dozen good sugar-water days this season. There was plenty of frost in the ground, but frosty nights and bright, warm days are essential to good runs.

He says the sugar camp is surely passing away and blames it on those little puffing, smoking, buzzing, portable saw-mills. These rip up every kind of tree into plank, palings or cross-ties, and without mercy. The sugar-tree stood up against the pressure for a long time, but when it had been found to yield a superior quality of hardwood plank for flooring and inside finish, the raid on the sugar camp began, and it will hardly stop until the last sugar-tree has been ripped up.

The sugar maple is of quick growth, and hardy, so that it may be raised with profit. Why not pass a law requiring a tree to be planted for every one that is destroyed. This would be no great hardship, and yet prove highly beneficial in the course of time, and not a very long time, at that.

A correspondent wants to know about how much water a sugar-tree will yield.

That depends somewhat on the location, whether on the sunny or shady side of the hill. Also on the particular kind of tree. The average, however, is from two to four gallons a day, according to the weather.

Black, rough-barked trees yield considerable more water, and sweeter, than smooth, light-colored ones. A tree of the black stripe, with two spiles, will yield as high as six gallons of water a day, equivalent to a pound and a half of sugar.

With the passing of the sugar-tree, sassafras tea will probably enter upon a decline and, maybe, the sturdy northern Yankee race will follow.

Sassafras tea is no joke, as you may know. Hasn't it long been regarded as the great spring renovator of the human body? It opens the pores, sets the delicate machinery of the nutrition system going all right, drives out germs and bugs, and fits a fellow to resist the trying heat of early summer.

No indeed, sassafras tea is no joke, although some people poke a good deal of fun at it. Some of these same put great faith in sarsaparilla, which pharmacists say has no virtue whatever, or at least no more than is to be found in plain water.

Did you notice an item in the papers the other day to the effect that a fellow out in Ohio had fallen off a swinging bridge into a clump of elder bushes, and that a piece of one had gouged an eye out and went plumb through his cheek? The item went on to state that he pulled the stick out, but the bark stayed in. His recovery, with the loss of an eye, is probable.

It was lucky for him that it was an elder stalk; also that the bark stayed in, for elder bark has long been famed for its great healing properties. Years ago it wasn't thought possible to rear a family properly without elder salve, and elder blossom tea. For cuts, wounds, bruises, burns, chapped hands or feet, sore lips or nose, and all such, there was no remedy like elder salve, particularly if made of mutton tallow. Large quantities of it were sent from country districts to the hospitals during the great war and much of it was used in dressing wounds.

The old-time, way-back root and herb doctor held that there was a whole lot in the making of elder salve. If it was to be used as an astringent the stalk should be cut in the fall of the year and during the dark of the moon, and the bark scraped off the same as it grew, that is, from the butt toward the top. If it was to be used as an emollient to soften the parts and to soothe pain it should be cut just when the sap started to flow in the spring, and peeled from the top toward the bottom of the stalk.

Mr. Quiet Observer:—For several years back I have been a constant reader of your column and I have received many useful suggestions, much valuable information and considerable amusement from your trite observations in regard to many subjects, which have been under discussion from time to time. And I have many times been tempted to take part in some of these discussions, but have heretofore desisted, either through modesty or from some other motive.

The question of love-making, kissing and spooning in general having again been resurrected, I feel that I have a chance to express an opinion and to tell of my experience in the matter.

In the first place, I am married; so am out of the running, but have gained my information from past personal experiences and observations. I was, up to a short time before I settled down, to "the one girl in the world for me" considerable of a beau, and had as many friends among the members of the gentler sex as falls to the lot of the average young man. I do not think that the man lives who enjoyed the art of spooning (please notice the word "art") more than I, but, mark you, when the time came for me to choose a wife, think you I chose one of those on whom I had lavished my spooning proclivities?

Ah, no! The girl I chose, and who also chose me, I never so much as placed my arm around her waist, until the night I told her that I cared for her more than as a friend. Do you think she doubted when I told her because I had refrained from attempting what other previous admirers had been promptly called down for?

Well, if you are under this impression, you are badly mistaken, for since I have had the right, I have not been slow in taking advantage of it, and which is all the more pleasant, for having waited she has told me that the very fact that I had refrained from so doing had been proof to her that my feelings toward her were of a deeper, more respectful character than of those who had paid her attention before.

Now, if the girls could hear the remarks passed upon them which I have heard, and which every other man has heard, they would be more chary of allowing young men to spoon and to make love when no understanding exists between them. But they say no young man of their set, nor no gentleman, would mention the fact that they had permitted him such privileges. That is just where they are wrong. Men are alike the world over, and irrespective of class; and the only men who don't tell such things, are those who are dumb and unable to talk. Many men think it is smart (and some of the men in their set are included in this class) to tell of their love-making escapades with young ladies of their acquaintance, especially if they know that they have repulsed others for making the attempt.

Girls, remember this on the word of one who has been through the mill and knows whereof he speaks. A young man has far more respect for the young lady who holds him at a distance until such time as he has a right to enjoy such privileges than he has for the one who will permit him to hug and kiss her, and to spoon with her generally.

When a young lady permits a man to take these privileges before an avowal of affection, he has every reason to believe that she will permit others to do the same, and my experience has been that no man wants a wife who has submitted to the kisses and caresses of other men than himself.

Don't think that I am a prude, or that I am setting myself up as an example, for were I not possessed of a wife whom I am more than happy with I would, in all probability, be enjoying all the delights of other young men, and spooning with the girls who would allow me to do so. EX-SPOONER.

Talked of in Gotham

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 25.—Every assemblyman and senator at Albany realizes how difficult it is to make legislation which shall suit equally the metropolis and the smaller places throughout the state that Gothamites usually refer to off-handedly as "the country." Some of these "country" communities are very large cities, such as Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse. Still, they are not New York, and therefore must not grumble if they are classed as provincial. Even such a busy place as Troy, where there are more collars and cuffs made and laundered than in any other city in the world, finds itself suffering when the legislators seek to make a law which shall ameliorate conditions in Greater New York. There is a bill just introduced in the assembly designed to wipe out every phase of the sweatshop system in Manhattan, by prohibiting the manufacture of shirtwaists in other than licensed factories, where the products are obliged to be laundered before being sold. This looks innocent on its face. But the law which applies to New York also affects every other city in New York state, and in Troy more than half of the shirts, shirtwaists and collars are made in the homes of operatives. If the bill should pass, what will become of the thousands of men, women and children who ply sewing machine and needle in their homes? Troy depends for its existence largely on the shirt and collar industry, and if a blow were struck at that it would mean destitution to many a family. The assemblyman—a decent chap named Adams—will probably reconsider his bill before pushing it in the assembly. Troy is cheek and jowl with Albany, so he is pretty sure to have a few delegations after him whose arguments can hardly be altogether without avail.

No Aged Ladies There.

W. T. Keough, manager of the new Star theater, is having a great deal of difficulty in persuading the feminine portion of his audiences that they should take off their hats during performances. In Broadway houses no woman thinks of keeping on her hat while the curtain is up. But Mr. Keough's place is in Harlem, and Harlem ethics are not exactly the same as those prevailing further south. Now he has had placed conspicuously on his program: "Ladies are requested to take off their hats. Old ladies, to avoid taking cold, need not remove their hats." Mr. Keough says he finds this the most effective action he has yet taken, and last night he looked over an entirely hatless audience, even before the curtain rose.

"Big Bill's" Sun Has Set.

How soon we are forgotten when we are no longer at the head of the procession is illustrated in the case of W. S. Devery. At the time the ex-chief of police was giving free excursions to his constituents of the Ninth ward, and announcing himself as a candidate for office, the famous "pump" at the corner of Eighth avenue and Twenty-eighth street was gaily decorated in colors, according to the season. Part of the time it was in green with a golden harp and shamrock, while at other times it bore the stars and stripes in the national red, white and blue. These ornamentations were understood to be in honor of "Big Bill," and were so, indeed. I passed the "pump" this morning and lo, it was painted in a dirty yellow. All its glory of last year had departed and it was as raffish, dreary, sad looking a hydrant as anyone ever saw. Like the man with whose name it has been so long connected, it is out of the limelight, and any old color is good enough for it now. The blinds all over the house at No. 210 Twenty-eighth street, which is Devery's city home, were all down. Perhaps the "chief" was not up, or mayhap was out of town, but it was impossible to help tracing a sad sympathy between the darkened house and the drooping, yellow "pump."

Beer Money Is Easy.

There has been trouble for Brooklynites who go home by way of the new Williamsburg bridge this week. Not many blocks from the terminal of the bridge in Williamsburg is a sludgy, loud-smelling canal, to cross which a drawbridge is generally used. Some days ago something went wrong with the machinery and the bridge is open. To go around would mean a walk of a dozen blocks, and a group of idlers in the neighborhood saw a way to make beer money by rigging up a raft and taking people across the water for a small fee. In the middle of the raft is a box nailed down with a slit in the top. When the passenger steps aboard the raft and has had time to adjust himself so that he will keep the crazy craft "trim" one of the four men in charge calls his attention to the "kitty." He may put in as little as a cent, but some coin is absolutely demanded. Many of the passengers give a nickel, and some, who are crossing for the first time, as much as a dime. The bridge will be fixed by the end of the week, when the raft will go out of commission, but the loafers of that region say that beer never flowed so freely there before in their memory. The "kitty" has been a perfect mine of hops and alcohol.

Spring Shopping Is Looking Up.

Department stores are doing a fine business since the warm weather set in. Yesterday afternoon, which was sunny, saw such crowds of shoppers that parts of Broadway, Sixth avenue, Fourteenth and Twenty-third streets were almost impassable. This afternoon was cloudy, with threatended rain, but the business of the stores was almost as large. In the morning one could walk about the big establishments with perfect ease, and have three clerks to wait on you, if you would, but in the afternoon—well, the store was no place for a man, unless he happened to be behind the counter. Merchants feel more hopeful than they usually do in spring. The bitter winter means a fine spring trade, they believe.

Crowding Out the Residences.

Twenty-third street, below Ninth avenue, a locality which has held out longer as a fashionable residence district than any other down so far on the extreme West Side, is giving way before the march of commerce. On the south side of the street, between Ninth and Tenth avenues, the line of brownstone houses was unbroken by stores up to two years ago. There is a restaurant at the corner of Tenth avenue, with a florist's place of imposing proportions two doors from Ninth, and a great store at the corner of that avenue, the use of which has not yet been announced.

Now that business has begun to swallow the homes in this block, it is probable that all will go in due time. Across Twenty-third street and Ninth and Tenth avenues are the ancient homes, with the long gardens in front, which used to be the ultra-fashionable. A few old families still live in them, but most of the houses have fallen into the hands of boarding house keepers, with a few dentists and doctors sandwiched between. Twenty-third street is going the way of all neighborhoods below Forty-second street. Only a few years more and there will be hardly anyone living downtown except those whose business compels it, together with the immovable hosts of tenement dwellers, who stick to their old homes until they are dispossessed by force.

The Nation's Capital

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The United States senate is very jealous of its dignity and its precedents. They are adhered to closely and the senator who so far forgets himself as to disregard them is usually called to account. But there have been several instances recently in which precedents have been broken, matters of insignificance, but sufficient to cause comment among those familiar with the procedure of the senate. When Gen. Dick was sworn in on Wednesday, he was presented with a bouquet as he stood in front of the presiding officer's desk, having just subscribed to the oath. It was a mistake upon the part of the page in handing him the flowers, as they should have been deposited upon his desk. At any rate it was a matter of no consequence whatever, and yet within the memory of the oldest senator in congress it was the first time that a senator has ever been presented with flowers upon the floor of the chamber. Admirers often send floral greetings which are laid upon the senators' desks, but never before has a bouquet been presented to an old or new member as he stood upon the floor.

Today a senator caused a mild sensation by uttering a protest, gentle though it was, against the tardiness of the presiding officer in recognizing him. Immediately upon the conclusion of the morning business, Senators Hansbrough and Lodge rose and addressed the chair. Mr. Lodge was recognized and secured the passage of a bill. Then Mr. Hansbrough and Mr. Allison addressed the chair simultaneously and Mr. Allison was recognized. Mr. Allison is chairman of the committee on appropriations, and, as appropriation bills have precedence, he was given the opportunity to present the District of Columbia bill to the senate.

Another Precedent Broken.

Finally Mr. Hansbrough obtained leave to address the senate and he politely remarked that ever since the conclusion of the morning business he had been endeavoring to secure recognition from the chair, but had been unable to do so. He did not want to interfere with appropriation bills, but desired to submit some remarks in reply to the speech of Senator Gibson on the day previous. Senator Frye, president pro tem., then stated why he had recognized the various senators and had passed Mr. Hansbrough by and insisted that he had but done his duty. The incident closed with this, but it was the smashing of precedents for a senator to protest, however mildly, against the tardiness of the presiding officer in recognizing him.

Another interesting incident occurred in the senate today when Levi P. Morton, former vice president of the United States, and as such presided over the deliberations of the senate, walked into the chamber. In an instant a dozen veteran senators who had served with Mr. Morton rushed forward to grasp his hand and welcome him. The impromptu reception was an enjoyable one for those who participated in it, but it was rather disturbing to the senators who were trying to transact business. As the conversation grew louder, President Frye rapped with the gavel for order and ruthlessly broke up the little party. Mr. Morton, who had wielded that same gavel, was the first to notice the call to order and he quickly stepped over to one of the leather divans at the rear of the chamber and sat down. There he and his friends continued their talk without interrupting the proceedings of the senate.

It's Different in the House.

The senate, with its membership of only 90, would naturally be expected to be conducted with more quietness and dignity than the house, with its 386 members. In the senate applause is seldom heard and if it is indulged in, it is promptly suppressed by the presiding officer. When the spectators in the galleries get so enthused by a speech that they clap their hands, as sometimes happens, the chair raps frantically with the gavel and in somber tones announces that "applause is not permitted in the galleries." But the customs are not so strict in the house. There applause on the floor is often heard and sometimes members do not content themselves with clapping their hands, but yell at the top of their voices and on occasions stand on their chairs and desks. In all of this fun the galleries are expected to participate if they feel like it. Of course the speaker restores order as speedily as possible, but nobody feels so terribly shocked at the outbreak.

In spite of the boasted dignity of the senate, it is a fact that there have been more personal encounters between members on the floor of that branch and there have been greater scandals in the form of personal assaults than have occurred in the house. This is not so much to the discredit of the senate as it is to the credit of the house.

Temperance Work in Germany.

It is difficult to conceive of Germany as a prohibition country, but there are people who claim that it is a possibility. Representative Acheson of Pennsylvania recently noticed a published statement bearing upon temperance work in Germany, attributed to Henry W. Diederich, United States consul at Bremen. Mr. Acheson supposed it was a consular report on the subject and he wrote to Mr. Diederich for any further information he might have. The consul replied that the statements that had been published were merely taken from a letter that he had written to a Mrs. Hunt, prominent in temperance work in this country, but he forwarded to Mr. Acheson a clipping bearing upon this subject. This clipping is from a temperance publication and it contains some facts regarding the progress of temperance work in the German empire that are really astonishing.

The facts and figures are apparently authentic, as they are prepared by William Mayner, secretary to the United States consul general at Berlin, who is editor of the German topics of the forthcoming encyclopedia of temperance. It is stated that there is 871 books on temperance printed in Germany and practically all of them have been published since 1880, which marks the beginning of the temperance movement in that country. These books are written by 413 different authors. There are 37 newspapers, magazines and annuals published in German devoted to the temperance question. Among other things the extract says:

"The evidence is clear that the people of Germany have taken up the alcohol question with an energy excelled by no other people on the face of the earth. Good Templar lodges are multiplying every year. The blue cross has spread all over the empire. Count Douglas is one of the foremost temperance reformers in the country, and day by day the journal of the imperial parliament has contained pages of his arguments against drink. Plans are even being matured for a German temperance exhibit at the St. Louis exposition."

May Lead to Prohibition.

It is further stated that the upper classes of people have been interested in the movement and that the empress is aiding the cause. The most significant part of the article is the last paragraph, which says:

"Germany has passed the first stage of the reform—that of moderation. Abstinence is now the general cry and with a decided squint toward legislation, both remedial and preventive. At the present swift rate the reform may have complete prohibition for its watchword in 10 more years."

It may be the cry of an enthusiast, but based upon the progress that has been made in a little over 20 years, in another decade the fight will be for total prohibition. This is a remarkable statement in view of the history of Germany and the convivial spirit that has been a national characteristic. To think of Germany, where the best beers are brewed, and where, on the banks of the Rhine, the vineyards supply the wines that are world-famous—to think of this all changed and in its place a national law of prohibition, requires a long reach of the imagination. Consul Diederich, who evidently believes that a wonderful transformation in this respect is coming in Germany, is a former resident of Pittsburgh and has many relatives and friends there.

The Death Roll

Robert McCurdy.

Robert McCurdy, one of the wealthiest men in Youngstown, died in that city last night of Bright's disease. He had been brought back from Florida recently, where he had gone for his health. He was born in Donegal, Ireland, in August, 1842. Coming to this country, he entered the Mahoning County bank as office boy. He was made clerk, but in a short time he enlisted in the One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Ohio Volunteer Infantry. He returned after the civil war and had been with the bank ever since. In 1865 he became cashier of the bank, which was changed to the First National bank. In 1877 he became president. Interested in gold and iron ore mines, he accumulated a fortune and died worth $1,000,000. He gave more to charitable institutions than any other man in Youngstown. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church, one of the supporters of the Young Men's Christian association, a trustee in the Rayen high school which he helped build, and was interested in other institutions of the kind. In 1877 he married Isabelle Porter of Coitsville. Their children are Isabelle, Florence and Robert, Jr.

PERSONALS

The Railway club of Pittsburgh met last evening in the Hotel Henry. The technical paper under discussion was prepared and read by J. D. Wright, foreman of painters of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in the Baltimore shops. His subject was "Terminal Cleaning of Passenger Equipment Cars." He stated that the officials of railroads make a mistake in allowing unskilled workmen to handle cars. He says experienced men only should be entrusted in keeping them in a cleanly and sanitary condition. Eighteen candidates were admitted to membership. The death of Sylvester Hogan, a well-known supply man, was announced. Luncheon was served, during which impromptu addresses and music added interest to the meeting.

The presentation of a leather chair to John C. Fields was the climax to a banquet tendered last night in his honor in the Hotel Henry. Mr. Fields has been appointed assistant manager of the sales department of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and has been assigned by Charles J. Casper, local manager, to take charge of a new warehouse to be opened at Baltimore. About 50 salesmen were present and immediately after dinner W. W. Simons presented Mr. Fields with the chair. The remainder of the evening was spent in speech-making, singing and story-telling.

Prof. William Potter, president of the Jefferson Medical college of Philadelphia, and formerly ambassador to Italy during the Harrison administration, passed through the city last night over the Pennsylvania railroad on his way to St. Louis to visit his daughter. While in the World's fair city he will visit the exposition. During his short stay at the Union station he said: "It is evident that the industrial situation is improving and indications are it will continue to do so, despite the fact that it is 'presidential year.'"

Dr. A. J. Barchfeld, candidate for congress, left last night for Atlantic City, where he will spend several days. He said the political campaign had overtaxed him and he needed a rest. He was accompanied by William Michaels of the Thirty-first ward.

Capt. S. S. Brown boarded the Pennsylvania limited for Louisville last night. He expects to be away several days.

ORGANIZATION WILL DECIDE

Workers Will First Have to Approve Return of Citizens to Republican Party.

CITY COMMITTEE ORGANIZED

In accepting a re-election as chairman of the Republican city committee, M. G. Leslie last night outlined the policy of the organization toward the Citizens. He promises that any proposition looking toward their return to the Republican party will have to first receive the indorsement of the district and ward associations.

There are 114 members of the city committee and 101 were present at the organization of the body in common council chamber last night. M. G. Leslie was re-elected chairman, Robert Ostermaier, secretary, and Thomas G. McClure, treasurer. William M. Benham and F. C. Beinhauer were chosen vice chairmen. The auditors elected are George T. Oliver, John Battles and W. A. Larimer.

John B. Barbour, Jr., was temporary chairman of the meeting and served until the new officers had been elected. W. M. Benham nominated Chairman Leslie for re-election and the nomination was seconded by F. C. Beinhauer and Dr. A. J. Barchfeld. W. R. Bailey named Secretary Ostermaier. The committee demanded a speech from Mr. Ostermaier after he had been chosen by acclamation. The secretary thanked the members and said that he was ready and willing to take up any work which would assist in the victory of the party in the fall. A. A. Dinan nominated Treasurer McClure and D. A. Wilbert and Dr. W. H. Weber presented the names of the vice chairmen. The auditors were nominated by Charles J. Ruhlandt.

Party Returning to Power.

In accepting another term as city chairman, Mr. Leslie said:

I wish to thank the members of the committee, individually and collectively, for re-electing me as your chairman for the ensuing year. Personally, I consider your action a vote of confidence in the management of the affairs of the Republican organization in this city during the past 15 months.

The Republican party has gone through two years of strenuous politics. The contests waged by the contending parties for supremacy were of the most bitter character, and the introduction of methods to control elections by our opponents have been the means of bringing about a condition which it will take a long period of years to properly adjust. Their extravagant use of money has debauched and ruined more people than any single thing that has occurred in politics in this city during the past quarter of a century. But, notwithstanding the fact that they control all of the public offices of Pittsburgh and the majority of the county offices, the Republican party is rapidly coming back into its own. The people have realized their mistake, and are ready and willing to rectify the error at the first opportunity afforded them by electing Republican candidates.

Will Fight to the End.

The Republican party, without patronage, having no favors to grant, no ties that can extend political preferment, has been fighting and will continue to fight to the end against a combination whose only aim is to seek power for its personal advancement and aggrandizement.

The Republican party is stronger today in Pittsburgh as an organization than ever in its history. The rank and file, the individual workers, the district organizations, the ward organizations and the city organization have been tested and have stood steadfast to the party.

Loyalty to the party has been the watchword, and such loyalty as has been demonstrated can only be understood and appreciated by those who have been in close touch with the workings of the organizations during the past two years. Never in the history of politics has such loyalty been displayed as has been shown by the workers in the Republican party in this city, and words fail to express the appreciation of those who have had charge of the contests to those true, loyal Republican workers who have stood upon the firing line during the recent contests.

In Accord With State Organization.

The Republican party again extends to all an invitation to come into the party. We especially ask and invite those who are interested in the party's success for their assistance and advice. The committee is willing to give its time and consideration to them at all times; and we call upon those who are dissatisfied to submit their differences to this committee, assuring them that they will get a fair and impartial consideration of all their matters.

The party organization of Pittsburgh and Allegheny county is today in accord with the party organization of the state, the first time since 1894. We have no differences in our own ranks, and the future success of the party is assured in this community.

Remain steadfast to your district associations and your ward organizations, and I assure you that your city committee will remain true to the organization as a whole. The dark clouds that have been hovering over the party for the past two years are now broken, and the so-called reform parties in this city and county are a thing of the past, and the only opponent that you will have in the future will be the Democratic party.

Citizens Party Is Dead.

The so-called Citizens party, I predict, will go out of existence during this year by its failure to have a ticket before the people at the coming election, and, should it endeavor to become part and parcel of the Republican party, there is only one way that it can succeed, and that will be through your action and the approval of the district, ward and city organization and all the decisions pertaining to such matters will have to be made by you, and not by any individual or set of individuals. No man or set of men can trade the Republican party of this city as so much chattel for their own personal interests. I pledge myself now as your chairman that any matter or thing that tends toward the reconciliation of the differences between the contending factions in politics in this city and county will have to receive first your indorsement before it will receive my sanction.

You cannot fail to be successful from this day on if you will be broad enough to give consideration to the rising young Republicans who do the active work and are the means of bringing about Republican success in every community where they are enlisted in the service.

Adhere to the principle of the party as enunciated by such leaders as our courageous, firm and sturdy president, Theodore Roosevelt; remain true to the memory of Lincoln, Grant and McKinley, and the ship of state is bound to land safe in the port of success.

EVANGELIST PREWETT AT WORK IN MILL DISTRICTS

Gratifying results are attendind the work being done by Evangelist Austin L. Prewett of Nashville, Tenn., who under the auspices of the Good Hope mission has for the past 10 days been carrying on an evangelical campaign in the mill districts, principally those in the Lawrenceville section. It is said that hundreds have been moved to seek a better and higher life. Reports are made of the conversion of a man who for 20 years had not attended a church; of another who for 11 years had not entered a church. At one of the noon meetings a man who for years had ridiculed the Bible and Christianity stepped forward for prayers. Evangelist Prewett seeks in the bar rooms for men who are subjects for salvation and many who follow him out of curiosity find another strange interest awakened in them.

INDICATIONS OF SPRING BRING OUT GREAT CROWDS

Greater Pittsburgh's streets were thronged last evening. Public opinion was unanimous that spring had arrived. That opinion may be modified today if the storm from the west does not weaken on its way to this city. But in the meantime thousands of well-dressed men and pretty women reveled in the balmy and even languorous atmosphere. No such crowds had been seen downtown for the past five months, except during the holiday shopping season.

PROBLEM IS DIFFICULT ARCHITECTS MUST SOLVE

Technical Schools to Be Built Upon a Steep Grade. Some Buildings Will Be 50 or 60 Feet Higher Than Others.

From an architectural point of view the construction of the Carnegie Technical schools will be one of the largest undertakings of the present time. So declared Arthur A. Hamerschlag, director of the schools, yesterday. The problem confronting the architects who will compete for the plans is a difficult one, as many well-known architects have already learned.

The site for the schools is on a 20-per cent grade, which is now being reduced to a 7 per cent grade. On such a slope the buildings will be constructed. Some, as the director explained, will be 50 to 60 feet higher than others, and the task of presenting a pleasing whole will not be an easy one. This is why, so it is said, only the best architects will enter the competition.

The director, however, is of the opinion that many capable and high-class architects will not consent to become one of the five who are to prepare plans at a remuneration of $1,000 each, regardless of the award, on account of the smallness of the fee. In addition to the actual expenses incurred in preparing the plans, the competitors will be compelled to make several, if not frequent, trips to Pittsburgh for the purpose of looking over the site and conferring with the director.

The program of competition, which is now being prepared by Director Hamerschlag, will be ready by April 15. The director said yesterday that copies of the program would not be sent any and everybody, as some suppose. The office is in daily receipt of letters from architects asking for information about the plans.

The committee will meet this afternoon or Monday afternoon to talk over the architectural competition and possibly select the five architects, or some of them.

On Monday 2,500 tickets to the lectures will be sent out. Inquiries received by the director show that the greater number of people, no matter where they live, prefer to attend the lectures at the Carnegie library, Pittsburgh. He explained that they have the wrong idea entirely, as there will be no distinction in the lectures, which are to be given at various places.

REMARKABLE JUMP OF NORTHERN SECURITIES

Shares Representing Reduced Capital Go from 50 to 225 on Curb.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 25.—One of those curious eccentricities in stocks, which sometimes ocurs, took place today on the curb. The new shares of the Northern Securities Company, representing the reduced capital which will be only $3,954,000, shot upward to $225. They were offered yesterday at that price. Today's rise occurred on very small sales, showing a lack of desire to part with them.

The Northern Securities Company has some valuable assets besides the Northern Pacific and Great Northern shares, which are about to be distributed, although from the announcement that the capital was to be reduced 99 per cent, it was generally assumed the remainder of the assets amounted to only one per cent in value.

It was unofficially stated today that Northern Securities Company will have left about $3,000,000 of Burlington stock and a controlling interest in the stock of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, the exact amount of which was not stated. Burlington stock, on the basis of the joint collateral bonds, would be worth $190 a share, or nearly $6,000,000. This alone would give a value of about $150 to the reduced stock of the Northern Securities Company, assuming the amount of Burlington held is as stated.

FRANK A. PARKER.

DELINQUENTS MUST PAY.

County Tax Collector Mattern Orders Collections Made Promptly.

Robert G. Mattern, county delinquent tax collector, has notified his deputy collectors in the boroughs and townships of Allegheny county that he desires to close his books and that all outstanding taxes due his office must be collected.

Persons owning property can be compelled to pay all accounts due without the necessity of filing liens. This is often done by issuing warrants to constables, who make a levy on personal property to secure the county for the amounts due. The collectors in the townships and boroughs have been taking advantage of the law.

All delinquents are being notified that taxes for 1904 must be paid within 30 days. Many of the deputy collectors have sent out five and 10-day notices to the delinquents.

POLICEMAN SUSPENDED.

Broke Away from Another Officer When Placed Under Arrest.

Policeman Edward Glenn of the reserve force in the downtown district was suspended from the force yesterday by Acting Superintendent Bernard McStay to await the action of the police trial board next Wednesday.

The policeman was arrested by Officer Thomas Kilkary for striking R. Wikeen, a Syrian, at Bedford avenue and Washington street early yesterday morning. Policeman Glenn was in plain clothes and started a quarrel with Wikeen and Officer Kilkary arrested both. Glenn broke away from Kilkary several times and finally escaped. Kilkary reported him to the sergeant and Glenn was ordered to appear at the hearing. Magistrate T. D. Stewart turned the case over to Superintendent McStay, who suspended Glenn.

MAYOR WYMAN GOING TO NATIONAL CONVENTION

He Will Not Be a Delegate, but Takes Pleasure in Such Assemblages.

Mayor James G. Wyman of Allegheny is going to the Republican national convention at Chicago in June. The mayor will not go as a delegate as he did four years ago, but simply as a visitor who takes a pleasure in the scenes attendant upon such an assemblage.

"I would not miss the convention for a thousand dollars," said the mayor yesterday while talking to Chas. F. Kirschler, who will be one of the Twenty-ninth district representatives at Chicago. Mr. Kirschler promised to secure a ticket to the convention for Mayor Wyman. "I think I am entitled to it," said the latter. "A national convention is one of the most beautiful sights I ever witnessed. After seeing the last one I determined to attend the succeeding ones as long as I was able to travel."

It is likely Mayor Wyman will be one of a large party, including Charles F. Kirschler and James H. Willock, the delegates from the Twenty-ninth district, that will go from Allegheny to Chicago. The recent friendly dealings between Kirschler and Wyman are regarded by North Side politicians as significant. Kirschler announced several months ago that he would be a candidate for mayor to succeed Wyman and late developments have resulted in the report that when the time comes Wyman will support Kirschler, and that the present administration will not put a candidate in the field. It was said yesterday that Representative Joseph Stewart of the First legislative district would be Wyman's candidate in the event of a fight between the regular Republicans and Wyman, but Stewart laughed at the story when he was asked about it.

COMPANY TO MANUFACTURE BRICK AND TERRA COTTA

An application for a charter for the Pittsburgh Clay Product Company will be made to the state department on April 14. The incorporators are Thomas B. Freeman, L. D. Strouss, John W. Boileau, W. S. Ravenscroft and George M. Hosack. Murphy & Hosack are solicitors for the company, which will engage in the manufacture of brick, terra cotta and several specialties. The eventual capitalization will be about $50,000. The company has already purchased ground on the outskirts of the city for its plant.

WOMEN ARE ESPECIALLY LIABLE TO COLDS

Colds Invariably Result in Catarrh Which Sets Up a Host of Distressing Diseases.

Pe-ru-na Both Protects and Cures a Cold—Read Proof.

Miss Gertrude Stebbing, Room 202, 36 Lasalle St., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"About a half year ago I contracted a severe cold which settled in my system and finally developed into catarrh of the head, which was very troublesome.

"I had frequent headaches, my eyes smarted and head was stopped up so that I felt dull and stupid all the time.

"I had known of so many people who had used Peruna and been benefited that I was sure that it would do me good and so I bought a couple of bottles and used them. I became better right along and before I had finished the fourth bottle I was cured.

"I am pleased to recommend your medicine for I consider it very good."—Gertrude Stebbing.

There is no fact of medical science better established than that a teaspoonful of Peruna before each meal during the winter season will absolutely protect a person from catching cold. Now if this is true (and there is no doubt of it), thousands of lives would be saved, and tens of thousands of cases of chronic catarrh prevented, by this simple precaution within reach of everyone.

After a cold has been contracted a teaspoonful of Peruna every hour will shortly cure it, leaving no trace of it behind. After chronic catarrh has become established, or the first stages of chronic bronchitis or consumption have been reached, it will take much longer to effect a cure.

It seems strange that as well known and well established as these facts are that anyone should neglect to profit by them, and yet no doubt there are many who pay little or no attention to them, and go on catching cold, acquiring chronic catarrh, bronchitis and consumption.

Miss Cora H. Redmond, 906 W. Monroe St., Chicago, Ill., Financial Secretary West End Histrionic Society, writes:

"For a long time I had been troubled with catarrh of the ear. I had a constant buzzing and a full feeling in the ear. It was annoying and was also affecting my hearing. I had tried a number of doctors and had taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing seemed to help me until I began to take Peruna, and then I noticed an improvement at once, and this went on until complete recovery. I am very grateful to Peruna and cannot say too much for it."—Cora H. Redmond.

Miss Mildred Keller, 718 13th St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I can safely recommend Peruna for catarrh of the throat. I had it for years and it would respond to no kind of treatment, or if it did, it was only temporary, and on the slightest provocation the trouble would come back. I was in such a state that my friends were alarmed about me, and I was advised to leave this climate. Then I tried Peruna, and to my great joy found it helped me from the first dose I took, and a few bottles cured me. It built up my constitution, I regained my appetite, and I feel that I am perfectly well and strong."—Mildred Keller.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

LICENSE COURT WILL HOLD FIRST SATURDAY SESSION

Better Progress Was Made Yesterday, but Judges Are Far Behind the Record.

HEAVY PENALTIES IMPOSED

Judges F. H. Collier and James R. Macfarlane, sitting in the fifth day's sessions of the license court, made a statement yesterday which practically clears away all doubt as to future decisions of the court. When the case of Robert D. Sheppard, Wylie avenue and Congress street, was called, Judge Macfarlane explained that there was little use of the applicant attempting to prove necessity.

"Judge Collier and I have personally gone over this section of the city," said he, "and are fully aware of the existing conditions. Whether we will follow this plan of investigation throughout the county has not been determined. There are many old groggeries in the Hill and other districts which could be eliminated without serious injury to the community, but we are not going to throw the owners of these places out of business unless flagrant violations of the law are proved.

"While new applicants may show that a hotel or eating house is necessary at the place for which they apply, this court will not grant any new licenses unless it is proved beyond all doubt that it is absolutely necessary to have liquor in the house applied for, and then the applicant can state whether he intends to conduct an eating house or a hotel. Liquor should go with lunches; not lunches with liquor."

To the applicant Judge Collier said: "There is nothing against you except the location of the house for which you apply. The court will consent to a withdrawal of the application."

Attorney M. H. Stevenson and the Anti-Saloon league detectives continue to present evidence against many petitioners, and in every instance where an applicant was refused or penalized, it was the result of the detectives' testimony.

The Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and part of the Eighth wards were completed yesterday, 41 applicants being heard, with the following results:

James W. Conant and Joseph Raublitschek, Nixon theater cafe, who had been passed when the Third ward cases were heard, were called at the opening of court yesterday morning. Attorney Stevenson filed an objection to the granting of a license on the ground that the law prohibited a saloon in connection with an amusement house. He claimed that a theater and bar could not be operated in the same building. The testimony was certified to and a test case will be made.

For the first time in the history of the Allegheny county license court a Saturday session will be held today. The court expects to complete the Eighth and Ninth wards today.

LAW INTERFERES IN PENSIONS

Statute Discovered That Seems to Override New Regulation of Bureau.

RELIEF LIES WITH CONGRESS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25.

Pension bureau officials have discovered what they say is a conflict between the section of statutes relating to applications for increase of pensions and the order recently issued by Pension Commissioner Ware granting pensions to civil war veterans who have reached the age of 62. The officials are therefore perplexed over the problem that will confront them when applications for increase under the 62-year rule comes up for their consideration. Section 4689½ of the statutes reads as follows:

"Except in cases of permanent specific disabilities no increase of pension shall be allowed to commence prior to the date of the examining surgeon's certificate establishing the same, made under the pending claim for increase, and in this, as well as in all other cases, the certificates of an examining surgeon or of a board of examining surgeons shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner of pensions."

According to this section, a pensioner who draws his pension under the 62-year rule, must, when he reaches 65, the age set for an increase from $6 to $8, be examined by a surgeon and receive a certificate before he may draw his increase. This examination must be had and the surgeon's certificate issued promptly, else the applicant will lose time getting his increase.

That this is contrary to the spirit of the 62-year-old order is obvious, since it was the idea of those who promulgated it that it should act automatically after a man once got a pension under its provision. At the same time the existing conflict would undoubtedly be decided by pension office officials in favor of the statute, as it is a case of an act of congress against an order of the pension commissioner.

The only way out of the difficulty, it is understood, is for congress to pass an act exempting those applying for increase under the recent order from the provisions of law relating to applicants for increase under other circumstances.

MARK GUY PEARSE STIRS CONGREGATION

The Rev. Dr. Mark G. Pearse, the English preacher, roused the congregation of the North Avenue Methodist church last night. His subject, "Christian Socialism," was a vehicle for the arraignment of self-satisfied church members, intent on saving their own souls, forgetting the souls of their fellow men and women whose lot in life is cast in gloomy places. Dr. Pearse is superintendent of a mission among the poor of London's West End, started 18 years ago. A. M. Schover presided at the meeting last night.

DIRECTOR SCANDRETT MAKES INVESTIGATION

Probes the Charges Against Allegheny Municipal Hospital and Criticises the Kickers.

Director Thomas B. Scandrett of the department of public safety of Allegheny has finished an investigation of the charges made against the management of the municipal hospital, and declares the statements concerning the pesthouse are without foundation.

Councilman Fred Hering of the Twelfth ward several weeks ago said the patients were half-starved and no discipline was maintained.

"I have found," said Director Scandrett last night, "that there is no truth in all that has been said regarding the pesthouse. In the past three weeks I have personally interviewed 50 persons who have received treatment for smallpox in the municipal hospital, and from each I received information that discredits what has been said against the manner in which the place is run.

"Those kept in the hospital free of charge did the kicking. Their complaint was that the food served them was not exactly to their liking. Because they were not served with anything and everything they craved, they made complaints and said they were being treated shamefully. That hospital must be managed within the appropriation set aside for it, but if we had indulged these dissatisfied ones, the money to run the hospital would not have lasted six months.

"In each case where a patient paid for the care he got, I have found no complaints, yet every one ate at the same table and each got exactly what was served the others.

"From Dr. W. H. Gardner, the hospital physician in charge of the commissary department, I learned that some of the kickers wanted food that would have killed them. A smallpox patient cannot eat everything without serious consequences. Mr. Hering was the only person who had the courage to go before the public with his charges, and I have found that he was misinformed. There are but five patients in the hospital and all are convalescing. Besides these there are four cases outside. Within another fortnight Allegheny will be free from smallpox, and after the experience we have had there is little chance of it ever getting another foothold here."

COCKRAN WILL ATTEND.

New Yorker Writes Col. Guffey That He Will Speak at Erie Banquet.

Col. J. M. Guffey yesterday received a letter from Bourke Cockran of New York announcing that he would be one of the orators at the banquet to be given by the Erie Democratic city committee on the evening of April 7. He said that Congressman David A. DeArmond of Missouri, would also respond to a toast.

The Erie banquet is to be an affair of importance in state Democratic circles. There will be 500 invited guests. Col. Guffey, ex-Gov. R. E. Pattison, Robert E. Wright, Col. Frank Fitzsimmons and other leaders of the party in the state will be present.

LINCOLN, NEB., March 25.—W. H. Harrison, of Grand Island, withdrew today as a candidate for governor. This leaves Governor Mickey with no opposition.

NEW COUNCILMAN'S SEAT MAY BE CONTESTED

John Maslowski Remained on City Payroll After His Election.

The right of John Maslowski, one of the newly-elected Citizens members of common council from the Twenty-seventh ward, to take his seat may be contested. Maslowski was a city employe when elected and it is claimed that this made his election invalid. He was employed in the bureau of construction at $75 a month.

He was first elected on February 16, but drew his pay until the first of March. Director E. M. Bigelow certified to the payroll for February, as he does for every month. Although Director Bigelow certified to the pay-roll by which Maslowski secured his pay for the full month of February, the director claimed yesterday that Maslowski resigned on February 15, the day before the election.

He said he had Maslowski's resignation in his possession but was unable to find it. Director Bigelow declared that Maslowski may have remained at work the rest of the month, but he could draw no pay for it, and he would probably have to pay back to the city treasurer a half month's salary.

FEW BOYS SHOW UP FOR THE EXAMINATION

Only Nine in Two Congressional Districts Want to Go to Annapolis or West Point.

With two vacancies to be filled in the naval academy at Annapolis, and with one appointment to West Point to be secured only 10 boys in two big congressional districts want to go.

Yesterday the examinations for fitness to enter the two academies was begun at the Margaretta school house. Congressman H. Kirke Porter has a place at Annapolis and another at West Point at his disposal and Congressman James W. Brown has an appointment to Annapolis in his hands. Only two of the nine boys who are staying through the examination live in Congressman Brown's district and are trying for that one appointment. The others are from Porter's district.

The examiners are Director Edward Reynearson, of the Pittsburgh High school; Prof. J. P. Stephens, of the Highland school, and D. L. Gillespie, president of the central board of education, for the Porter appointments. For the Brown appointment Director Reynearson, Prof. A. C. McLean, of the Luckey school, and Prof. T. J. George, principal of the Carnegie High school, are the examiners.

WELLSVILLE IN LEAD.

Columbiana County Throws No Votes to Author of Delegate System.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., March 25.—(Special.)—The first primaries under the new delegate system in Columbiana county, proposed by Druggist Trimble of Salem, were held today. The strange feature is that the man who proposed the law didn't get a vote.

The main contest was for county auditor. There are 151 delegates to the convention, which meets at Lisbon tomorrow, and Prof. J. L. McDonald of Wellsville leads in the fight, with 65. Sheets of Hanover has 44, Hamilton of Lisbon 22, and Holmes of Salem 20. The number necessary for a nomination is 76. A special train will leave here for Lisbon tomorrow with an enthusiastic crowd on board.

At the primaries indorsement was given to James Kennedy, for congress, Peter A. Lauble, for circuit judge, and W. W. Hole for common pleas judge.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF RHEUMATISM

Joseph Laughran
A WELL KNOWN PITTSBURGH MAN TELLS A REMARKABLE STORY OF CURE

If it was not for the fact that Mr. Laughran is known to me to be perfectly reliable and trustworthy in his statements I would find it difficult myself to credit his remarkable story. Read what he says. If you doubt, go and see him or write him a letter.—MUNYON.

Mr. Laughran's Story

Munyon's Paw-Paw has effected a wonderful cure for me. I was troubled with rheumatism varying from severe sciatica and lumbago to intense rheumatic pains. At times I was bordering on helplessness. My physician told me that it was in my blood. He failed to relieve me and I tried several largely advertised remedies, all of which left me in the same condition. A few weeks ago, at the earnest advice of a friend, I purchased a bottle of Munyon's Paw-Paw. Before I had finished half of the bottle I felt a great relief. My indigestion was dispelled and I could sleep comfortably. Before finishing the second bottle I found permanent relief. My blood now circulates properly, my appetite and digestion is excellent and every symptom of rheumatic pains is gone. I do not know of such a beneficial tonic as Paw-Paw.

Catarrh of Stomach Cured With One Bottle of Paw-Paw

I was a severe sufferer with Catarrh of the Stomach, indigestion and grippe. I used numerous remedies with but periodical benefit. I tried Munyon's Paw-Paw and before I had finished half a bottle I felt as I had not felt before since contracting the terrible ill. By the time the first bottle had been used I was perfectly cured, and, although it has been more than a month since I used that wonderful tonic, I have not had the least sign of returning trouble. I can heartily recommend Paw-Paw, feeling that it has permanently cured me. (Signed) WM. BRAY, 419 Federal St., Allegheny City, Pa.

Such startling cures have heretofore been unknown in the history of medicine. Druggists and doctors say that nothing like it was ever known. Sufferers from Dyspepsia, Nervousness or Sleeplessness or sufferers from any form of Catarrh or Rheumatism should lose no time if they want to get well. Go to the nearest drug store today and get a bottle of Paw-Paw and let the good work go on. No waiting for results with Paw-Paw. The process of cure begins with the first dose and improvement is constant until the cure is complete.

SENATOR BURTON MAKES DEFENSE

Explains Connection With Rialto Company—Denies Attempts to Influence Officials.

HE IS NOT CROSS-EXAMINED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, March 25.—Previous to the defense resting its case United States Senator Joseph R. Burton of Kansas took the stand in his own behalf in connection with the charge of having illegally accepted fees from the Rialto Grain and Securities Company of St. Louis. He was not cross-examined by the government. Senator Burton testified that he had accepted the offer of the Rialto company to act as its general counsel because he had lost heavily in a financial panic and needed the $500 for which his contract called. He further said:

I was assured by the company that my services would not be needed in Washington in any capacity. It was explained that Maj. Dennis, president of the Rialto company, had become involved in trouble growing out of the operations of the Brooks Brokerage Company and that part of my duties would be to defend him in any criminal action that would be brought against him. The Rialto company was also to have the use of my name and my services were to have been used in connection with a securities department of the Rialto company, which at that time was projected. I expected to familiarize myself with the condition of the corporations offering the securities for sale and become acquainted with the officers of the trust companies which make a specialty of handling securities of that character.

Senator Burton testified that he had received a letter from Thomas Harlan, local attorney for the Rialto company, notifying him of his appointment as general counsel on November 20, 1902. He further said:

Reference was made in that letter to the indictments of Maj. Dennis, and I called upon Chief Postoffice Inspector Cochran. I asked him whether Dennis had been indicted and told him that if it was done I expected to assist in his defense. Cochran told me that he did not know anything about it. I wished to satisfy myself regarding its standing in the department. I told Inspector Cochran that should anything come to his notice in the nature of the complaint against the Rialto company I wished that he would call my attention to it, as I could not afford to be connected with a company that did not obey the laws.

Senator Burton denied he had ever indicated to Inspector Cochran his intention to interfere with the processes of the department or to intimate to him (Cochran) to refrain from taking any action in the complaints against the Rialto company. Senator Burton explained his visit to the postoffice department with Maj. Dennis. He said Maj. Dennis came to Washington to consult him in regard to the indictment that had been returned against him by the federal grand jury. He introduced him to Cochran. The events that transpired were substantially the same as were mentioned by Mr. Cochran in his testimony.

Judge Krum asked:

Inspector Cochran stated in his testimony that you had expressed a desire to him to form a practice before the departments in Washington. Did you do so?

Senator Burton replied:

I told Mr. Cochran that other senators and representatives had built up large private practices during their terms of office, and that I, in a small way, desired to emulate them. I told him that I was general counsel for the Rialto company of St. Louis and asked him as a matter of friendship to tell me if at any time I did wrong. Mr. Cochran and I are from the same state.

Mr. Burton denied that at any time had he ever said anything that could be construed to mean that his purpose was meant to influence, in the performance of their official duties, either Mr. Cochran, the postmaster general, the fourth assistant postmaster general, or the assistant attorney general in charge of postoffice affairs.

WOULD SAVE MURDERER UNDER TREATY OF 1803

Missouri Lawyer Making Novel Plea to Save Man from Execution Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

UNION, MO., March 25.—Upon the novel plea that the 1803 treaty with France for the cession of the Louisiana purchase to the United States is involved, a motion for a new trial was made today to save George Collins from execution here tomorrow for the killing of Detective Schumacher.

The claim of Collins' attorney is that the treaty with France gurantees to the inhabitants of the ceded territory full protection of the constitution of the United States. The fifth amendment to that constitution provides that no person should be held to answer for a capital crime unless on due presentment or indictment by the grand jury. It is alleged the information filed against Collins lacked supporting affidavits.

ASSAULT MADE ON A DETECTIVE

Anti-Saloon League Officer Is Struck from Behind While Leaving Court House.

JUDGES MAY TAKE ACTION

The bitter feeling and violent threats of several saloonkeepers in the lower wards of the city against the special detectives employed by the Anti-Saloon league culminated yesterday in a murderous assault upon Detective W. J. Manning as he was leaving the court house after the noon adjournment of license court. The attack was made from behind, but, owing to the interference of spectators, the officer escaped without serious injury.

Persons in attendance at the license court had expected trouble of this kind for several days. Threats against the lives of the detectives have openly been made in the courtroom, particularly during the hearing of applicants from the Second ward. The officers had unearthed conditions in this district which astounded the court, and it looked for a time as though one or two of the hearings might wind up with a fight in the courtroom.

The detectives knew that they were being followed for the last three days and stayed in each other's company for safety's sake. Detectives I. L. Berry and N. C. Starkey left the court before the noon adjournment yesterday, leaving Detective Manning alone. The latter had just stepped from one of the Grant street doors when he was accosted by a rough-looking man, who began to curse him for giving testimony against saloonkeepers.

Manning pushed past the fellow and had reached the curb when he was struck a terrific blow from behind which felled him to the street. The assailant began kicking him until forced to desist by a number of spectators. Manning regained his feet in time to see two of the men running down Grant street toward Third avenue and the other two retreating into the court house. He followed the latter, but they ran along the corridor and out the Ross street entrance.

The officer went back to the courtroom and reported the assault to Attorney M. N. Stevenson of the Anti-Saloon league, who began an investigation at once. He refused to discuss the matter at length, but admitted that he knew the identity of the assailants.

A consultation will be held this morning between Attorney Stevenson and C. E. Page, county superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, and it is expected that the whole matter will be laid before Judges F. H. Collier and James R. Macfarlane, who are sitting in the license court.

SCOTTDALE GETS PLANT.

Process of a Pittsburgh Man for Refining Iron to Be Used.

SCOTTDALE, PA., March 25.—(Special.)—At a meeting held last night the remaining shares of stock in the new iron refining company were subscribed and the location of the plant in Scottdale settled definitely. The concern will be known as the Robinson Iron and Steel Company being named for the inventor of the refining process, Richard Robinson of Pittsburgh. Ordinary pig iron will be taken from the blast furnace direct to the converters in the refining plant. The finished product turned out is said to be equal if not superior to the finest grades of Swedish iron. A committee of the stockholders will visit Washington, Pa., in a few days to witness a practical demonstration of the process.

It is expected to have the plant in operation within six months. The plant at the start will employ 150 men with an output of about 50 tons a day.

Water Famine at Homestead.

The intake pipe at the Homestead water works is again clogged with mud and debris from the Monongahela river, and the borough is without a water supply. A diver will be sent down to clean out the pipe today.

HANNA MEMORIAL HIGHLY FAVORED

Letters Commending College Chair Plan Received from Root, Hay and Others.

TRUSTEES ARE ANNOUNCED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, March 25.—At a meeting of the Hanna Memorial Chair association today, the following full list of trustees was announced: Governor Herrick, Secretary of State Hay, United States Senator Dick, Governor Durbin of Indiana; John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers; Hon. F. M. Atterholt, Akron, and the following prominent residents of Cleveland: Rev. J. S. Rutledge, State Senator J. W. Stewart, F. A. Henry, W. R. Hopkins, J. B. Zerbe, Judge T. K. Disette, Elmer Dover, W. G. Oswald, H. R. Hatch, L. E. Holden, Harris Creech, Samuel W. Meek, United States Marshal Chandler and F. H. Haserot. It is the purpose of the association to raise by popular subscription $150,000 to endow in Western Reserve university the Marcus A. Hanna Chair of Political Science. It is desired that all contributions be forwarded to Harris Creech, treasurer, 43 Colonial Arcade, Cleveland.

A large number of letters from men prominent in public life commending the movement have been received. Ex-Secretary of War Root wrote as follows:

It seems to me very fitting that means should be taken to commemorate the public services and good citizenship of Senator Hanna, and I do not know of any better way of doing it than the one suggested of establishing a department of political science in the Western Reserve university. I have not known anything more extraordinary in our political life than the way in which Mark Hanna's strong business sense and business experience grew during a very few years into real statesmanship. He was the most conspicuous possible example of the business man in politics with success. He began with politics in a narrow sense and ended up with politics in the broadest sense.

Secretary of State Hay and United States Supreme Court Justice Day expressed similar commendation of the senator's career and approval of the method taken to perpetuate his memory. Letters were also received from Hon. Levi P. Morton, Senators Lodge, Beveridge, Dolliver, Wetmore and Hoar; Congressmen McCall, William Alden Smith and Grosvenor; Governor Durbin, of Indiana; Ex-Secretary John D. Long, Justice Brewer, of the supreme court; Judge Grosscup, President Hadley, of Yale; President Gilman, of the Carnegie institute, and many others.

INSPECT SOMERSET SITE.

Army Officers Investigate as to Availability for Maneuvers in September.

SOMERSET, PA., March 25.—(Special.)—Colonel Heistand and Captain Moss of General Corbin's staff, U. S. A., were at Somerset to inspect the camp site of 30,000 acres offered to the government by W. A. Scott of Pittsburgh. Accompanying the officers were Captain George M. Lehman of the U. S. corps of engineers at Pittsburgh, and Captain Charles Tayman, U. S. A., who is at Somerset on a furlough.

The mission today was to inspect the site with a view to holding there next September the fall maneuvers of the eastern division of the regular army.

The officers state that Somerset offers many natural advantages for an army camp site, but that they would first make their report of the inspection to General Corbin.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

MAYOR OF BUTLER WARNS THE PUBLIC

Any Collections Now Made Are by Impostors—Town People Need No Aid.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BUTLER, PA., March 25.—Reports have been coming to Butler of collections still being made in other towns for the benefit of the fever sufferers here. It has been said that these collections are being made on the authority given some time ago when relief was needed. Mayor William M. Kennedy tonight issued the following statement to the public:

"We have ample funds for any further relief that may be needed here and no one has any authority to collect any more money for aid in Butler. The Red Cross society has closed its rooms and the general relief committee is taking care of any person needing aid now, with sufficient funds to complete all the relief that is necessary. I desire to warn the people of the country that any person now collecting money for this purpose is doing so without authority and that positively Butler is in no further need of financial assistance. I would ask the authorities of cities where collections are being made for Butler fever sufferers to put a stop to them."

TRAINMEN FIND BOUND MAN ON THE TRACKS

Later Again Compelled to Rescue Him from Assailants. Three Attacks Made.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., March 25.—Herman Hermanski of Honey Pot, nine miles south of here, was found gagged and tied to the railroad tracks on the Susquehanna Coal Company mining property, near Nanticoke, this morning. A coal train, run by Engineer Harry Lohman, was stopped a short distance from him, having been running slowly when the body was seen on the track ahead, and the man was released.

He started down the road and had not gone 100 yards before the train crew heard shouts for help. They ran to his assistance and two men, who were attacking him disappeared. Later he was escorted home by Chief of Police Oldfield. A previous attack had been made in a lonely section of the road while he was returning from the theater at Nanticoke. He was attacked and beaten, but escaped and ran back to Nanticoke. He started again when the assault and tieing to the railroad tracks occurred. Hermanski claims he does not know his assailants, has no enemies and was not robbed.

COSHOCTON CHILD WALKS LONG WAY WHILE SLEEPING

COSHOCTON, O., March 25.—(Special.)—Doris Crowthers, nine years old, with her parents attended the theater, last night and fell asleep in her father's arms. At the close of the play the father set her down on her feet and in the crowd she became separated from her parents, who thought she had gone on ahead. The child walked eight blocks to Oak Ridge cemetery down the Panhandle tracks and then retraced her steps as far as Simon Fisher's home, where a dog ran out and barked at her. She awakened and screamed in fright. Mr. Fisher took her home.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

KITTANNING—The 3-year-old son of Clint Waugaman of Edgewood was burned to death, his clothing catching from a gas stove.

GREENSBURG—The rig of Frederick W. Chichester, president of the Westmoreland Grocery Company, was struck by a train yesterday and the horse killed. Chichester's right arm was fractured and he suffered other injuries.

EBENSBURG—The jury in the trial of William Bell of Johnstown, charged, with John Gibbony and Dan French, of killing C. A. Hall, alias Pond, the night of December 23, returned a verdict of not guilty. This practically sets the other men free also.

KITTANNING—The Kittanning and Ford City street railway is to be extended to Leechburg, where it will connect with the proposed line to Arnold. From Arnold lines connect to Creighton. A road is in operation from Pittsburgh to Verona, and is constructed to Hulton. Six miles of new road and a bridge at Hulton would give a through trolley line from Kittanning to Pittsburgh.

ARE BLINDED BY CHEAP SENTIMENT

Claim Made We Should Shake Off Anglo-Saxon Hypocrisy Against Russia.

DEFENSE OF CZAR'S POLICY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—The struggle in the far east was the subject under discussion tonight at the monthly meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. The principal address was made by William Dudley Foulke of Washington, United States civil service commissioner; Prof. Lindley Miller of Bryn Mawr college; Former Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith, who was United States minister to Russia during President Harrison's administration, and Brig.-Gen. James H. Wilson, U. S. A.

William Dudley Foulke read a paper upon "The Causes of the War in the Far East and the Issues Involved." In an able manner he traced the diplomatic and military events leading to the war, especially touching upon the issues relating to the fate of China. He contended that our comercial interests there were not so vital as the far reaching political questions connected with Russia's aspirations for supremacy in the Celestial empire.

In his opinion all nations that take thought of the future of humanity should take steps to stay the aggressions of the colossal empire whose conquest threatens a lasting calamity to the essentials of modern civilization.

Prof. Keasby likened the far eastern situation to another example of David challenging Goliath. He thinks Russia need give no apology and believes that if America were to shake off its Anglo-Saxon hypocrisy we would see the war situation in its true light and the sympathy for Japan would not be so marked. In conclusion he said:

The task of exclusion has fallen to Russia's share. It was Russia who finally drove back the Tartar hordes; Russia it is who has kept the Turk at bay. This is something for civilization, is it not? And what has been Russia's reward? Some of the continental states stand by her, to be sure, but what shall we say to England's policy, practically allying herself with the unspeakable Turk and robbing Russia of the full fruits of her hard-earned victory?

Hence, however much we may admire the Japanese, and even though we no longer cherish friendship for the Russians, still I believe in our own interests, in the interests of white man's civilization, we should take the yellow peril into account and pause a bit before we range ourselves even sentimentally on the side of Japan.

Charles Emory Smith, in taking up the discussion, said that no one will challenge the right of Japan to provide for her own protection, and that by every right of national life and safety she is entitled to take care that Korea shall not be in the hands of a hostile or unfriendly or menacing power. Speaking of Russia's rights, Mr. Smith said:

Russia built the Siberian railroad, and she wanted a free outlet to the sea. When the lower Mississippi was in the hands of Spain, and then of France, all our statesmen said we were going to have a free outlet to the gulf even if we had to fight for it and take both banks of the river; but in America this was necessary to commercial freedom and expansion, while in Rusia the effort for a free outlet is lawless aggression.

Russia leased the Liao Tung peninsula and obtained a concession for the Manchurian railroad, with the right to guard and protect it. In 1811, while Florida fully belonged to Spain, our troops marched into Florida and took possession; but in the republic of the United States that was constructive statesmanship, while in the empire of Russia it is shameless land-grabbing.

There was Japan entirely right in guarding against any menace to Korea, and there was Russia holding on to Manchuria, which was next door to Korea, and likely, unless opposed, to stretch her paw over Korea.

Mr. Smith said that in the event Russia should be victorious in the war now in progress the probable result would be an agreement among the European nations for the partition of China.

"To this division," he said, "each power would control its own territory and as we do not want and would not have any territory, we would not have an equal chance. Such a result would certainly be unwelcome."

ARMED MEN GUARD AGAINST FIREBUGS

Three More Incendiary Blazes at Fairmont, Making Eleven Since Monday.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

FAIRMONT, W. VA., March 25.—Three fires, two of which were proved to be of incendiary origin, took place in Fairmont today making a total of 11 since last Monday. At an early hour the watchman at the Kelley lumber yards on the South Side saw a negro approach a stack of lumber with a bunch of lighted paper, which he placed under the wood. Two shots were fired at the negro but he escaped, as the watchman was compelled to battle with the fire, which was extinguished without much damage to the property. At noon the home of Councilman Clark McKinney of the First ward was found to be on fire near the roof. Several hundred dollars' loss was sustained.

This afternoon an incendiary fired a pile of straw in the cutting room of a barn on Fourth street and the building was in flames, when the fire was discovered. The property was not badly damaged.

Tonight the streets are thronged with armed citizens, who are either guarding property or trying to catch members of the gang of incendiaries.

PENNSYLVANIA READY TO MEET COMPETITION

Will Standardize Waynesburg & Washington, If Wabash Builds Greene County Line.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., March 25.—Julius LeMoyne, a director and member of the right-of-way board of the Waynesburg & Washington Railroad Company, controlled by the Pennsylvania, in an interview today said:

"Yes, it is true that our committee has made a selection of the route in case the road is standardized. There are three routes now surveyed, all three centering at two common points, connecting with the belt line in the Tylerdale vicinity and at Van Kirks. In the event of a change there will be about four lines or road to build. Bids have already been submitted for the work, which will amount to $50,000 to $75,000 a mile. In this distance there will be but one tunnel. This cost also includes the right-of-way. The grade will be 1½ per cent. The standardizing of the road will depend upon the movements of the Gould people in their plan for a tide-water route by pushing work on the Greene county line. The road will be a great source of advantage to the farmers of the southern part of Washington county and of Greene county, for many have not yet sold their coal. This project will increase the value of coal. The distance from Washington to Pittsburgh by the selected survey will shorten the distance just one mile."

Gentlemen---the clothing question confronts you

IT behooves every man considering the question of clothes buying to first of all come to "The Big Store," because—the stock here is three times the size of the next biggest in Pittsburgh; that's certain: because—the Kaufmann clothing represents the highest attainment in sartorial art; that's equally certain; and because "The Big Store's" prices in every grade are fully 25% below those of others; this is as certain a fact as the other two—and all three are very easily proven. Accordingly, if you appreciate the import of these three great factors you will buy your Spring suit, top coat or trousers at "The Big Store." Our present stock is without a peer in this vicinity—it embraces every new and correct idea, garments that measure up to the exacting requirements of the most particular and critical dressers—garments that possess the merits of distinctiveness, character and individuality not surpassed by the most exclusive custom tailor product.

Men's clothing at $7.50 and $10.00

At these two prices we show suits of good all-wool material, in at least a score of patterns. The coats at the latter price have hand-padded lapels and collars, and hand-worked button holes. Men's clothing at $12.00 and $15.00

A little higher up the ladder of quality are our $12 and $15 suits and top coats. They are garments that almost any man will take pride in wearing. They are on a par with the $15 and $20 grades of other good clothing stores—read this paragraph twice—for it means just what it says. BRITT DEFEATED YOUNG CORBETT IN 20 ROUNDS

DECISION IS GIVEN TO JIMMY BRITT

Battle Went the Limit and California Boy Had the Best of Last Five Rounds.

IT WAS A BLOODY BATTLE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WOODWARDS PAVILION, SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Not since the days when Jack Dempsey and Peter Jackson battled for fame and fortune in San Francisco has such intense interest been displayed nor has the pugilistic world witnessed such scenes as these which were enacted at Woodward's pavilion tonight, when the world's champion feather-weight, "Young Corbett" of Denver and Jimmy Britt, the California light-weight, faced each other to settle the question of fistic supremacy.

Tonight when the doors of the newly-remodeled Woodward's pavilion, with its limited seating capacity, were thrown open to the public, a great crowd was clamoring for admission. When the bell summoned the principals in the main event to the center of the ring there were about 8,000 spectators. The club officials stated that the receipts would total about $40,000, which is the greatest amount ever contested for by fighters of Corbett's and Britt's calibre. Included in the assemblage were prominent sporting men from all over the country.

Both pugilists weighed in tonight, and, as had been predicted, both failed to budge the bar at the 130 notch. Britt's exact weight was 129, while that of Corbett was not given to the public.

There was little change in the betting situation this evening. Corbett was a pronounced favorite at odds which fluctuated from 10 to 6 to 10 to 5½. At 8:30 p. m. the indications were that, owing to the increase of Britt money the odds would go to 10 to 7. The betting, which had been apathetic considering the great interest displayed in the contest, revived tonight with a suddenness that literally swamped the pool sellers. Corbett wagered $2,500 against $1,500 that he would be returned the winner, while Britt placed $500 against $900 on his own chances. It was rumored that the champion had $5,000 or over to place at odds of 10 to 3 that he would win inside of 12 rounds.

Corbett smiled confidently to his friends around the ringside. His condition appeared to be perfect.

A batch of challenges was received and read by Announcer Jordan. Buddy Ryan, Eddie Hanlon and Kid Herman challenged the winner of the fight. Numerous local celebrities also were there with challenges, among them being Spider Welch and Jack Corbett.

A telegram was received from Sam Harris, challenging the winner on behalf of Terry McGovern at 130 pounds. Corbett announced that in the event of his winning he will accept McGovern's offer.

On the result of the fight hung fully $250,000 in wagers. This estimate was given out by prominent sporting men and is considered conservative.

Britt won the battle, doing all the fighting in the last four rounds.

ROUND ONE—After maneuvering for an opening Corbett laced out with left twice, but Britt cleverly blocked them. Two similar attempts also went wild, as did a straight left by Britt for the face. Both then missed uppercuts, a right by Corbett and a left by Britt. Corbett was again short with a left lead. Quick as a flash Britt then hooked his left to the body and quickly followed with right and left to the jaw. They then clinched without damage. Corbett planted a left swing to Jimmy's ribs and missed a left swing for the face. A moment later, however, a straight left caught Britt on the face. They then went to a mixup without result and the gong sounded. Careful fighting marked this round, with Britt having a slight lead. Both men looked very determined and timed their blows carefully.

ROUND TWO—They closed in and Britt tried with left and right for the face, but Corbett blocked them. Again they mixed it, Britt putting his left hard to the body. He almost floored the champion with a fearful left to the body. Corbett fought back wildly and received a left swing to the jaw that nearly put him to the floor. Corbett's face took on a worried look. He rushed in, but was met with a straight left to the body that sent him back to the ropes. They closed in and Corbett missed several vicious left and right swings for the jaw. Britt jabbed with straight lefts to the face and Corbett swung right hard twice to Britt's kidneys. The second blow was a hard one. They mixed it and Corbett planted his right and left on Britt's jaw. The bell rang and the seconds ran in and separated the men. Corbett had all the better of the infighting and Britt was warned by his seconds to keep his distance. Corbett had a slight lead in this round.

ROUND FIVE—They went at it at close range, Corbett doing much execution with short-arm right and left swings. When they broke away Britt hooked his left twice to the body. Britt tried with left for the jaw, but Corbett cleverly brushed it aside. Britt rushed Corbett to the ropes, but the champion sent him back with right to the body. Corbett rushed in, but was met with a straight left to the body and left to the face. Corbett retaliated with a fierce right to the jaw, but Britt sent the champion against the ropes with a fearful left to the stomach. They then mixed it, but no damage resulted. Britt sent in a straight left to the face and Corbett stalled until the sound of the bell. Britt had a shade in this round and looked more confident. His body blows did not appear to suit the champion, who clinched repeatedly in this round.

ROUND SIX—They rushed into a mix in which Corbett swung right and left to the jaw, but these were offset by two vicious lefts that Britt sent to the champion's stomach. A moment later Britt's left sank into Corbett's stomach, but Corbett sent in two lightning lefts to the face that sent Britt back. Corbett nearly went to his knees from a missed right swing. A straight left by Corbett for the stomach was blocked by Britt, who countered with right on the stomach. Corbett was wild with a left swing, Britt getting in a straight left to the body. Quick as a flash Corbett whipped his left to Britt's jaw, sending his head back. It was a vicious blow and Jimmy fought desperately, landing a left over Corbett's eye that tore that member open. It was a hard finish to a round in which honors were even.

ROUND SEVEN—Britt missed two lefts for the body and received a short-arm jolt to the face from Corbett's left. Corbett missed a terrific right uppercut and they clinched, Corbett landing several rights over the kidneys. Both men had badly discolored eyes. Britt sent a terrific right to the jaw and followed it with a hard left to the body that forced the champion to clinch. They went at it hammer and tongs, Britt having much the better of a fierce rally. In this round Britt outfought Corbett in the mixes, Corbett repeatedly stalling. Corbett swung wildly with right and a moment later landed a fearful right uppercut to the jaw. Both men fought fiercely, giving and taking considerable punishment. It was a comparatively even round. If anything Britt kept his head better than the champion and landed the cleaner blows.

ROUND EIGHT—Britt reached body with left and then began to mix it. Britt sent him reeling with a right on the jaw. They fought savagely, Britt landing cleaner blows. Corbett was fought to a standstill. He saved his strength and began to send in rights on Britt's jaw. Jim took them all and fought back. Britt was having the better of the round when Corbett sent him reeling with a right on the jaw. Then Britt began to unload lefts and rights again and every one of them landed. Corbett was carried to the ropes and his head was kept jerking from side to side. Britt actually grew tired of punching him. Corbett used left and right uppercuts. The last blow struck was a right swing by Britt. It caught Corbett on the eye. Britt's round.

ROUND NINE—Corbett uppercut with a right to the face. Corbett seemed fresher and went in after Britt, but did not land. Britt seemed content to rest after his exertions of the previous round. Corbett landed two straight lefts to the jaw and forced Britt on the defensive. Corbett followed it with right and left swing to the jaw and they mixed it. Britt missing a left hook for the body. Britt drove a left swing to Corbett's cheek, starting the blood. Corbett then uppercut with right to the face, starting the blood afresh from Britt's eye. The round closed in Corbett's favor, Britt contenting himself with resting and acting mostly on the defensive.

ROUND TEN—They immediately mixed it and Britt blocked several rights and lefts for the body. Britt then swang his left twice to Corbett's ear and then jabbed a straight left to the champion's face. Corbett rocked Jimmy's head with short-arm swings, and in a mix-up put a hard right to the jaw. Britt missed a right for the jaw and an attempt by Corbett to counter was blocked. The pace slackened considerably over the previous round. Britt sent a straight left to the face and missed a left swing for the jaw. They then exchanged hard rights to the face. Britt sent Corbett's head back with a right hook to his sore eye. He rushed Corbett to the ropes, but failed to connect. As the bell sounded Britt reopened Corbett's eye with a straight left. It was a hard fight and both men again went to their corners with blood flowing all over them from damaged faces. Corbett's seconds worked hard on the champion's eye, which was badly swollen.

ROUND ELEVEN—Corbett bored in with hard right to the kidneys. A mix followed, Britt missing two lefts for the face and Corbett putting in two rights to the face. The referee had his hands full separating the combatants. Britt missed a left for the jaw and a right by the champion landed on Britt's face. They clinched repeatedly. Corbett missed several rights for the face and held on to Britt, for which he was hissed. Both men appeared tired. Corbett was very wild with two uppercuts for the jaw, as was also two rights for the face by Britt. In a mix up against the ropes Corbett sent in left and right to the jaw and Jimmy looked very tired as the bell rang. It was the champion's round.

ROUND TWELVE—Britt opened the ball with a left on the eye and then mixed it, putting in straight left and right on face. Corbett bided his time. Corbett tried twice to ram in a right heart blow. Corbett got in hard left on body and Britt paid him back in kind. Corbett poked straight left on stomach and left on face. Britt ducked a left and clinched. Corbett swung hard left on jaw and then they sparred a while. Corbett took to standing off and then jumping in with straight lefts on face. He landed a number of them. Corbett ducked from a blow and Britt missed a chance to nail him as he straightened up.

ROUND THIRTEEN—Corbett went close and began swinging for the head. Britt smothered and clinched. They pushed along the ropes while holding on, and Corbett sent in more body blows. Graney separated them many times. Britt put in left on eye and Corbett dealt him two left jolts on the side of the head. Corbett scored right uppercut while holding. Corbett blocked Britt's right for body and got out of the way of two swings for the head. They clinched at the ropes and Graney split them apart again. Corbett reached face twice with hard left swings and blocked Jimmy's left stomach punch. Two glancing right-handers caught Britt on the forehead just before the bell rang. The round was not as fierce as some of the others.

ROUND FOURTEEN—Britt drove him to the ropes and drove left on ear. Jimmy caught a right-hander on his elbow. He blocked another and still another and they clinched and pushed across the mat. Another right from Corbett landed on Britt's guard arm and Britt hooked him on stomach with left. In a clinch Corbett walloped Britt with an overhand right. Graney had to part them again. Corbett was mixed, but kept rapping in body digs in the clinches. Britt hooked him a hot one in the stomach and ducked a right swing. Corbett nailed him with a left upper swing, which landed between the eyes, and Corbett then sent in three straight uppercuts in succession. Britt was hurt and held on. Corbett's round.

ROUND FIFTEEN—Corbett ducked left swing and went to clinch. He then rushed Britt savagely, uppercutting him with lefts and rights and making his head rock. Britt got back with one hard left on stomach and then tried holding on. Corbett stung him with uppercuts and Britt broke away again and used left three times on body. Corbett kept after him and smashed him on the jaw with rights. Britt seemed to be on the verge of collapse, but he tried to crouch and fight back. Corbett stood away for a while and Britt hooked him to stomach with left. Then Corbett started slugging again. He planted right uppercuts under Britt's chin and right swings on the side of the face. Britt stood his ground, and when Corbett dropped his arms for an instant smashed him on the body with left.

ROUND SIXTEEN—Britt went in and began to slug. Corbett bowed his head and let go overhand rights. Jimmy made the pace and Corbett covered his face with his forearms. It was plain as day that Britt was tiring and that Corbett was playing a tricky game. Corbett stood erect even while the crowd cheered Britt and punished the local boy with right uppercuts and savage body blows. There was a good deal of clinching and Graney split them up often. Corbett rained rights on Britt's jaw, but although swayed on his feet he did not budge. He freshened up and was beating Corbett back to the ropes when the round ended.

ROUND SEVENTEEN—They went at it hammer and tongs, Britt sending his right and left to the jaw, forcing Corbett to stall. Britt then sent in two straight lefts to the face and blocked a desperate right swing by Corbett. Britt landed several punches to Corbett's stomach and missed a hard right for the jaw. Desperate fighting followed, both men appearing almost tired out, and Corbett clinched. Britt sent Corbett against the ropes with a straight left to the body. Corbett fought wildly, and they mixed it with Britt uppercutting Corbett on the face and body with left. It was a gruelling tussle, Britt having all the better of it. The bell stopped hostilities. It was Britt's round by a wide margin. Britt received a tremendous ovation as he took his seat, his wonderfully ability to take punishment and recuperate delighted the crowd.

ROUND EIGHTEEN—Corbett rushed in, trying to force Brit to fight in close. He got more than he bargained for, Britt raining right and left swings on his face that nearly sent him to the floor. Corbett clinched in desperation, the referee trying to part them. As they parted Britt sent in right and left to the face, but a well directed right by Corbett caught him in the stomach. They fought fiercely, both taking very hard blows. Britt tried to keep Corbett at a distance, but the latter was too shrewd and forced Britt to close quarters. They mixed it and were in this position when the gong sounded. It was a terrific round, closing in Britt's favor. During the intermission someone proposed three cheers for Britt, and it was kept up until the men came together.

ROUND NINETEEN—Britt forced Corbett to the ropes, sending left and right to the jaw. Corbett then scored heavily with his right on the body and left to the face. They worked toward the center of the ring, where Britt swung a hard left on Corbett's face. Corbett ducked a left and right uppercut and countered with a straight left to the head and a right hook to the jaw. Both men again fought desperately, Britt rocking Corbett's head with a rain of right and left swings to the jaw. Corbett could not get away from Britt, whose blows seldom failed to connect. In a vicious mix Britt swung a hard right to the ear and a left hook to the body. As the bell rang Corbett was in a clinch to avoid the terrific rain of blows with which Britt bombarded him. It was all Britt's round.

PIRATES ROSTER NOW COMPLETE

Camnitz Joins the Team and Creates Fine Impression. Leever's Arm All Right.

THE REGULARS WON AGAIN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., March 25.—Diehl, Leever and Camnitz, the Vicksburg pitcher, who arrived this morning, are to the front in the training at present, and in each instance the developments today were most encouraging. The playing of Ernest Diehl, the fast Cincinnati amateur, has been a feature, and Pittsburgh fans need not be surprised to see him wearing a Pirate uniform before the season is over. He is being given a thorough trying out and did some pretty work at second today.

Diehl is a good sticker and helped to win a game for Pittsburgh last season with a timely hit at Cincinnati. Clarke and Dreyfuss are both pleased with his work and Diehl says Pittsburgh is the only team he would care to play professional ball with. He is secretary of a Cincinnati business concern and received overtures from Pittsburgh last season. If opportunity develops for him to do something beside warm a bench he is willing to take a whirl in fast company.

Leever is already showing the results of the short time here and let his arm out for the first time today. He says his pitching wing has been steadily improving for a month and it felt as free as it ever did today, despite the moist weather and his playing in the rain yesterday. A slight stitch at the shoulder is the only trouble he felt in his first real effort, but he is as foxy as ever. As Leever is always a slow worker out, Manager Clarke says he is not worrying and expects Sam to grumble and round to as usual. Dreyfuss says Leever fidgets every year, but that he will be pitching when the team plays ball.

Camnitz, who had a good record with Vicksburg in the Cotton States league last year, finally made the right train and greatly pleased Clarke with his pitching today. He has a good delivery and showed speed. In Scanlon, Moren and Camnitz, Clarke thinks he has as strong a trio of young stars as have broken into fast company this year.

In the game this afternoon the regulars beat Leever's Yanigans 14 to 5, the team making more of a frolic out of it than yesterday. Warn, the Meyersdale boy, played left for the regulars and had two doubles, but not much to do in the field.

Miller, Scanlon and Phillippe each pitched three innings, the latter taking it easy. Miller had fine speed and control and so far has come up to the fullest expectations. Scanlon handled himself well and was steady for a youngster. Moren, Veil and Thompson pitched in turn for the Yanigans. The former, though nervous, had fine speed, striking Wagner out and holding the regulars to two runs in three innings. Veil held himself in more than yesterday and eight of the runs were from his delivery.

Thompson gave little indication of his form. For the Yanigans Carisch caught, Smith played first, Diehl second, Kruger third, Al Wagner short, Chauncey Bill Stuart left, Frye center and Leever right.

Tomorrow a picked team will play the Little Rocks at Little Rock as follows: Scanlon, Pfeister and Moren, pitchers; Zimmer, catcher; Carisch, first; Diehl, second; Al Wagner, short; Kruger, third; Leever, Warn, Stuart and Frye, fielders.

VICTORIAS BEAT THE WANDERERS

Arthur Sixsmith's Team Plays Better Hockey and Scores an Easy Victory.

ANOTHER CONTEST TONIGHT

The Wanderers of Montreal, reputed to be the best seven in that section of Canada, were beaten decisively by Arthur Sixsmith's good Victoria team last night at Duquesne garden, 4 to 2. The Canadians were outplayed in the first half at all angles, while the Vics secured three goals, but in the closing period the Wanderers negotiated two goals to the local champions' one.

The Wanderers arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning from Houghton, Mich., where they had played a series, and consequently they were not in their best form. This was apparent in the first half, but they showed up to better advantage in the last half. Tonight when they play the second game of the series they should be at their best.

The Vics played good hockey all the way. Arthur Sixsmith, his brother, Henry and Eddie Roberts frequently made pretty runs down the ice, but Spittal was undoubtedly the star of the night. In the first half he was called upon to break up many combinations, and he did it in such a way that elicited the applause of the crowd. Spittal also in this half made two nice runs through the field with the puck, the second resulting in the first goal of the night.

Dickey Boone, who is regarded as one of the brightest stars in the game, played a creditable game, but he will have to do better work in the series here in order to make Pittsburghers believe that he is better at the position than Billy Duvall when the latter is in form. Boone is very fast, but he showed no sensational work last night.

The puck was rushed up and down the ice in the early stages of the game. Gardner and Blatchford brought it to the Vics' net, where Gardner missed the pass and Spittal getting it, rushed down the field. When near the cage he passed to Garnet Sixsmith for goal.

Arthur Sixsmith took the puck from the middle of the field to the net, where he passed to Roberts for goal. Sixsmith a few minutes later rushed up and shot the third goal of the half. Spittal and Roberts brought the rubber down the ice in the second half and Henry shot goal. Mallin negotiated the first for the Wanderers in the middle of the last half, and with but one minute to play he got another.

The game was exceptionally clean. The only player penalized was Jimmy MacKay for getting down on his knees to stop a shot. The lineup:

Victorias—4.		Wanderers—2.
MacKay	Goal	J. Donnelly
Spittal	Point	Kennedy
Duvall	Cover Point	Boone
Roberts	Forward	Price
A. Sixsmith	Center	Mallin
G. Sixsmith	Right Wing	Blatchford
Henry	Left Wing	Gardner

Goals—A. Sixsmith, G. Sixsmith, Henry, Roberts, Mallin 2. Referee—Schooley.

There will be no Interscholastic Hockey league game at Duquesne Garden this afternoon. The proposed game between the champion Shadyside academy seven and the pick from High school and East Liberty has been postponed until next Saturday, which will be "get-away day" for the league.

Type of Mission Furniture

The growing demand for Mission furniture demonstrates a taste, that is increasing among cultured people for things that are quaint.

A rocking chair of the Mission type shown above might not have represented anything years ago but the rugged fashion of the times, a simplicity of life rarely experienced nowadays.

Mission furniture in one's home indicates that in this "age of whirling wheels" his thoughts have reverted back to the time when men's minds were as Puritanical as their bodies were athletic.

This Mission rocker is a fine type of this class of furniture. It is made of weathered oak and has a leather cushion seat. Such furniture is much seen in halls, dens and libraries.

The prices here are very reasonable on all Mission furniture. In fact, prices on all furniture are an inducement at

MR. AND MRS. JAMES HAROLD CHILDS were in New York on Thursday, but are now in Lakewood, where they will remain until next week, returning to their home in Allegheny on Thursday. Mrs. James Wood and her two sisters, Mrs. Thomas McK. Cook and Mrs. James Wood Scully, with their families, will arrive home this morning, having left Palm Beach last Monday with Mrs. Childs. Other early arrivals from the south will be Mr. and Mrs. William C. Robinson of Lincoln avenue, Allegheny, who went down to Hampton Terrace two weeks ago last Wednesday and who will return to their home in Allegheny tomorrow morning.

Mrs. B. F. Jones and her two daughters, Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, Jr., and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Horne, will return on March 31. They were among the first to go to Hampton Terrace. Benjamin Thaw will come north next week and his wife, who was one of the gayest members of the Palm Beach colony, will follow him some weeks later. They are now at Hot Springs, Va.

With the coming of April the various house parties at Dungeness will break up. This week will see the departure of many of the guests, several of whom will spend Easter in New York. Mrs. Louise M. Sproull and Miss Elizabeth Howe, who have been entertained at "The Cottage," the home of Mrs. Morrison Carnegie, Mrs. Sproull's sister, will not return to Pittsburgh until the middle of April. Early in May Mrs. Morrison Carnegie will come north to stay with her mother, Mrs. Carter Curtis Beggs, until the departure of the family for their summer home in Southampton. Mrs. Frederick Curtis Perkins, another Pittsburgher at Dungeness, will be home about April 12, Mr. Perkins coming north next week.

Returning from a Tour of the World.

Letters were received from Gibraltar last week stating that a party of Pittsburghers, whose members have been touring the world since last October, are now coming home. The party includes Mr. and Mrs. Lee S. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Eaton, Mrs. Louis Brown, Miss Margaret Brown, Miss Amy Duncan of Washington, Pa., and John Fisher. A Farewell Tea.

Mrs. John H. Straub of Rebecca street, East End, was hostess at an informal tea yesterday afternoon, the affair being in the nature of a farewell, as Mrs. Straub goes soon to take up her residence with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oliver Evans, also living in Rebecca street. Mrs. Straub and her daughter received together from 2 o'clock until 5, the line of assistants including Mrs. Otto G. Schultz, Mrs. Albert Schultz, Mrs. Harvey Wilson, Mrs. William R. Siedle, Mrs. Alexander Fullerton, Mrs. John Alldred, Mrs. Herman Straub, Miss Fanny Wilson and Miss Helen Wilson.

Yellow prevailed in the decorations, which were carried out with jonquils. A dinner at 12 covers followed the afternoon's entertainment. The guest of honor at the dinner was Otto G. Schultz, who leaves next week for a business trip to South America. He will make Paramaribo, in Dutch Guinea, his principal stopping place. Mrs. Schultz will not go south with her husband.

For favors there were wrought-iron candlesticks with pink hand-painted shades for the ladies and pen-and-ink sketches for the men, all the work of the young guest of honor, who is a member of the Art Students' league.

MISS KNOX'S ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

MISS REBEKAH PAGE KNOX.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—(Special.)—The Attorney General and Mrs. Knox will announce tomorrow the engagement of their only daughter Miss Rebekah Page Knox and James Robert Tindle of Pittsburgh. Miss Knox with a party of friends has been for three months in Europe and the Far East. The latest account of the travelers came from Italy, and the homecoming is set for a date in June. The wedding will occur in the fall, but whether the ceremony will take place at the Pittsburgh or Washington home of the Knox's has not been decided. Mr. Tindle is a son of the late Dr. James Tindle, for many years a prominent practitioner of Pittsburgh and grandson of the late James ..ood identified with the early history of iron manufacture. He is a member of the prominent clubs of the city, a college man and devoted to outdoor sports.

GRIP THAT FAILED

NARROW ESCAPE OF A WELL-KNOWN FARMER AND HORSEMAN.

One of the Worst Assaults Known—John H. Robinson Attacked Three Times and Given Up for Dead.

An encounter with highwaymen on a lonely road in Dutchess Co., N. Y., would have been preferable to the experience through which Mr. John H. Robinson of Manchester Bridge, N. Y., actually passed. In the former case he would doubtless have been quickly relieved of his watch and money, and would have been left in a more or less bruised or dazed state by the roadside. But the loss of valuables would have been relatively small, and within a few days he would have recovered from injuries and shock. Besides, such an attack would not be soon, if ever, repeated.

As it was, however, the assaults from which he suffered occurred three times, cost him great loss of time and money and brought him to the very verge of death. Told by himself, his story is as follows:

"I was attacked three times during three years by grip, complicated with pneumonia, and my sufferings were terrible. I had some of the best physicians in the county, but none of them could give me any relief from the fearful pains in the back of my head, just at the base of the skull. For two weeks I was so low that no one, except the doctor, and my wife, was permitted to come into my room, and once I was given up for dead."

"How did you finally get on your feet?" asked the reporter.

"Why, I happened to read of two cases of grip that had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, so I got a box. After I had taken one box I felt much better, and three boxes cured me completely.

"Have you had the grip since?"

"Yes, just once, a few years later, but a few doses of the same pills cured me again."

"Do you recommend this remedy to others?"

"I do, indeed; because I know the medicine is a grand good thing. No one ever had the grip worse than I did unless he died. It was the only thing that saved my life."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are such an excellent remedy for the grip and its after-effects, because they expel poison from the blood and supply tonic and nutritive elements to every organ and tissue. They quicken the appetite, improve the digestion, give strength to weak nerves, and, in short, forward all the processes that tend to rapid and complete recovery. Hence rheumatism, anaemia, headaches, dizziness, nervous irritability and prostration rapidly disappear and the system is fortified against a recurrence of the original trouble. One of the most striking results of the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of influenza is that the depression, which is such a trying characteristic of the disease, and which often takes a suicidal phase, is succeeded by elasticity of spirits. This great remedy is sold by all druggists throughout the world.

HERBERT CALLED ON MR. BUCHANAN

Popular Conductor and Orchestra Chairman Had a Heart-to-Heart Talk.

UNDERSTANDINGS REACHED

"If Victor Herbert is elected conductor of the Pittsburgh orchestra it will not fall to the credit of his friends," was the statement made yesterday by a member of the orchestra committee after Herbert had made a definite proposition to continue as leader. Early in the day Victor Herbert, by appointment and upon the recommendation of several friends, called upon J. I. Buchanan, chairman of the committee, in the latter's private office in the Conestoga building.

No one else was present at the conference. Herbert explained that he had called upon the earnest solicitation of several of his friends, one of whom is said to be a member of the committee, to talk over the question of continuing as conductor of the orchestra. He explained upon what terms he would sign for three years and named many conditions which, heretofore, have not been a part of the contract. What these conditions are and the terms upon which Herbert will remain in Pittsburgh will not be made known, either by himself or the committee. It is said that he broke the silence only after he had received a personal call from Mr. Buchanan himself. When asked if he had called on Herbert Chairman Buchanan would not reply.

At the afternoon meeting of the committee Chairman Buchanan made known the Herbert proposition and requested that the committee take action. After a two-hour session the committee adjourned without having reached a decision.

Herbert's Case Being Considered.

"Has Herbert's case been disposed of?" was asked Chairman Buchanan. "No. It is being seriously considered."

"Have you options on the services of any other conductor?" he was also asked. The chairman would neither affirm nor deny.

"Are Herbert's terms satisfactory?" The reply was: "That has not been decided."

Another member of the committee was asked if options have been taken on other conductors, or if the committee is in communication with probable candidates. It was explained that this question did not include the applicants for the position. The committee member in question, like Chairman Buchanan, would not reply one way or the other. He was asked why Herbert's proposition had not been finally acted upon during the afternoon, and his reply was that there were so many conditions to be gone over that more time was needed.

From conversation with several of the members it is not unlikely that the committee is holding, perhaps invisibly, over Herbert's head his utterances concerning the committee's actions in securing options on the musicians. Personal differences, if there happened to be any, will not be allowed to creep into the discussion, but the indications are that if Herbert is selected he will not be first choice of the committee.

Victor Herbert in opening negotiations with the committee is bending to public sentiment and the desire of hundreds of his friends, and is in no way suing for retention. Chairman Buchanan made this clear to the committee. He plainly stated that Herbert is acting more through a sense of duty than of personal gratification.

In reference to Herbert's attitude Chairman Buchanan was asked if Herbert, in his interview with him, appeared very anxious to remain in Pittsburgh. "In a way he didn't," said the chairman. "Naturally he wants to remain, but he has made plans, business and otherwise, which do not concern Pittsburgh, although he told me he would be willing to break up his arrangements for the future and again head the Pittsburgh orchestra. His action is commendable. His attitude is loyalty itself."

Concerning the terms made by Herbert nothing is known beyond conjecture. It is understood, however, that Herbert is anxious to have a larger voice in the management of the orchestra whereby the annual deficits may be reduced if not wiped away, so that there can be no possible reflection upon his conducting or the work of the orchestra. There are a number of other things he has stipulated concerning a spring tour and the general welfare of the orchestra.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Herbert were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Schoen, at the Pittsburgh Golf club, Schenley park, and for that reason Herbert could not be seen. It was his first concert night off since the season opened, and the event was quietly observed last night. There were 12 present at the dinner.

Committee's Latest Statement.

The committee yesterday issued the following statement:

"A meeting of the board of directors of the art society was held Thursday afternoon, at which the orchestra committee reported that the guarantee fund of $40,000 for each of three years, 1904-1905, 1905-1906, 1906-1907, had been secured. The board instructed the committee to proceed to secure a new conductor and take any other measures necessary to secure the orchestra.

At the urgent request of his friends, Mr. Herbert this morning called upon J. I. Buchanan, chairman of the orchestra committee, and a very full and free discussion of the orchestra situation ensued. As a result of this interview the orchestra committee is now authentically informed of Mr. Herbert's position and the conditions under which his services can be retained.

The names received to date to the orchestra subscription are: Miss Frances Z. Barnsdall and The Pittsburgh Dispatch. The total amount of the guarantee now is $37,000, not of course including the underwriting, which is a separate asset of the orchestra committee. The committee decided yesterday that the guarantee would not be extended beyond the amount of $40,000; this leaves only $3,000 to raise."

Chairman Buchanan said last night that the underwriting was done by eight men, whose names he refused to give. The number was first given as three. This underwriting fund is gradually diminishing and will likely be wiped out by new guarantors.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Proposed Historic Loan Exhibition.

The Pittsburgh Daughters of the American Revolution are now considering the holding of a large and very extensive loan exhibition of revolutionary and colonial relics. The subject was introduced yesterday afternoon at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Pittsburgh chapter by the regent, Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, who stated that at the next meeting of the chapter she will present a resolution to hold such an exhibition in Pittsburgh within a year, the proceeds of this exhibition to be used for the further protection and improvement of the block house property.

The meeting of the chapter was held yesterday, a week earlier than usual, as the regular meeting day, the first Friday in April, will be Good Friday. Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, the registrar, reported the admission of several new members. A committee, consisting of Mrs. Joseph Otten, chairman; Miss Julia Morgan Harding and Miss Beulah Kennard, offered a resolution on the advisability of making the state conference a delegated body. The chapter accepted and adopted the recommendation of the committee that no state conference be held until the several chapters in the state shall have decided upon some plan for organization. This resolution will be sent to the chapters, which will be asked to consider it and instruct their delegates to report at the state meeting in Washington during the Continental Congress, which will be held the week of April 18.

The amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution presented at the Continental Congress of 1903 to be acted upon this year were discussed and the delegates instructed on some points, others being left to their discretion.

The Pittsburgh chapter has decided not to give any contribution to the Memorial Continental Hall fund this year, having contributed $500 last year and over $1,000 in all, with the expectation that it will give another contribution in the future. The chapter was the recipient of a handsomely bound copy of the year book of the Pennsylvania Society of the Sons of the American Revolution and another of the year book of the Francis Shaw chapter, D. A. R., in Anamosa, Ia., which contains a picture of the public library building erected by that chapter at a cost of $11,600, the city providing the interior furnishings, costing $825, and $10,000 having been bequeathed to the city for the purchase of books.

The regent, Mrs. Ammon, yesterday announced the candidates appointed to the board of managers and directors: Mrs. Robert Reineman, Mrs. Marcellin C. Adams, Mrs. William T. Wallace and Mrs. George Heard. The candidates for the two state offices to be elected in Washington in April are Mrs. K. S. McCartney, Wilkesbarre; Mrs. R. DeB. Keim, Reading, and Mrs. Henry C. Pennypacker, West Chester, for state regent; Mrs. Wilbur F. Reeder, Bellefonte, for state vice regent. Photographs were received from J. E. Caldwell & Co. of Philadelphia, showing the various pieces of silver to be included in the silver service costing $25,000 to be presented by the state to the new cruiser Pennsylvania. The photographs were on exhibition yesterday afternoon.

Benefit for Vacation Schools.

A special meeting of the members of Sorosis was held yesterday afternoon to discuss plans for the euchre which they will give Friday afternoon, April 8, for the benefit of the summer vacation schools. It will be purely an invitation affair, each member of the club being permitted the privilege of inviting a limited number of friends. One thousand invitations will be sent out next week. The parlors and library of the Schenley were reserved for this occasion, but it was decided that the capacity of these rooms would not be sufficient to accommodate the guests, and the ball room has been secured. The committee of arrangements will plan to have at least 100 tables for euchre, while a great many guests who do not play will be entertained in the parlors.

Ernest Francois Jores, the organist of the Third Presbyterian church, will give an informal musicale in the library during the afternoon for those who will take part in the euchre. The members of Sorosis will not take part in the game, but all will aid in making the benefit a big success.

The committee of arrangements is composed of Mrs. William S. Berry, chairman; Mrs. W. W. Kerr, Mrs. Alfred Longmore and Mrs. J. H. Carey. Mrs. Henry J. Bailey was elected treasurer for the benefit.

Kindergarten Delegates Elected.

The Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten association yesterday morning elected delegates to the annual meeting of the International Kindergarten union in Rochester, N. Y., April 26, 27, 28 and 29. They include Mrs. A. V. Holmes, Mrs. M. E. Van Wagoner, Mrs. James I. Buchanan, Mrs. William H. Allen, Mrs. W. W. Card, Miss Elizabeth Culp and Miss Georgia Allison. The association is allowed 12 delegates, but yesterday it was impossible to ascertain more than those previously mentioned who will be able to attend this convention. The number will be increased later.

Miss Rena Sharp, kindergarten director in the Sixth ward school, Allegheny, gave a report of the progress of the kindergarten work there, Miss Jane Patton reporting for the kindergarten in the Shakespeare school in the East End, where she is the director. The report of Miss Allison, the supervisor, was presented by Miss Mary Bakewell.

The members of the association were invited to the mothers' meeting, which the alumnae of the Kindergarten college will hold on the evening of April 21, the anniversary of the birth of Frederick Froebel.

Mrs. William McCracken told of the success attending the entertainment which the King's Daughters' society of the East End, composed of some of the younger girls, gave last week the entertainment resulting in a good sum of money which will be expended in taking the kindergarten children for a day into the country.

Readings from Southern Writers.

Readings from various southern writers contributed to an interesting program presented yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Southern Women's society. Mrs. S. B. Hanson and Mrs. Frank White were the hostesses in the parlors of the Southern society in Forbes and Halket streets, Oakland. Mrs. J. D. Murray read from Ruth McEnery Stewart's "Napoleon Jackson." Miss Sophie G. Kerr giving selections from Joel Chandler Harris' "Uncle Remus" and "Old Man's Troubles."

Industrial School Closed.

The industrial school conducted by the East End Young Women's Christian association will close today. The school is continued only half the year, and the closing day is annually celebrated by a treat for the children. The managers expect to entertain 150 children today with ice cream and cake, and interesting exercises have been arranged for the occasion.

Civic Board Meeting.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Civic club of Allegheny county will be held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Civic club rooms in Market street.

Dinner for the Seniors.

A pleasant affair of last evening was the violet dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Howard Beuhler of Murrayhill avenue. Mrs. Beuhler has been taking a special course in English with the seniors of the Pennsylvania College for Women, and last evening her guests were the members of the class, together with the English instructor, Miss E. A. Knapp. A centerpiece of ferns adorned the table, while at each place was a Bohemian glass filled with violets. The seniors, all of whom were present, are Miss Edna McKee, Miss Nancy Blair, Miss Jessie Gray, Miss Rebekah Eggers, Miss Lida Young, Miss Elizabeth Carpenter and Miss Helen Thomas.

Euchre Postponed.

Owing to the death of Dr. Joseph S. Duff, the past worthy patron of Lorena Orr chapter, No. 18, Order of the Eastern Star, the euchre which was to have been given under the auspices of the chapter on Saturday, March 26, has been postponed until April 16.

STOCK MARKET DOMINATED BY THE UNION PACIFIC

A Very Feverish Tone Prevailed, and Prices Finally Closed Near the Lowest—Trading Continued Dull in Pittsburgh.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Union Pacific was the pivot of the eastern stock market yesterday. When that stock was strong, the rest of the market responded; when it was weak, traders sold freely. The total sales for the day foot up 672,000 shares, and of this amount 185,300 shares consisted of Union Pacific. Southern Pacific was also active on sales of 106,300 shares, but its price movements were dominated by the leader. At the opening there was a disposition to continue the selling which was in progress when the market closed the night before, but London quotations came higher and offerings were well absorbed, so that the decline made little progress. A feature which puzzled traders and revived fears of competitive buying of the Pacific stocks was the execution of a buying order for 25,000 shares Union Pacific by a house which was supposed to be representing the bankers most prominently identified with the property. This buying caused a very sharp rally from 79⅝ to 83⅝, the shorts helping along the movement. The advancing tendency extended to the remainder of the list, Southern Pacific rising from 47⅝ to 49⅝, St. Paul from 140⅛ to 142⅝, Missouri Pacific from 90¼ to 92, and Pennsylvania from 117 to 118¼. The usual noonday lull occurred, but after 1 o'clock the tendency was downward, Union Pacific broke rather sharply to 81⅝, and in almost every instance the earlier gains were wiped out.

For a time the industrial stocks remained very dull within a narrow range, but later in the day Steel preferred and Amalgamated Copper each advanced 1 per cent. Sugar, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Metropolitan rallied fractionally, but these stocks received comparatively little attention, and they sympathized with the declining tendency of the final dealings.

It may have been that the heaviness of the list during the afternoon was based upon the weekly crop report of an acknowledged authority in the trade, who reviewed the effects of the winter upon the winter wheat plant, and who reported that as a rule the plant had come through the season in bad condition. The strength of wheat was partly based upon this report, but it was not so extensive as to indicate that any serious damage had occurred, and besides, it is too early for crop "scares." There was nothing in the foreign news to affect the market either way.

Regarding the reported friction relating to the distribution of the assets of Northern Securities, it was said that the whole trouble was over a legal point, and that an interpretation which restored complete harmony among the largest interests had been reached. There was also a report that the matter would be referred to the courts for a suggestion as to the legal method for complying with the recent decree. There is enough of the element of uncertainty in this Northern Securities situation to enable traders to make use of any plausible story regarding the outcome, and the public should therefore make allowance for all the rumors which gain currency until the matter is finally disposed of.

Call loan rates remained easy at 1½ to 1¾ per cent. It is estimated that the banks have gained $3,860,000 cash during the week, and unless the operations in the stock market have resulted in an expansion in loans, today's bank statement should make a favorable showing. There is some expectation that gold will be exported to Paris by the steamer sailing next Tuesday, but this prospect has no effect upon either the stock or money market.

Sales on the Pittsburgh board yesterday fell a little short of 2,000 shares, and the tendency of prices was again downward. Manufacturers Light and Heat opened weak and sold off to 29, but recovered a portion of the loss, closing at 29⅜ bid. Pittsburgh Coal remained inactive until just before the close, when 450 shares changed hands at 16, an advance. Only 10 shares of the preferred changed hands all day. Crucible Steel common remained steady at 5, but the preferred declined to 31. No transactions occurred in United States Steel. National Fire Proofing common declined to 10⅝, while the preferred was a fraction higher at 31⅛. Westinghouse Electric was neglected, only five shares selling at 80¾. Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s sold at 92, an advance of 1¼ per cent over the last previous sale.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The temporary weakness in Manufacturers Light & Heat, which declined a half point to 29, could not be ascribed to any serious apprehension that the business of the company would be injured by the movement started by the Clarksburg convention to prevent the transportation of natural gas from West Virginia. No doubt the West Virginia business men would like all the citizens in the towns and cities now supplied by natural gas drawn from that state to take up their residence in West Virginia, but this desire cannot be gratified and there is little real fear that any legislation will stand the test of the courts which will place an embargo upon the transportation of natural gas to consumers in other states. However, the Manufacturers Light & Heat is not the only company that would be affected. The Philadelphia Company is equally interested, deriving the bulk of its supply from that field, and Philadelphia Company stock was not affected in the market.

Central District & Printing Telegraph was firmer, closing at 116½ bid for 100 shares.

Philadelphia Company preferred sold to the extent of 100 shares at 43¾, a decline of 1¼ points compared with the last previous sale in February.

The daily record of sales is sufficient evidence that local stock commission business is still at a low ebb. It was expected that the easier money market would be followed by an increase in the volume of business, but so far these expectations have not been realized. A year ago, when a number of corporations had in contemplation an increase in capital stock to be sold at a premium, there was some incentive to stimulate activity, but at the present time there is no unusual incentive to buy stocks and holders are not forced to sell, hence the comparative stagnation.

The Western Savings & Deposit bank has declared a quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, payable April 1, and placed $25,000 to surplus, making its surplus equal its capital of $250,000.

Wall street understands that for the protection of all parties concerned it will probably be found desirable to have the United States court decide upon the method of liquidating the Northern Securities Company. Pending this it may be taken for granted that no serious disagreement will arise.

It was an expert trader who could make money out of the fluctuations in New York yesterday. A private wire message thus described the situation: "Opinions on the floor are in a state of chaos. All sorts of conflicting reports are in circulation, but conservative traders are waiting preferring to buy higher or sell lower to taking the risk which is inevitable as long as the terms of the liquidation of the Northern Securities Company are in doubt."

Gross earnings of Wabash for the third week in March increased $5,598.

President Buckner of the Marsden Company has gone to Chicago, where he will arrange for a location and details for the new plant at that point.

A seat in the New York stock exchange this week sold at $67,000, an advance of $4,0000.

It is stated that the General Electric Company will show an increase in its earnings for February and March of nearly 10 per cent each month as against the corresponding months of last year.

Who bought that 100,000 shares of Union Pacific is the question every one in Wall street is trying to answer. That some one bought 100,000 shares of Union Pacific Tuesday there is not the slightest doubt. Its sensational advance of over 8 points was on the most urgent buying seen in Wall street since the Northern Pacific corner. The advance was not caused by short covering or by professional traders. Some interest which possessed powerful financial resources was the purchaser. Who this interest was and what its object in purchasing Union Pacific on such an enormous scale has not yet been divulged. There are, of course, all kinds of guesses. There are some who imagine that they have a pretty good idea of the situation. The whole affair, however, is a most mysterious one. There is a strong belief that there is a story behind that purchase of 100,000 shares of Union Pacific that has not yet been told.—New York Commercial.

On account of the heavy slump in the shares of the Allis-Chalmers Company the dividend on the preferred stock is beginning to loom up as a live issue. The preferred stock is entitled to 7 per cent cumulative dividends. Wall street believes that the present quotations of the shares—about 7¼ for the common and 41 for the preferred—foreshadow a reduction in the rate. Whether this view of the case is a correct one or not remains to be seen. Officials of the company decline to discuss the matter. On Tuesday the common stock sold at 6 and the preferred at 39⅞ on small dealings. These quotations are the lowest ever recorded. The company has authorized capital of $50,000,000. Of this amount there is outstanding $16,250,000 preferred stock. The amount of common outstanding is $20,000,000.

A statement was published in Wall street during the day, evidently by authority, setting forth the nature of the differences in the Northern Securities situation. The solicitude of the trustees for the Oregon Short Line participating and collateral 4 per cent bonds as to their authority to substitute Great Northern and Northern Pacific stock for the Northern Securities stock, which now constitutes the collateral for those bonds, offered a very different condition from the rumored insistence of the Union Pacific party upon the return of the amount of Northern Pacific stock in full as put into the Northern Securities merger. The issuance of this statement was followed by a furious buying movement in Union Pacific, which carried it up to 83⅝ compared with 85 at the high point of the week. Twice afterwards the price was carried to that level again, but the fluctuations of the market after this spurt were undecided and advances proved impossible to hold. The animation awakened in Union Pacific by the formulated statement of the uncertain points at issue in the Northern Securities settlement indicated that the operations in the stock were being conducted by persons not conversant with the inside facts and awakened suspicion of their speculative origin.

FEATURES OF THE DAY.

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank clearings foot up $5,736,833, a decrease of $3,770,000.

Stock exchange sales included 1,931 shares stock, $1,000 bonds and $17 50 scrip.

Manufacturers Light & Heat declined to 29, but recovered to 29⅜ bid.

Pittsburgh Coal common sold at 16 and closed at that price bid.

Crucible Steel common steady at 5. The preferred declined to 31.

No sales of Air Brake and only five shares Electric changed hands.

IN WALL STREET.

The entire stock market turned on the fluctuations in Union Pacific.

The stock contributed 185,300 shares to the total day's business of 672,000 shares.

The mystery surrounding the movement is as deep as ever.

Southern Pacific also an active feature, with sales of 106,300 shares.

Steel preferred and Amalgamated Copper were less active.

The market as a whole very sensitive and closed lower.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

It is announced from Salt Lake that the shareholders of the Tonopah & Salt Lake Mining Company are to meet within 30 days to pass upon a proposition looking to a consolidation of its interests with the Jim Butler-Tonopah Mining Company, the Salt Lake interest to receive $400,000. As a supplemental proposition certain interests have obligated themselves to underwrite 100,000 shares in the amalgamated company that shall afford $100,000 for development uses. The new proposition from the Butler company concedes 100,000 shares more than was held out when a consolidation of those Tonopah interests was formerly projected.

E. M. Hamilton of Los Angeles, owner of the Hamilton mine, near Rosamond, Cal., who has attracted considerable attention by his refusal to accept a big offer from an English syndicate for the property, has given out some data concerning the property. In an interview he says: "Experts have been examining the mine for several weeks and I gave them permission to do so, though I stated plainly at the time that I did not care to sell. I have adopted the policy of allowing any one who is really interested, to go through the property, but it is mine alone, and I don't care to part with it. I do not see why I should sell, for whenever I need money I can dig out ore and run it through the mill. I recently ran 56 tons through the mill which netted $16,800; another lot, 50 tons, netted $8,000, and another lot of 25 tons netted $5,000. The ledge varies in width and will average something like $100 a ton throughout, but I have taken out some rock—not a large quantity, of course—which ran nearly $100,000 a ton." At present the property is equipped with a five-stamp mill and a small cyanide plant. The shaft is about 300 feet deep, and it is Mr. Hamilton's boast that not a pound of ore has ever been stoped, though the property has produced about $200,000 from development work alone. At one time he tried to sell the mine for $800.

Up to January 30 there had been $95,000 of bounty money earned by the British Columbia mines. There are 88 properties on the list and 40 of these claims will average over $1,500. The largest claimant is the Highland of Ainsworth. Next in order comes the North Star, the Rambler-Cariboo, the Payne, the Slocan Star and the Ruth.

The two 250-ton water jacket furnaces of the Calumet & Arizona Company at Douglas produced during January 3,020,000 pounds of black copper, 99 per cent fine, and during February 2,500,000 pounds. One report is that the ores treated carry about $16 in gold and silver. This probably means that the bullion carries these values per ton, as the Bisbee district ores have usually small values in the precious metals. The proposed doubling of the Calumet & Arizona smelting capacity is not to be done at once.

In one of the newly opened stopes there is said to be a 16-foot body of black sulphide and manganese ore that runs over 50 per cent copper for its entire width. In the southern and deeper workings of the Copper Queen similar rich ore bodies are being struck, giving assurance of the permanency of the great copper deposits of the camp.

The deposits have been found at points where not a color of copper stain is to be found on the surface and only after about 1,000 feet of depth has been passed through. This explains the faith that actuates the men who are sinking a score of great shafts through the limestone, in places 1,000 feet deep, with hardly a "color" to encourage them thus far.

Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, March 25.—Money, 3@4 per cent; the rate of discount for short bills is 3 per cent; the rate of discount for three months' bills is 2⅞@3 per cent; consols for money, 85 15-16; consols for account, 86. Money was in fair supply in the market today, owing to the release of the Irish loan application money and the repayment of treasury bills. Discounts were quiet in anticipation of easier money after the month-end. Trading on the stock exchange was dull. Some adjustment of accounts prior to the settlement caused a general fractional setback. Consols eased a fraction, but recovered. Americans opened weak, rallied slightly, especially Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and Louisville & Nashville. The tone was cautious and Americans became somewhat easier, but closed with an improvement.

PARIS, March 25.—Three per cent rentes, 95 francs 72½ centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 14½ centimes for checks. Business on the bourse today opened calm and inactive. Prices closed heavy, except Industrials, which were firm. Russian imperial fours closed at 94.80.

BERLIN, March 25.—Exchange on London, 20 marks 43½ pfgs. for checks. The rate of discount for short bills is 3 per cent and for three months' bills, 3⅜ per cent. Trading on the bourse today was most quiet. American rails were lower.

Banks and the Treasury.

MARKET AN UNCERTAIN AND IRREGULAR AFFAIR

Heavy Selling Clashed With an Aggressive Movement for Advance.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 26.—The Herald this (Saturday) morning says:

The stock market of yesterday was an uncertain and irregular affair, strong and weak by turns, with a reactionary interval to punctuate both the opening and the closing. Most experienced observers hit upon the theory that the varied and spasmodic movements represented a conflict of two interests, and that rather heavy selling, some of it liquidation, was clashing with an aggressive manipulation movement for the advance. Upon the surface dealings appeared to be entirely of a professional nature, and the theory prevailed that traders were selling the market. But there were some dissenting opinions from this theory advanced by persons who held that the traders had been too severely punished to encourage them to take an aggressive stand. These persons advanced the idea that there was some extensive selling of long stock in the market.

The market was more influenced by the failure of the Union Pacific interests to approve the liquidating plan of the Northern Securities Company than anything else. The merger stocks on the curb all suffered reactions, and the nervous movements elsewhere were almost entirely the result of that incident. Few, if any, persons took an alarmist view of the situation after the first brief interval of trading, for the assurance that harmony was prevalent was definitely asserted by all hands. The prospect of delay, however, in settling the legal question to the satisfaction of Union Pacific interests robbed the market of enthusiasm. Aside from this matter there was little news in the street. The final returns on cotton showing a very small crop and some unfavorable crop news, resulted in sharp advances in staples. The stock market paid little attention to these features, though commodity trading was heavy.

THE FORCE COMPANY AND TRADING STAMPS

Well-Known Cereal Company Explains Its Position on This Question.

As a result of resolutions adopted by the Erie (Pa.) Retail Merchants' exchange, the H. O. Company, manufacturers of "Force" breakfast food, have issued a statement making clear their position in reference to giving trading stamps with packages of "Force." The Retail Merchants' exchange is opposed to trading stamps, because it believes them injurious alike to the interests of merchants and customers, and its secretary, A. M. Howes, was requested to ascertain the attitude of the H. O. Company in the matter. Correspondence which has passed between Mr. Howes and J. C. Clark of the H. O. Company, shows that the manufacturers of "Force" took the trading stamps at the request of the trading stamp promoters, permitting them to publish, over their signature, one advertisement in a few of the dailies in Boston, Philadelphia, New York and Pittsburgh, offering to redeem "Force" trademarks at five stamps each. These advertisements were published during the early and latter parts of January, with the inference that after February "Force" box fronts were to be redeemed at two stamps each.

Having discovered that there is a powerful objection, which amounts to practically a boycott, against concerns having dealings with trading stamp companies the H. O. Company announces that it proposes to go no further with the trading stamp proposition, but it does not see how it can prevent the trading stamp people from redeeming box fronts for two stamps each when the same shall be presented to them by persons who might happen to remember the terms of the recently printed advertisements. The "Force" people say that in considering the feasibility of using trading stamps, they were unable to see how the giving of premiums through other persons acting as brokers could affect dealers handling "Force," since the latter did not appear in the transaction at all.

RIVER BANK CRUMBLES.

More Trouble from Severe Winter. Property Was Endangered.

The high water and ice in the Allegheny since January caused considerable damage to property along the river bed between Montrose and Deer Creek. Big sections of the north bank have been undermined, and pieces of ground over 300 feet long and at least 40 feet wide have dropped into the water. The cave-in is below the tracks of the West Penn railroad at some places, and the railroad company has already commenced to fill the excavations with cinders. Other property in that locality is thought to be in danger on account of the crumbling and the matter has caused much alarm among residents there. Capt. W. L. Sibert stated yesterday that the severe winter caused the trouble, but the government has not contemplated making any repairs there. Fortunately the ground has tumbled into shallow water and for this reason will be no source of danger to navigation.

Old Allegheny Landmark Bought for Investment—Union Bank Increases Its Holdings.

ALLEGHENY RESIDENCE SALE

One of the biggest deals in Allegheny property this year was closed up yesterday. Cooper & McAllister sold for the heirs of the R. B. Mowry estate 510 Federal street, Allegheny, to A. L. Lowrie for $35,000. The lot has a frontage of 14 feet and is 110 feet deep. It is improved with a three-story brick building, which is one of the oldest landmarks on the North Side. The price of $2,500 per front foot is about the average for the locality. The purchase was made for investment.

The Union National bank purchased another piece of property adjoining its quarters at Fourth avenue and Market street. A deal was closed yesterday whereby the bank purchased from John Worthington 16x29 feet in Fourth avenue for $20,500. The ground is improved and is 103 feet northwest from the corner of Fourth avenue and Market street. The bank contemplates building on this site and purchased property 16x28 feet at the same corner about two weeks ago for $22,200. The new building will be erected as soon as leases on the new holdings have expired.

The Real Estate Trust Company has sold for C. F. Schrader to George Buchanan 160x550 feet in Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, for $18,500. The property fronts in Perrysville avenue and extends through to Myron avenue. It is improved with a handsome house and other buildings. Mr. Buchanan will occupy the place as a residence.

James W. Drape & Co. have sold two properties 30x100 feet each, improved with brick houses of nine rooms each, in Jeannette street, near South avenue, Wilkinsburg, for $12,200.

Number of Good Sales.

Edward M. Sheehan sold to F. F. Myler 35x150 feet, improved, in Chislett street, near Stanton avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $8,000.

Cooper & McAllister sold for M. C. Bryant to John Vogle 37½x100 feet in Cypress street, near Osceola street, Twentieth ward, for $7,000.

Sarah E. Wilson has sold to John Gardner 25x89 feet at the southwest corner of Winslow and Winfield streets, Twenty-first ward, for $3,775.

Thomas S. Maple has sold to William S. Allen 49x106 feet on the west side of Maple avenue, Thirty-first ward, for $3,500.

J. J. Sweeny has sold to A. J. Worley 40x100 feet, improved, in Millvale avenue, Twentieth ward, for $3,000.

Samuel McKee has sold to Nicholas Bay 20x137 feet, improved, in Pearl street, Sixteenth ward, for $2,200.

The Real Estate Trust Company has sold 7634 Hamilton avenue for W. R. Harrison of Homeville, Pa., to O. Z. Brunner for $2,375. The property is improved with a two-story frame structure and the deal is considered a good bargain.

At a mass meeting in Sheraden Thursday night the Sheraden Borough improvement association was formed for the purpose of booming that vicinity as a residence section.

Negotiations are on whereby W. O. Wright, the builder, is to secure 301x146 feet in Rebecca street, near Friendship avenue, for $116 per front foot. So soon as the deal is closed Mr. Wright will figure on improving the ground.

James White, clerk of courts in Jefferson county, Ohio, has purchased the old Beaver (Pa.) fair grounds, consisting of about 12 acres, which he will improve with houses costing about $2,500 each.

SUGAR IS ADVANCED; NEW ONION CROP HERE

Eggs Are Firmer and Storage Men Are Buying—Rye Is Higher Again.

Granulated sugar is advanced 10 cents. The market has been holding firm for several weeks and the increase has been expected. The change is effective this morning. Flour is firmer and actual market conditions justify prices at least 15 cents higher than present quotations, though no change is made by jobbers here owing to local conditions. Buyers are evidently of the opinion that flour has touched bottom and the increased demand of the past few days is no doubt attributable to this.

A new crop of Bermuda onions arrived yesterday from New York. The quotations on them are $3 00 and $3 10 a crate, which is much less than the usual price on Bermudas at the beginning of their season. Havanas are reduced to $2 40 and $2 50 a crate. The market will likely be rather brisk for some time. Bermuda potatoes also arrived yesterday and are quoted at $10 a barrel. Other potatoes are firm and indications are that prices will go higher owing to scarcity in the present crop.

Eggs showed firmer and prices are advanced a half cent; storage men have commenced to buy and indications are that the market will not go much below present figures. Bad country roads have held back the supply but the brisk buying for storage is the principal factor in stiffening prices. Butter and cheese are about the same.

Rye is firmer and is advanced a half cent. Shelled corn is very firm and so is ear. Shelled is offering at about 53c and ear at 56c. Hay is steady; one car of No. 2 timothy sold at $14 50 on 'change yesterday. Millfeed is about where it has been all week, though one dealer reports a big sale of No. 2 at $21 50.

WHEAT ADVANCED ON FEAR OF ELEMENTS

Storms and Floods Expected. Corn Gained and Oats and Provisions Were Up.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, March 15.—Wheat advanced ⅝@½c today on fears of widespread storms and floods. Corn gained ⅝c; oats were up ¼c, and provisions 5c to 10c.

The opening in wheat was firm in sympathy with higher prices in foreign markets today. July was unchanged to ¼c higher, at 87c to 87¼c. There was an urgent demand from the start, the pit crowd being active buyers on prospects of a decided drop in temperature in the southwest. Commission houses also had plenty of buying orders. Offerings, however, were light. As the session advanced the market became stronger. The situation in the northwest was an important bull factor, the wheat market at Minneapolis being decidedly strong owing to an excellent cash demand, notwithstanding the shut-down of 18 mills. There was considerable buying here for northwest account, and the southwest was also a fair purchaser in this market. A private crop report claimed that the outlook for a favorable crop of winter wheat was far from good, the condition at the present time being worse than that of any recent year. Before any reaction occurred July advanced to 88⅝c. On the bulge many of the early buyers turned sellers, causing a decline of nearly a cent. The closing tone, however, was strong, with July at 87⅜@87½c. After ranging between 94¼c and 96c, May closed at 95c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 50,900 bushels. Primary receipts were 412,800 bushels, against 305,700 bushels a year ago. Exports of wheat and flour for the week, according to Bradstreet's, were equal to 1,801,800 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 346 cars, against 349 cars last week and 283 cars a year ago.

The feature in corn was the buying of about 1,000,000 bushels of May by a prominent operator, who was recentl long on May wheat. The buying from this source induced the pit crowd to follow, and it was not until late in the session that any general selling pressure developed. In the meantime the price of the May delivery had advanced nearly 2c from the opening figures, and the strength of the nearby option carried the price of the more distant futures upward in sympathy. The sentiment was helped somewhat by the bullish advices from Illinois in regard to the quality of corn in cribs. There was considerable profit taking late in the day, which resulted in a decline from the high point. The close, however, was strong, with May at 53c, after it ranged between 53⅝c and 54c. July opened a shade to ⅛@¼c higher, at 49⅝c to 49¾c; sold between 49⅝c and 50¾c, and closed at 50⅛@50¼c. Local receipts were 111 cars, with 10 of contract grade.

The strength in wheat and corn was the principal factor in maintaining a firm tone in oats. One or two bull interests were liberal buyers during the early part of the session, but later in the day the demand became slack. Scattered selling, due to the late reaction in corn, caused some weakening in values, but the close was firm. July opened ⅛c to ⅛@¼c higher, at 37¾c to 37⅝@37¾c; sold between 37⅝@37¾c and 38¼c, and closed at 37⅞@37⅞c. Local receipts were 144 cars.

Provisions were strong on apparent support from packing interests. Strength in grains offset lower prices at the yards. There was some realizing on an early advance, but the market closed firm. July pork being up 7½@10c, at $13 30. July lard was 5c higher, at $7 15, and ribs up 5@7½c, at $7 05. No estimated receipts given out.

No Water on the Hilltop.

Hilltop dwellers who are dependent upon the Chartiers Valley Water Company were compelled to go dry yesterday morning. Superintendent Hunter stated that the pumps had broken down again, but that they would be repaired and the service would be continued this morning with the installation of the new valves, which arrived.

Shooting Relieved the Monotony of the Light Wells and Dusters

Light wells and dusters were the rule yesterday in all oil fields. Shooting the deep sand wells is still a feature, and the results are generally quite satisfactory.

On the east side of the Folsom district in Harrison county, West Virginia, the South Penn Oil Company has given its No. 3 on the Wesley Robinson farm a dose of the high explosive fluid, and the well produced 245 barrels the ensuing 24 hours. In the Pine Grove district the same company has given its No. 3 on the Ellis Dulaney farm the same kind of treatment and increased its production to 210 barrels a day.

In the same district the South Penn has drilled its No. 5 on the J. R. Pittman farm 10 feet into the stray and the well produced 20 barrels the first 24 hours from the first pay. In the same district No. 5 on the M. E. White farm has been drilled through the sand and the hole has filled up 800 feet with fluid. It will be shot and is expected to increase its production.

On the west side of the Fish Creek district, in Marshall county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has completed its test on the W. S. Howard farm and has a fair gasser in the Gordon. The Hope company is doing a large amount of development work in Marshall county, and should have a number of wells in the sand within a week or 10 days.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, R. T. Lowndes & Co. have drilled a second test on the Allie Davis farm through the Gordon and have a duster. It will probably drill to the lower sand.

In the Middlebourne district, Tyler county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 4 on the J. R. Maloy farm through the Maxon sand and will not have a paying producer in that formation. It is now drilling to the Big Injun. In the Meadville district, in the same county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 3 on the J. W. Ankrom farm 40 feet into the Big Injun and has a natural producer, good for 50 barrels a day.

In the Bonds Creek district, Ritchie county, the Associated company has completed its test on the C. W. Miller farm and has a light producer in the Keener sand.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the Carter Oil Company's No. 1 on the R. Curry farm, reported dry, has been drilled deeper and will make a small pumper.

Northeast of the Yellow Creek district, in the same county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 on the Camden-Sommers farm is holding up at 60 barrels a day. Operations in this district are increasing. The South Penn company is ready to start drilling at No. 2 on the Camden-Sommers farm. In the same district Leonard & Aiken are due in the sand at a test on the W. Knight farm. Upham, Ralston & Co. are drilling Nos. 1 and 2 on the Adam Harwick farm. The Lowther Oil Company is drilling at 1,300 feet at a test on the Charles Thomas farm. G. L. Cabbot is drilling in the sand at his test on the Charles Scott farm and is down 1,400 feet at a test on the Belle Hardman farm. The Cresco Oil Company has rigs up for test wells on the E. Jackson and Solomon Silliman farms.

On the Ohio side, in the Scottown district, Washington county, Sutton Bros. and F. A. Sutton have drilled in their No. 6 on the J. R. Smith farm and have a show for a 15-barrel pumper in the Big Injun. The Carter Oil Company has completed its test on the A. Workman farm and has a show for an 8-barrel pumper in the Berea grit.

In the Macksburg field, in the same county, W. C. Patterson & Co. have completed their No. 5 on the J. R. Jackson farm and have a 5-barrel pumper in the 800-foot sand. J. C. McBride & Co. have completed their No. 9 on the Wickens-Schimmel farm and have a duster in the 800-foot and Keener sands.

In the Lowell district the Cumberland Oil Company has completed its No. 6 on the William Fritchie farm and has a duster. In the same district Bruce Rush has completed his No. 5 on the Charles Stowe farm and has a 5-barrel pumper. In the Trail Run district, near Antioch, Monroe county, the Ann Oil Company has drilled in its test on the Sadie Cline farm and will have a 20-barrel producer in the Big Injun.

South of Fleming Park and west of McKees Rocks, in Allegheny county, Pa., Davis & Montgomery have completed and shot their No. 1 on the Thomas McCoy farm and have a show for a 30-barrel producer in the fourth sand. This well is located in old territory and the showing is quite a surprise.

PENNSY MAY USE ALLEGHENY PROPERTY FOR WAREHOUSES

Officials of the Pennsylvania lines west are debating the question of the use to which the property acquired by the Ft. Wayne and West Penn between Federal and Anderson streets, Allegheny, will be put. Most of this property, which is very valuable, was purchased over a year ago. At that time it was stated the elevated tracks would occupy most of the space, some of it being used as the main line of the West Penn.

The company is now said to be considering the establishment of additional freight yards along Church avenue and the construction of more warehouses. The plan, while it lacks authenticity or confirmation, is said to be feasible. The West Penn now has team tracks and freight houses beginning near Cedar avenue.

In connection with the Allegheny improvements and the new work being done on the other side of the Ohio river, James McCrea, first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, and a party of officials yesterday made an inspection through this territory. A special train was used and the party went for some distance on the Pittsburgh, Chartiers & Youghiogheny. The new yards at Scully on the Duff branch were also inspected. It is said that Vice President McCrea also took up the Allegheny passenger station proposition. It is likely that a new building will not be constructed, but the present one on Federal street altered to meet the changed conditions.

Veteran Engineer Sick.

"Corney" Jackson, one of the most trusted locomotive engineers of the Ft. Wayne, is seriously ill at his home, 1001 Lamont street, Allegheny. He belongs to that class of engineers which is always called upon to haul a president of the United States or make a particularly trying run, and "Corney" claims as his friends some of the most distinguished men of the country. He is suffering from rheumatism and a complication of other complaints, from which his physicians say he cannot hope to recover. "Corney" is now 61 years of age. It has been his ambition to reach the limit of 65 years, when he was going to retire. His service on the rails covers a period of 40 years.

Preparing for Summer.

Milton Roach, general eastern passenger agent of the New York Central, was here yesterday conferring with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie officials relative to summer excursion business and the movement of the Conried Grand Opera Company. The Vanderbilt passenger officials were to have met here this week to go over the St. Louis situation and incidentally discuss the prospects for summer business. It is likely that the meeting may not be held and that each of the interested roads will discuss affairs among themselves. This is what brought Mr. Roach here from New York. It is his first visit to Pittsburgh since the gathering here of Vanderbilt lines' passenger men about two years ago.

Railroad Notes.

E. F. Lalk, general agent of the Santa Fe, is in New York on business.

It is said that the Pennsylvania railroad will enlarge its ticket offices at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street.

A second conference between the telegraph operators and officials of the Baltimore & Ohio regarding an increase in wages will be necessary before a final decision is reached.

It is announced from Philadelphia that the Pennsylvania railroad is ready to begin the construction of the New York Connecting railroad, which will be the freight link between the Pennsy and New Haven lines.

F. W. Saint, who formerly was chief clerk to the general passenger department of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, has been called here on account of the sickness of a relative. When he left here about six years ago he became traveling passenger agent of the Rock Island. He is now city passenger agent of the same line at St. Paul.

Traffic on the west end of the Ft. Wayne was suspended for several hours after midnight yesterday on account of damage done by a hurricane. The yards at Indiana harbor, near Chicago, were badly crippled. Telegraphic communication was cut off and information from Chicago yesterday concerning the storm was meager. A shifting engine in the Baltimore & Ohio yards at Willow Grove yesterday morning at 8 o'clock sideswiped a Du-Bois accommodation on the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad, derailing two coaches. There were no injuries.

WARNERS ASK FOR CITATION

Court Refused Petition to Have Exceptions to Their Account Dismissed.

CRUELTY LEADS TO DIVORCE

Lawrence and R. E. Warner, administrators of the estate of the late Dr. E. S. Warner, presented a petition in orphans' court yesterday asking for a citation on Mrs. Mary Warner to show cause why exceptions filed by her to their account should not be dismissed. The petitioners allege that the exceptions were filed on March 7, 1904, and then recites that the decedent and the exceptant prior to their marriage had entered into an agreement by which each of them relinquished each to the other, all rights at common law, etc., relating to intestate to which each might be entitled by reason of their marriage. The wife was then Mary Sands and the ante-nuptial contract was made on July 6, 1897, their marriage occurring August 11, 1897, a month later. The petition further avers that the wife never denied or called into question the validity of the contract until February 28, 1903, when she filed a reply to an answer of the petitioners to a citation to show cause why the letters of administration to them should not be revoked, and in the reply, it is alleged, she declared that the sole inducement which led her to execute the ante-nuptial agreement was a promise of the decedent that he would leave her something by will, which he failed to do.

A copy of the ante-nuptial agreement contains the statement of the husband's real estate consisting of No. 16 Ninth street, valued at $15,000, and No. 418 Penn avenue, valued at $25,000. The inventory of the personal estate of the decedent shows a valuation of $32,226.

The court refused the citation on the grounds that the proper course was to bring the question involved up at the audit.

Kain Had a Strenuous Life.

The master in the divorce suit of George W. Kain against Cora Olive Kain has filed his report recommending a decree on the grounds of indignities to the person, etc. The husband's testimony showed they were married in August, 1889; that the wife began drinking and abused him both physically and with vile language. At one time he was compelled to undergo an operation as the result of a blow she struck him with a plate. He said she was fond of breaking up their household effects.

A decree in divorce has been granted in the case of John Nardone against Lizzie Nardone on the grounds of desertion. She eloped from their Sewickley home with their boarder.

Dr. R. V. Pitcairn, committee of Albert Pitcairn, has filed his answer to the rule granted on him to show cause why he should not pay $1,500 for the furnishment of the home to be occupied by Albert Pitcairn and his wife. The answer calls attention to the fact that $300 a month is at present being paid for the maintenance of the charge, and he says this is supposed to provide for a furnished house. He suggests if $1,500 is allowed that a reduction of the monthly amount should be made.

The Diamond National bank yesterday entered suit against Peter J. McNulty and others, administrators of the estate of the late Henry M. Bennett, to recover $15,000 on a note made by him.

Appointed a Receiver.

The International Savings & Trust Company was appointed receiver of the Duquesne Mutual Casualty and Indemnity Company. The company has 1,939 policies in force and is liable to the extent of $5,828,500, according to the statement of T. A. Dye, secretary of the company. He says the company is insolvent on account of its inability to collect assessments. The company insured against loss by theft or dishonesty. On a sample policy the officers of the company are shown to be: President, W. B. Lupton, deceased; vice president, C. A. Muehlbronner; second vice president, Homer J. Lindsay; secretary, T. A. Dye; treasurer, Charles Schneider; business manager, H. B. Moesser.

An amended statement has been filed in the suit of J. J. Wallace against the Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Company, an action asking $100,000 damages for personal injuries received by the plaintiff in the naphtha explosion at Sheraden on May 12, 1902. He was a merchant at Crddy postoffice and was returning home from Pittsburgh on a Panhandle train. At Corks Run the train was delayed and after waiting a half hour he started to walk to Sheraden, intending to take a car to Carnegie and from there a buggy to his home. When walking in Commercial avenue, Sheraden, he was attacked by the blast of the explosion, being burned so frightfully that portions of his hands and ears fell off. He was maimed and disfigured for life.

GRAND JURY DISMISSED.

Bill Charging Involuntary Manslaughter Against Police Officials Was Ignored.

Judge Frederick H. Collier dismissed the grand jury for the March term of quarter sessions court yesterday. A bill was ignored which charged Thomas Sterek, Robert Smothers and Edward Levy with involuntary manslaughter. A bill against the men charging murder was returned ignored, but through an oversight the bill returned yesterday was overlooked. The men were accused of causing the death of William O'Donnell while he was a prisoner in Central police station, where the defendants are employed.

Among the true bills returned were three charging Thomas Delaney, John Klein and Patrick Hogan with misdemeanor. County Detective R. G. Robinson is the prosecutor. Hogan was an officer on the election board of the Third precinct, First ward, at the last election, and he is said to have taken money from Delaney and Klein who were candidates for councils, "to play fair."

The other true bills returned are: Assault and battery, Theodore Gross, John Stalt, fraudulently making a written statement, Obadiah Hodder; aggravated assault and battery, John Shenkes; larceny, Ralph Maxwell, Blanche Mort; larceny from the person, John O'Brien; larceny by bailee, Harry Scott.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Letters of administration have been granted to Frank Anshutz on the $61,000 estate of Linnie T. Anshutz, late of Allegheny.

The following executions were issued yesterday: Henry Grelle against Michael Schmitt, $53; Mary A. Leonard against J. J. Speck, $6,093 35.

In the suit of the West Penn Foundry and Machine Company against the St. Louis Plate Glass Company, an action to recover an amount alleged to be due for supplying machinery, the defendant has filed answer denying any amount being due and setting up a claim of $24,027 04 as damages and expenses for delay caused by the plaintiff not meeting the specifications fully.

The clerk of courts was officially notified yesterday of the action of the superior court in granting a new trial to Frances Foley. The defendant was tried and found guilty of two charges of selling liquor illegally. At the trial she did not testify in her own behalf and the district attorney prosecuting the case remarked to the jury in his address: "You have this woman here without denial." On the strength of this remark the new trial was procured.

IRON ACTIVITY MEANS GENUINE TRADE REVIVAL

Orders for Pig Are Far in Excess of the Current Output.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 25.—In their weekly review of the pig iron market, Rogers, Brown & Co. say:

Orders have been placed in volume so far in excess of the current output as to lead to much study and analysis of the meaning of the situation. March is usually a month of activity, preceding spring operations. The real question this year is whether the activity is merely seasonable or whether it points to genuine revival in the iron trade. Each day brings fresh proof to the latter theory. The advance in the prices of pig iron was without any concert of action whatever. There has been no meeting of producers or even exchange of views upon the subject.

Two causes only are responsible for it; the first is consumptive demand clearly in excess of supply, the second is that the recent level of prices was clearly below present or prospective cost for three-fourths of the makers. The fact that most furnace companies have placed their product as far ahead as they wish to sell at modern prices, while the rank and file of buyers have held off, expecting a relapse, points to a still stronger market later on.

New York Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Cotton—Spot market steady; 25 points advance; middling uplands, 14.75c; middling gulf, 15c; sales, 1,325 bales. Futures closed steady. March, 14.58c; April, 14.60c; May, 14.78c; June, 14.90c; July, 14.91c; August, 14.47c; September, 12.64c; October, 11.64c; November, 11c; December, 11.64c.

SPRING TRADE EXPANDS THOUGH YET BACKWARD

Dun Declares There Are Many Elements of Uncertainty in Iron Future.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 25.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Spring trade is expanding, although still backward to some extent, and new labor controversies have added to the number of unemployed, despite an amicable arrangement of the sheet and tin plate scale. Building operations would be vigorous if employers and wage earners could adjust differences. Inquiries for structural material are out of proportion to new permits, which is probably due to the fact that there is much resumption of postponed work. Railway earnings in three weeks of March are only 1.4 per cent smaller than a year ago and far in excess of any preceding year.

Trifling advances in several departments of the iron and steel industry indicate that there is less pressure to sell and more readiness on the part of purchasers to place orders that have been held back since the opening of the year. Yet the market is extremely irregular, and the future contains many elements of uncertainty. The soft coal situation is no longer disturbing and it is generally believed lower prices will be available when the new season opens. The structural shapes of steel are sought, numerous contracts being offered and more are about ready to be placed, but, aside from special orders for locomotives, the new business is small on railway account.

It is not yet possible to discern any effect in the cotton goods market of the collapse of speculation in the raw material.

Failures this week numbered 226 in the United States, against 214 last year, and 12 in Canada, compared with 26 a year ago.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Market conditions in drygoods are unchanged, buyers being interested in little save goods for immediate delivery, which are not over abundant. Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The coffee market opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points in sympathy with rather disappointing cables, which attracted some liquidation and selling by trade interests. Receipts at primary points were light, however, and there seemed to be enough demand from Europe and Wall street to absorb the moderate offerings, so that the market, while quiet, ruled generally steady, closing steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points. Sales were reported of 43,250 bags, including April at 5.55@5.60c, June at 5.70c, July at 5.80c, August at 5.90c, September at 6.00@6.05c, November at 6.20c and December at 6.30@6.35c.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR PALM SUNDAY

Confirmations and Sacred Music to Commemorate Last Entry of Christ Into Jerusalem.

ELABORATE EASTER PROGRAMS

GREAT TREAT FOR MUSIC LOVERS AT CALVARY

Tomorrow evening's service at Calvary P. E. church will be very much out of the ordinary. It will continue for about one hour and 25 minutes and of this time fully one hour and 25 minutes will be devoted to music. Sir John Stainer's sacred cantata "The Daughter of Jairus," which requires an hour to its rendition, will be the principal number, while an anthem, two organ solos, and two hymns will complete the program. Remarks will be made by the clergy explanatory of the cantata. The solo parts will be sung by Miss Myrtle McAteer, and W. J. H. Miller, Arthur Heyes and Herman Hanson. Gounod's anthem, "By Babylon's Wave," will be an important number.

Palm Sunday will be observed in the churches tomorrow. Special services and musical programs have been arranged by nearly all congregations, while confirmation exercises will be held during the morning service among the Lutheran, Episcopal and Roman Catholic denominations. The emblem of the palm and the classes of catechumens, with the girls in their snowy white raiment, will lend the usual charm to the ushering in of Holy week.

In Trinity Episcopal church, Sixth avenue, there will be a morning celebration of holy communion at 8 o'clock. At 10:45, after a sermon by the Rev. A. W. Arundel the vested choir will sing selections from "The Palms," and during the evening service selections from Hadyn's "Passion" music will be rendered.

Special services will be held in St. Andrew's church, Sixth avenue, at 10:45 a. m., and following a sermon by the rector, the Rev. Dr. J. C. White, the quartet will render Faure's "The Palms." At 4 o'clock the double quartet will give a recital of the last sacred cantata of the Lenten series, "The Crucifixion," by Sir John Stainer.

On Sunday evening the choir of St. John's Episcopal church, Butler street, will recite, for the first time in this city, the sacred oratorio, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," by J. H. Maunder. The soloists will be Miss Edith Elkin, soprano; Robert Adams and T. J. Danner, tenors, and Gordon Preedy, bass.

A class of catechumens will be confirmed, and the new pipe organ, donated by Andrew Carnegie, will be dedicated at special services in St. John's English Luthern church, Forbes and Jumonville streets, tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Elaborate musical programs have been arranged in many churches for Easter Sunday. As a result of the recent edict of Pope Pius X., many of the Roman Catholic churches have discarded such composers as Marzo, Lambliotte, Ganss, Millard, Rosswig, and even Mozart and Haydn. The evolution, however, cannot be entirely accomplished for some time.

Holy Trinity church, Center avenue and Fulton street, one of the first to inaugurate a reform in church music in accordance with the decree from Rome, will render an elaborate musical program under direction of the organist and director, Caspar P. Koch.

WAR IS AVERTED.

Pittsburgh Concession in Nicaragua Settled by Commissioners from Three States.

NEW ORLEANS, March 25.—(Special.)—James Dietrick, the Pittsburgh promoter, and the head of the syndicate now at work in Nicaragua, arrived here today from Central America en route to Pittsburgh.

Captain Dietrick reports the boundary controversy, in which his concern has involved the two republics of Nicaragua and Honduras, now in process of settlement. For a time it looked as though war would result between Nicaragua and Honduras over the Dietrick concessions. Nicaragua conceded some rich grants to the Pennsylvanians. Honduras came in and claimed the section of territory. The dispute has been referred to a board of arbitration, one chosen by Nicaragua, one by Honduras and a third from Salvador.

REAL DONNYBROOK FAIR AND A FINE BABY SHOW

Selection of Infants for Entertainment Benefit of Catholic Lyceum Has Begun.

That the Misses Harris were willing to meet the proud mothers and select from the array of infants they brought along as specimens for the Lyceum baby show to be held in Old City hall soon showed that they had a great amount of courage, but the two ladies quailed when it came to telling what mothers owned successful applicants. As a compromise they wrote down privately the babies they favored and agreed to communicate with the mothers later.

Donnybrook fair will be held during Easter week for the benefit of the lyceum every night beginning at 7 o'clock.

But about the baby show. There will be 50 babies. Catholic babies, Protestant babies and Jewish babies are welcome. They will stand an even chance of winning several of the numerous prizes that will be offered, for the winner will be that baby which gets the most votes, and there will be no ballot box stuffing. Twenty-one babies were selected several days ago, and an advertisement in The Gazette yesterday brought 25 mothers to the lyceum. Some of the babies were not eligible because of faults of disposition or appearance, and there will be another concourse today.

COMPETITION WAS KEEN.

The annual eisteddfod was held in the Chatham Street Welsh Baptist church last night and attracted a large audience from the Welsh congregations in the vicinity. Mixed choruses, solos, recitations, sight-reading in music and impromptu speeches were among the contests and the competition was at once keen and interesting.

Prof. David Stephens acted as adjudicator of music and the Rev. William Surdival adjudicator of literature. The pastor, the Rev. E. Mona Jones, officiated as conductor. Prizes ranging from 50 cents to $16 were awarded the successful competitors, the $16 prize, for quartet singing, being won by the Welsh Presbyterian church choir of Oakland.

One of the features of the evening was the contest in the singing of Welsh hymns by competitors of over 50 years.

MASONS AND WIVES BANQUET.

The Aspinwall club gave a banquet in the club rooms in Eastern avenue and Second street, Aspinwall, last night. Covers were laid for 100. The membership is composed exclusively of Masons and their wives. Sharpsburg, Millvale and Bellevue lodges were represented.

W. B. Bohm of Aspinwall acted as toastmaster, and August Luft, president of the club, spoke on "Masonry and the Home;" Prof. John A. Brashear of the Western university took for his subject, "Symbols of Masonry," and District Deputy Grand Master George H. Quail of Bellevue responded to the toast, "The Ladies and the Fraternity." Miss Mabel Moke was the soloist of the evening.

The banquet was given by the women of the club, and Mrs. Joseph S. Lytle, Mrs. George F. Konold, Mrs. T. J. Kuhns, Mrs. Celia J. Largely and Mrs. August Luft were in charge of the affair.

WM. R. GRACE'S ESTATE OVER $20,000,000

Only One Bequest Outside Immediate Family, $100,000 to Grace Institute.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, March 25.—The will of William R. Grace was filed for probate today. It is dated March 10, 1900, and the petition states the real property is valued at $100,000, but that the value of the personal property is unknown. The personal property will reach a high figure, probably $20,000,000.

There is only one bequest made outside of the immediate family, and that is to the Grace institute, founded some time ago by Mr. Grace, to which $100,000 is left. The widow, Lillian Grace, and Joseph P. and William R. Grace, Jr., sons of the deceased, are named as executors. One half of the total estate is bequeathed to the widow; the three daughters, Mrs. Alice D'Oench, Mrs. Lily Kent and Louise N. Grace, each receive $50,000.

CANAL MONEY READY.

$30,000,000 Called for by Government in New York Banks.

NEW YORK, March 25.—(Special.)—By the close of business today the 10 banks in this city which were designated to hold the $30,000,000 called by the government from the depository banks throughout the country had received all the money, this being the last day.

It will stay here until the Panama canal title has been perfected and the actual payment of the $40,000,000 to the canal company's stockholders and of the $10,000,000 to the Republic of Panama is ordered. This, it is now thought, may not be before June 1.

LAST OF DELMONICOS.

Directress of the Famous Restaurant Dies in New York.

NEW YORK, March 25.—(Special.)—Miss Rosa Delmonico, last of the Delmonicos, directress for 20 years of the noted restaurants bearing the family name, died last night from heart failure at her home, No. 144 West Seventy-fifth street, aged 65. By her death the house will pass into the hands of her niece and nephew, Miss Josephine Crist Delmonico and L. Crist Delmonico.

"Aunt Rosa," as she was known to the patrons, was the power behind the throne at Twenty-sixth street, while at the Fifth avenue and Forty-fourth street she was in command. The family name of the survivors is Crist.

"DRAGGY" FEELING--MALARIA--BAD BLOOD

"I Would Get Up in the Morning Feeling Dull and Tired—Would be Tired All Day—I am Cured"—by the Celebrated Nerve Vitalizer and Tonic.

Paine's Celery Compound

"I Have a Good Night's Rest—I Wake up Refreshed—I Am Cheerful All Day Long—I Do My Work Faster and Better."

The gentle but unfailing regulating power of Paine's Celery Compound does away with "that disheartened feeling" which sets its mark upon the faces and the lives of so many unhappy women.

Thousands of women whose bright eyes, clear complexions, buoyant spirits and unfailing health are the envy of others, owe their pure, strong blood and fine vitality solely to the little morning doses of Paine's Celery Compound, the celebrated Nerve Vitalizer and Tonic, which gives the whole system strength to do its work in a healthful way."

It keeps them "always at their best."

Miss Arlington's Letter.

"I suffered with chills and fever and my skin was growing very sallow. The slightest draft would be enough to cause hot flushes or a quick chill. We thought it was malaria, but can never yet explain how I contracted it.

"I always had a draggy feeling, and would get up in the morning feeling dull and tired and would be tired all day.

"I was advised by a relative to try Paine's Celery Compound, which had helped her considerably, and I had such a good night's rest and woke up so refreshed that I determined to continue it.

"I do not feel any more lassitude, and I am cheerful all day long. I get through my work with satisfaction and work faster and better. The chills and fever are completely cured. This is just the time of the year when I used to have them worst, and I have not had a single chill. My complexion is better, and I can recommend Paine's Celery Compound as a gradual and thorough cure for malaria."—Miss Edna Arlington, Newcastle, Neb.

"Cure the real cause of your trouble—your nerves."

—Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., LL.D., of Dartmouth University—Famous Discoverer of Paine's Celery Compound.

MISS EDNA ARLINGTON.
One Among Thousands of Women Who Tell, and Write, Their Earnest Praise of Paine's Celery Compound. It Made Her Strong, Well, Bright and Happy.
